[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 18.—Mysterious reports that Germany's quarrel with Poland over the Free City of Danzig might be settled without war spread through Europe today and were met by vigorous denials in London and Warsaw. The optimistic expressions were traced to Berlin. The Germans, in turn, said the reports of possible negotiations for a settlement were of British origin.

Some political observers in London voiced a belief that negotiations soon would be underway to decide the future of the city which Adolf Hitler has demanded be returned to Germany.

However, there were no indications whether moves toward negotiations would come from Germany, Poland, England or some other neutral nation. No one could give a definite reason for the sudden and mysterious lessening of tension.

Deny Negotiations Have Begun.

London, Berlin, and Warsaw denied negotiations already had been started to settle Danzig's future in a peaceful manner.

Nevertheless, a feeling that peace will prevail spread in Britain and other countries. Rising prices on the London stock exchange reflected this optimism, while the price of wheat, a vital commodity in time of war, tumbled to new low prices. Wheat was quoted at about 50 cents a bushel.

There were suggestions in some quarters that the optimistic reports were put out by Germany and Italy in order to create a "clearer atmosphere." Prime Minister Chamberlain on July 10 specified a "clearer atmosphere" as one condition for talking over "possible improvements" in the status of Danzig.

Berlin "Very Optimistic."

From Berlin came news that official quarters were radiating confidence that the Danzig issue would be settled without war.

"There is an official belief in Germany that the Danzig question is steering in the direction of a peaceful solution," said a Nazi government spokesman. "We are very optimistic."

He declined to elaborate on this statement. The German spokesman was asked whether a peaceful solution could mean anything else but the return of Danzig to Germany. He replied: "Our position on this question and our intentions are so well known that further restatement is unnecessary."

[Hitler repeatedly has said Danzig must be returned to Germany.]

Warning to Britain.

"England can improve her own political and moral position only by ceasing to support the Polish viewpoint one-sidedly," it said.

In Warsaw Polish officials firmly denied that negotiations with Germany were underway or contemplated. It was said that if negotiations open they must follow the terms outlined by Foreign Minister Col. Josef Beck before the Polish parliament May 4.

Beck at that time said negotiations would involve joint German and Polish protectorates over Danzig and better facilities for German travel across the Polish corridor which separates East Prussia from Germany proper.

New Warning by Poland.

Unofficial Polish circles delivered what was regarded by observers as a new warning to Germany.

"Any attempt to violate the existing political and legal status of Danzig will be met with decisive action on the part of the Polish government," they declared.

Maj. Gen. Sir Edmund Ironside, inspector general of the British overseas forces, met with Polish military leaders at Warsaw to coördinate Polish and British defense plans in the event of a German attack on Poland.

Ironside conferred lengthily with Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, commander in chief of Poland's armed forces. Tonight he was the marshal's dinner guest.

At Danzig a Nazi party leader de-

SENATE CHIEFS TURN DOWN PLEA AT WHITE HOUSE

No Hitler Here Yet! Borah Asserts.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Senator Borah.

Washington, D. C., July 19 [Wednesday].—President Roosevelt was forced to abandon his program to revise the neutrality act for the present session of congress at a dramatic three hour White House conference which ended just before midnight last night.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders of the senate informed the President that a majority of the senate stood unalterably opposed to any modification of the provision of the neutrality law which prohibits shipments of arms and munitions of war to belligerent nations.

The White House confirmed the President's recognition of defeat in an official statement.

Position Set Forth.

"The President and the secretary of state [Cordell Hull] maintained the definite position that the failure by the senate to take action now would weaken the leadership of the United States in exercising its potent influence in the cause of preserving the peace among the nations in the event of a new crisis in Europe between now and next January," the White House statement said.

The climax of the three hour White House conference was an impassioned clash between President Roosevelt and Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho], the senate's foremost advocate of neutrality and nonintervention in foreign wars. The President repeatedly insisted the senate be made to bear the responsibility for the defeat of his war policy program. He insisted that Senator Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.], the minority leader, accept responsibility on behalf of the 23 senate Republicans. McNary told the President the Republicans were ready to assume their share of the responsibility.

Senator Borah Interrupts.

Mr. Roosevelt demanded that Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], the majority leader, take the floor of the senate and state that the responsibility for killing the legislation rested on the senate and not on the President and the secretary of state.

After this discussion about fixing the responsibility had gone on for some time Senator Borah interrupted.

"Of course the responsibility must rest upon the senate," he said. "The senate is the legislative branch which has not passed upon this legislation. The house has passed upon it. There can't be any dispute about that. As senators of the United States we are glad to bear the responsibility. We are not operating under Hitler yet."

Mr. Roosevelt, according to senators present, was angered. His face turned white and he slumped back in his chair. Then he asserted: "But I'll go to the country; I'll take it to the people!"

Recalls Fate of League.

To which Senator Borah replied: "Mr. President, while you're telling your side there'll be some others who will be telling their side, and it's a question whom the people will believe."

By implication this was an allusion to the historic precedent of Woodrow Wilson's experience in going to the country in the battle with the United States senate over the league of nations issue in 1919.

Senator Borah, the 74 year old lion of Idaho, was one of the leaders in that momentous controversy. He followed President Wilson on a trip across the nation speaking in opposition to the league, and the country was so aroused that an opposition minority ultimately became a majority of the senate.

Regarded Crucial Defeat.

The President's defeat on the war policy program is considered his greatest since the senate in 1937 recommitted and permanently buried his proposal to pack the United States Supreme court. Senate opposition leaders called it an even greater humiliation on the ground that it not

Konkowski Is Convicted; Aid Also Is Guilty

Frank E. Konkowski, former alderman of the 26th ward, and Stephen Idzikowski, a political aid, were found guilty last night in their second trial for collecting money from seekers of police jobs. A jury in Judge William J. Lindsay's Criminal court fixed punishment for each at one to five years in the penitentiary and fined Konkowski $1,500.

It was an unexpectedly quick verdict, in view of the failure to convict the two in their first trial. The jury spent only an hour and fifteen minutes in actual deliberation.

Moves for a New Trial.

After the finding was announced, Attorney Robert Romano for the defense moved for a new trial. Hearing was set on the motion for July 25.

Konkowski took the verdict easily. None of his relatives was in court. He refused to comment. Idzikowski, however, was shaken. His wife, Marie, and his daughter, Jane, seized him and wept.

The state, represented by Thomas Bugan and William Crawford, assistant prosecutors, had sought to prove in the trial that Konkowski and Idzikowski obtained at least $3,800 from seven different persons who sought to pave the way to appointments on the police force. The names of the seven did not appear when the police civil service list was published last September, and they started action against the two politicians.

State Produces Bribe Money.

The state's clinching evidence, produced in court by Prosecutor Bugan, was an envelope containing $400 in large bills, which was seized by a detective on April 16 in the home of Paul P. Rozek, 2033 Augusta boulevard. The state charged that Charles W. Wiedbusch, acting as a go-between for Konkowski and Idzikowski, was passing the money to Rozek to keep him from testifying at the trial of the two. Rozek testified he had paid them $600 to get his son Edward a police job.

Last June 12, the day Konkowski's second trial was to start, the former alderman was found unconscious in his home at 1030 Chicago avenue. His physician said his illness was the result of poison. Later Konkowski maintained it resulted only from a combination of chili and soda pop.

GOVERNMENT SPENDS 32 MILLION EACH DAY; TAKES IN 9.7 MILLION

Washington, D. C., July 18—(AP)—The federal government spent an average of $32,097,998 and took in an average of $9,738,637 during each of the first 15 days of the new fiscal year, running up a deficit of $335,390,499.

Income of $146,079,474 compared with $148,932,806 a year ago, while expenditures, amounting to $481,469,973, were about $41,000,000 larger than last year.

An increase of $172,583,255 since the new fiscal year began, July 1, brought the public debt to a new high of $40,612,115,666.

DAVID FINDS IT'S HARD TO KEEP A MELON COLD

David Julius, 5158 North Avers avenue, was in a hurry to get home last night. At Chicago and Oak Park avenues he drove into the southbound lane and passed an Oak Park police accident prevention squad. He sped on north, taking with him part of the squad car's left front fender.

The police chased him five blocks before they caught him. Julius was taken to the station and booked on charges of leaving the scene of an accident, speeding, reckless driving, and damaging village property. Police accepted his driver's license in lieu of bond on the first three charges, but insisted on $50 cash as bond on the fourth. It took Julius three hours to gather it in. Then he went home, to await appearance Friday before Justice Thomas W. Barrett.

He said the reason he was in such a big hurry was that he had an ice cold watermelon in his car and he wanted to get home before it got warm.

Senate Votes 8 Cent Travel Allowance for Secretaries

Washington, D. C., July 18.—[Special.]—The senate today approved a bill to pay mileage to two members of each senator's staff and for one staff member each for representatives. The bill was sent to the house for consideration. The secretaries would be paid eight cents a mile for travel between Washington and their homes.

Bride's Suicide Follows Party at Nudist Camp

Los Angeles, Cal., July 18.—(AP)—A quarrel growing out of a week-end party at a nudist camp was blamed by police tonight for the suicide of Dawn Hope Noel, 19 year old bride of a dance band leader and daughter of Adele Blood, once a prominent Broadway actress.

Police Captain Dalton R. Patton quoted her husband, Herbert James Noel, 36 years old, as saying she shot herself in their North Hollywood home today as he was reprimanding another guest at the nudist camp for his association with Mrs. Noel.

"We had gone Saturday to the nudist camp above Roscoe," Capt. Patton quoted Noel as saying. "The party continued that night, all day Sunday and Monday, and we came home about 8 o'clock this morning.

Tells of Wife's Absence.

"We had been doing some drinking at the camp, and made several trips back to the house during the party. Last night at about 6 p. m. Dawn said she was going home to feed the dogs and she would be right back."

Mrs. Noel, her husband said, did not return to the nudist camp for four hours. He said he learned two other men and a girl had joined his wife while she was at home.

After he and his wife returned home, Noel related, he questioned her regarding her actions during her absence from the camp. Then, he said, when he was telephoning one of the men who had been with his wife to upbraid him he heard a shot in the bedroom. He ran into the room, he said, and found his wife lying on the floor with a bullet wound in the temple and a rifle beside her.

Her Mother a Suicide.

Noel called an ambulance and his wife was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital. She became Noel's fourth wife less than a year ago.

Her mother, Adele Blood, was fatally shot in her Harrison, N. Y., home Sept. 14, 1936. The death was pronounced a suicide.

"My wife used to get talking about her mother's death," Noel told police. "She would describe it in detail."

Mrs. Noel received an income of $350 a month from her mother's estate, her husband told police. He said her guardian was Raymond Benjamin of Washington, D. C.

'I'm No Killer,' Convict Wails in Ozark Jail

Jack Russell sat in the tiny Ozark, Ark., jail last night and told the story of his escape from an Oklahoma prison guard and the weeklong, frantic efforts he made to avoid capture. He talked freely to interviewers.

"I'm no killer," was his theme. He repeated this statement over and over again, almost as often as he said: "I'm tired. When are they going to let me get some sleep?"

Denies Ever Seeing Victim.

The brown haired convict, charged with the kidnaping and murder of Billy Scott Hamilton, Kansas salesman, denied he had ever seen Hamilton or had ever been in his car. There were discrepancies that convinced Sherif Champ Crawford that Russell was lying, but he let the prisoner tell his story.

"Why did I escape? That's easy," said Russell. "I still love my wife. I wanted to go to Chicago to see her, convince her that I was all right. I never said I was going to kill her.

[Mrs. Russell supplied information that led to the conviction of Russell for a Bartlesville, Okla., robbery.]

"I phoned Mary [his wife] from the hotel in McAlester after I escaped," Russell continued. "She wouldn't accept the call. There I was.

Tells of Drive to Chicago.

"So I grabbed an old fellow, R. E. Brown, McAlester photographer, and made him drive to Joplin, Mo. I let him go there, and his car, too, and I hitchhiked to Kansas City. There I stole a car and drove up to the north shore in Chicago.

"I called my wife from a Chicago tavern Thursday night. She wanted to know where I was and started checking up on me. I got nervous and hung up. Next day I heard on the radio that I was wanted for killing some boy. I decided to go to Milwaukee, but my money ran out at Kenosha."

Russell then told of kidnaping Barnett Egholm in Kenosha, making him drive back to Chicago and to Elgin, where he pushed Egholm from the car.

Escapes Iowa Trafic Cop.

"I planned to go to Sioux Falls, S. D., and then head for California," he said. "Out in Iowa I gave a ride to a couple of girl hitch-hikers. We came to a little town called Emmetsburg. A trafic cop tried to stop me. I buzzed past him out of town, let the girls out, and headed south.

"I decided then I'd better hide out in the Oklahoma or Arkansas hill country. The generator on the car broke down. I spent Sunday fixing it up and getting to Kansas City. The repair job wasn't so hot. I needed another bus. So I went into a garage and picked one out. I didn't know it was a police car. [It belonged to Capt. Joseph F. Welch.]

Kidnaps "Tough" Negro.

"A Negro in the garage got tough, so I gave him a ride for a few blocks, then shoved him out. I pulled a stickup at a Western Union office to get some gasoline money. I got $17. [He had $8.27 left when captured.]

"I just drove around. I remember being in some place called Miami, Okla. Then I came back east and got to a place called Siloam Springs, Ark. But nothing looked just right to me. I kept going till I found this tourist camp. Then I fell for that sherif's gag. I was the fish, all right. How about some sleep? I haven't had any for a week."

G-MEN DEMAND TO TRY FELON IN YOUTH'S KILLING

Will Fight 5 States' Claims to Outlaw.

[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Federal government machinery was set in motion last night to bring Jack Russell, gun-toting Oklahoma desperado, to trial under the Lindbergh law for the kidnap-murder of William Scott Hamilton, young Kansas salesman. Five states also sought to obtain custody of Russell to try him on charges ranging from automobile theft to murder.

Russell escaped from an Oklahoma prison guard in a McAlester hotel on July 11. He was captured yesterday in an Arkansas tourist camp. Sherif Champ Crawford of Franklin county disguised himself as a fisherman and tricked Russell into peaceful surrender. Russell denied he had killed Hamilton, whose body was found last Friday, a bullet hole in the head, three miles northeast of Ringwood, McHenry county, Ill. The village is about five miles west of Fox Lake.

Issue Lindy Kidnap Warant.

Sherif Crawford locked up Russell in the Ozark, Ark., jail and sat tight with the keys while authorities debated where and by whom the convict would be tried. The sherif said a decision would be reached at a conference today. A federal warant charging Russell with the kidnaping and slaying of Hamilton was issued in Chicago. Russell will be tried here, said Assistant United States Attorney Martin Ward, if the federal government gains jurisdiction.

After his escape from the prison guard Russell left a trail of crime through the middle west until he arrived at Turner's tourist camp at Cass, Ark., Monday night. He was looking for a place to hide. He was armed and ready to fight. Yet his capture was made with absurd ease.

Becomes Suspicious of Car.

Constable Richard Hill noticed Russell's car outside a cabin at the tourist camp that night. It had been stolen from a Kansas City garage and belonged to a police captain in that city. Constable Hill became suspicious and reported to Sherif Crawford that he believed the machine, which then bore Iowa license plates, had been stolen.

Sherif Crawford gave a full share of credit to Constable Hill in telling of the capture in a long distance telephone conversation yesterday.

"It was a pretty good job," Sherif Crawford drawled. "Dick [Hill] described the fellow in the tourist cabin so well I was convinced it was Russell."

"This morning we got ourselves rigged out in fishing clothes—overalls, old shirts, and high boots. We took along some fishing tackle, and went to Mulberry creek about half a mile below Turner's. We fished upstream until we saw the cabin with the car standing outside.

Trick Lures Felon Outside.

"We walked up to the car. We could hear somebody moving around in the cabin. I said, 'Hey, mister, your gas tank has sprung a leak.' Russell came out of the cabin.

"We drew our guns. I said, 'Stick 'em up,' and he did."

Russell was so surprised at the sudden command from the mild looking fisherman that he made no attempt to retrieve his .38 caliber revolver—stolen from the McAlester prison guard—which he had left on a bed in the cabin.

"How did you know I was here?" was all he said. Sherif Crawford and Constable Hill put down their fishing rods, which they still held in their left hands, and put handcuffs on the convict.

Russell escaped when he was permitted to go from the Oklahoma penitentiary into McAlester to have his eyes tested. He was accompanied by one guard, Henry Riddle. Riddle allowed him to go into a hotel room to make a telephone call. There Russell overpowered the guard, tied him up with a bedsheet, and walked out with Riddle's .38 caliber revolver.

Kidnaps a Photographer.

As his first move after gaining his freedom in McAlester, Russell kidnaped R. E. Brown, 69 year old photographer. He forced him to drive to a highway junction seven miles west of Pittsburg, Kas.

"Act like you're working on the car," Russell told him as they parked at the roadside. "I'm going to flag a ride." He then halted Hamilton, who was making his rounds as a salesman for a milling company, and, police believe, the fatal trip to Chicago began.

[Although Brown described Hamilton and Hamilton's car, Russell denied this episode last night, saying he had left Brown in Joplin, Mo., thirty-six miles from Pittsburg, and hitchhiked to Kansas City.]

Kidnaps Kenosha Visitor.

After Hamilton's body was found in McHenry county, authorities hunted for his car. It was found near Kenosha, Wis. Russell kidnaped Barnett Egholm, a young visitor from Oklahoma City, in Kenosha Friday night.

The search for Russell then spread west as authorities began receiving reports of his flight. He freed Egholm near Elgin. He was reported Saturday at Emmetsburg, Ia. Early Monday morning he had been trailed as far as Kansas City, Mo. Then he fled into Arkansas, seeking a hideout where he could rest from police pursuit.

The states seeking to try Russell are led by Illinois. A murder warant for Russell was obtained by Sherif Lester Edinger of McHenry county last Saturday. State's Attorney William M. Carroll said he would ask Sherif Crawford to surrender Russell, but said he would step aside if the federal government insisted on bringing the outlaw to trial.

Other States Claim Kidnaper.

A warant charging Russell with the murder of Hamilton also has been issued at Kenosha, Wis. Oklahoma wants to return him to finish serving a ten year sentence for armed robbery, and also has auto theft and kidnaping charges against him. Deputy Warden J. W. Phillips said he believed Jess Dunn, warden of Oklahoma prison, would approve giving custody of Russell to Illinois. Dunn was on his way to Ozark last night.

In Kansas no charges have been filed, although Russell is open to charges of car theft and kidnaping. Chief of Police L. B. Reed of Kansas City indicated he would be glad to surrender Missouri rights to the federal authorities.

G-Men Call Him by Alias.

The federal warant charging Russell with the kidnaping and murder of Hamilton was obtained before United States Commissioner E. K. Walker by Prosecutor Ward. It was issued in the name of Oliver Lawrence Dressler, alias Jack Russell. The warant then was turned over to United States Marshal William H. McDonnell.

Ward said the kidnaping of Hamilton came under the federal Lindbergh law because Hamilton was transported across state lines and was not returned unharmed.

Evanston Motorist Dies at Wheel in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Cal., July 18.—(AP)—John G. Brown, 45 years old, 823 Brummel street, Evanston, Ill., apparently the victim of a heart attack, swerved his automobile and crashed into a parked truck today. He was dead when an ambulance arrived. His wife and daughter, Margaret, 13, who were riding with him, were not injured.

WHITE COLLAR WPA ENROLLEES PLAN OWN UNION

Minneapolis, Minn., July 18.—[Special.]—White collar WPA workers announced today that about 7,000 of them are organizing their own union. They appealed to Gov. Harold Stassen and Linus Glotzback, state WPA chief, to reopen Minneapolis projects, closed last week after rioting in which two persons were killed.

Leaders of the Workers' Alliance, a reliefers' union, said their striking members would not go back to work if there were reprisals. They referred to the dismissal of WPA workers who had been away from work five days.

A FEW LESSONS BY MAIL AND YOU CAN RUN A TOWN

Albany, N. Y., July 18.—(AP)—Village and city officials soon will be able to take correspondence courses on how to run their public offices.

WIFE RELIEVED BY CAPTURE OF OUTLAW CONVICT

Mrs. Mary Fields Russell, wife of Jack Russell, the Oklahoma outlaw, expressed relief yesterday over his capture. Mrs. Russell, who operates an apartment hotel at 6527 Kimbark avenue, refused to see any one, but her relief was described by a neighbor.

"Mrs. Russell is not well," said the neighbor. "She's been under a great strain, but she's glad it's over."

Mrs. Russell, who is 39 years old, has been guarded by policemen and G-men since last Thursday, when Russell telephoned after his escape from the Oklahoma prison. He had threatened to kill her for informing Chicago police he was wanted in Oklahoma for robbery. Her information led to his return there eighteen months ago and his sentence to prison. They were married here on Thanksgiving day in 1936.

ROB RAILWAY SUPPLY SHACK.

Thieves broke into a supply shack of the Pennsylvania railroad at Beverly avenue and 99th street yesterday and stole 2,000 pounds of railroad spikes and 350 tieplates.

MARSHALL COUNTY, IA., REJECTS STATE AID AND RELIEF CONTROL

Marshalltown, Ia., July 18.—[Special.]—While other counties and municipalities are seeking ways to get more state or federal money, the Marshall county board of supervisors today voted to refuse state aid for relief. Under a new state program the county pays 80 per cent of relief costs and the state 20 per cent, the state retaining authority over county relief agencies. The Marshall county board prefers to pay all its relief bills and manage its own relief affairs, Chairman E. E. Robinson said.

MEXICO CITY, July 18.—(AP)—Sixteen bodies were reported recovered today from flood waters at Puebla, Puebla state, where the Atoyac river rushed over low areas.

America Joins France in Hunt for Nazi Spy Ring

PARIS, July 18.—(AP)—Sources close to the prefecture of police said today that collaboration among detectives of France, England and America was being maintained in connection with the French investigation of an alleged German espionage and propaganda ring in France. The names of fifty suspects compiled by the British foreign office were reported here to have been communicated to the federal bureau of investigation in Washington, D. C., as well as to the French surete nationale.

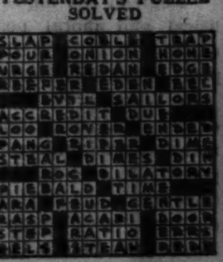
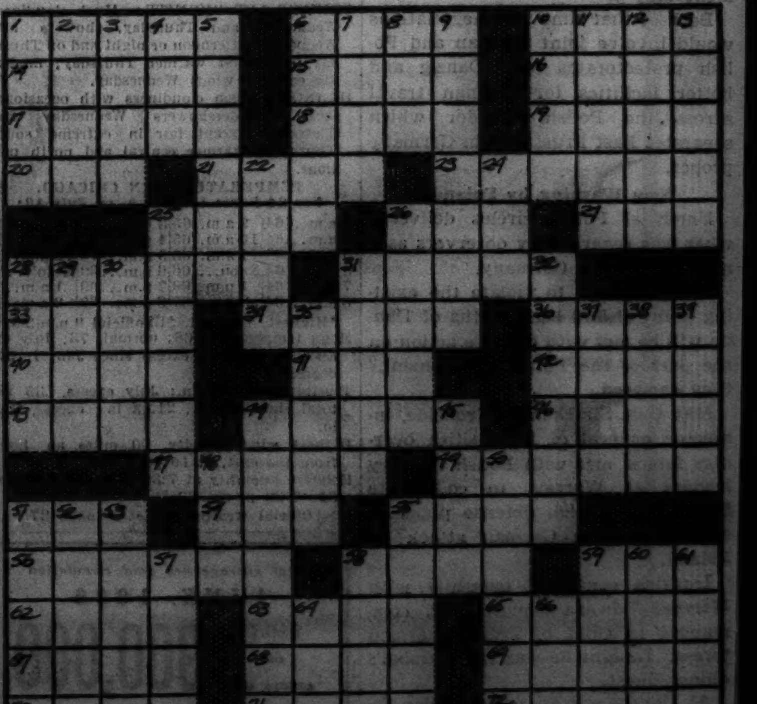
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





RELIEFERS FAIL TO REPORT FOR CITY PROJECTS

Nearly 40% Absent; Lyons Issues Warning.

Nearly 40 per cent of the able-bodied relief clients who were assigned jobs this week with the city bureau of parks and recreation failed to appear for work yesterday. It was the second day of a new work program for reliefers. On Monday, the first day, only 57 per cent of the workers reported.

Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator, warned again last night that jobs on the projects are considered the same as jobs in private industry. He said that reliefers who turn down a chance to earn part of their checks will be treated the same as those who refuse regular outside jobs. Part of their relief money will be withheld, he said.

1,626 Assigned to Jobs.

A total of 1,626 employable reliefers was assigned to the bureau of parks to do general maintenance work at 195 beaches, play grounds, small parks, and other locations in the city. Only 940 reported for work the first day. Yesterday 908 came to work, according to Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works.

Those who did report were required to fill out questionnaires to protect the city from damage suits for personal injuries incurred on the jobs.

Answers from 224 of the workers, selected at random, showed that approximately 25 per cent were laborers before they went on relief.

58 Occupations Shown.

The other 75 per cent were divided among fifty-eight occupations and trades, as follows:

Actor	1	Musician	2
Auto electrician	1	Motorman	1
Auto mechanic	3	Maintenance man	1
Accountant	1	Office manager	1
Bricklayer	1	Painter	8
Bodymaker	1	Plumber	2
Baker	2	Printer	5
Brickmaker	1	Porter	2
Butcher	1	Sheet metal worker	1
Chauffeur	27	Shipping clerk	3
Carpenter	9	Salesman	8
Cook	3	Shoemaker	2
Cement finisher	2	Solderer	1
Clerk	25	Steamfitter	1
Dental mechanic	1	Tailor	5
Dance teacher	1	File setter helper	1
Electrician	2	Typewriter m'hanic	1
Engineer	3	Teamster	1
Garage foreman	1	Watchman	11
House mover	1	Window washer	1
Iceman	1	C. C. Camp	1
Janitor	2	Cigar maker	1

Landscaper	2	Molder	3
Leatherg'ds maker	1	Mechanical super'r	1
Machinist	11	Mechanic	1
Millwright	2	Mover	1
Machinist helper	2

The reliefers are required to work one week a month—six hours a day for five days. They will be credited by the CRA with earning fifty cents an hour. The same tasks will be rotated among four shifts of the same size to keep the project continuous from month to month.

Other projects to be sponsored by the city, including one to clean lots, are scheduled to become operative in a few days.

CHALLENGE C. I. O. CLAIM TO MEAT PLANT MAJORITY

The American Federation of Labor last night challenged claims of John L. Lewis' Congress of Industrial Organizations that a majority of packing house workers in the plants of Armour & Co. are affiliated with the C. I. O. Joseph D. Keenan, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, asserted that a majority of Armour workers now are members of American Federation of Labor locals and not the C. I. O. controled Packinghouse Workers' Organizing committee.

Spokesmen for the P. W. O. C., which in an ultimatum issued Sunday threatened to call a general strike in Armour plants unless the company agreed to negotiate union contracts, in their turn branded the A. F. of L. claims to a majority of workers as ridiculous.

Both unions are expected to present their claims tomorrow when executives of the packing house and union representatives meet with the city council subcommittee on labor to discuss the dispute.

New York, July 18.—[Special.]—The prophets of New York's social circle have already chosen the "glamor" debutante of the next season. WARNS C. I. O. ASKS ROOSEVELT AID IN PACKING PLANTS

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] told the house yesterday that the C. I. O. was demanding help from President Roosevelt in a move to strengthen itself in the Chicago packing industry.

Hoffman said he wanted to call the situation to the attention of Representative Adolph J. Sabath [D., Ill.], who represents a Chicago district, because Sabath was an ardent supporter of the President. He added:

"John Lewis [leader of the C. I. O.] is again cracking the whip around the ears of the President, demanding that the President take the part of the C I O. in a strike to force the packers in Chicago to agree with John Lewis that no one who does not belong to the C. I. O. can work in the packing industry.

"Who is Lewis that he should demand that the President carry out his demands. Neither a political contribution of $470,000 nor one of $1,470,000 ever purchased a President, but Lewis acts as though he thought it did?"

Sabath replied that he was not defending Lewis but that "the people of Chicago are able to take care of their own problems."

PRESIDENT USES PRESS PARLEY TO MAKE 5 DENIALS

Washington, D. C., July 18.—[Special.]—This was denial day at the White House. President Roosevelt devoted his press conference chiefly to the denial of the following stories:

1. That the President had told a friend, who in turn told a columnist and radio commentator, that he was going to run for a third term and his running mate would be Paul V. McNutt of Indiana.

2. That the President had persuaded Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, who desires to return to this country, not to resign at this time lest it give the impression that there is a division of opinion on foreign policy between the President and his ambassadors.

3. That Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, who was a White House luncheon guest last Tuesday, had calmed presidential rage over the senate foreign relations committee vote against neutrality revision that day before the semi-weekly press conference so the President did not explode before the reporters.

4. That he plans to deliver a fireside chat in the near future.

5. That McNutt is about to launch a third term campaign for the President in an extended speaking tour.

WPA IN ILLINOIS TO SLICE OFFICE EXPENSE BY 30%

Starts Broad Reduction of Personnel.

A 30 per cent reduction in the administrative cost of the WPA in Illinois is to be made by the end of October, L. H. Jacobson, deputy state administrator, said yesterday. He announced that 56 of the 1,400 members of the administrative staff already have been given dismissal notices.

Jacobson said discharge notices for the 50,000 relief workers on WPA who must be ousted from their jobs because they have worked for WPA for eighteen months or longer are being prepared now, but that the actual discharges probably will not begin before Aug. 1. The administrative personnel is not subject to the eighteen month provision of the new WPA law.

Made Necessary by New Law.

The discharge of administrative personnel, Jacobson said, is made necessary by a reduction in the amount of money assigned by congress for administrative purposes.

Leo M. Lyons, head of the Chicago Relief administration, said his offices are beginning to feel the load of applications for relief from persons laid off by WPA. Harold K. Seltzer, Chicago WPA director, said he fired at least 7,000 WPA relief workers the week-end of July 1. This was before the recent series of WPA strikes against the provision requiring relief workers to work 130 hours a month. It was necessary because of a lack of projects, Seltzer said.

It has been estimated that about half of the 50,000 relief workers who will lose their WPA jobs because of the eighteen month rule will be Chicago residents.

Supervisory Groups Unaffected.

One large group of nonrelief workers on WPA are not affected by either the eighteen month discharge rule or the administrative cut, Jacobson said. These are the members of the project supervisory personnel. Although congress provided that the names and salaries of administrative employés must be submitted to it, the requirement did not include project supervisory personnel.

Complaints have been made by numerous persons on WPA rolls that published lists of the administrative persons and their salaries have been incomplete. Jacobson said the state WPA office has no authority to release the names of the project supervisory personnel—the objects of most of the complaints.

The state WPA office reported that 8,094 WPA relief workers were discharged on or before last Monday for failure to report to work within a five day period. The figures indicated that there are now less than 5,000 WPA strikers in the state.

In Washington, Col. F. C. Harrington, national WPA chief, reported that 32,582 WPA workers in the nation have been dismissed for failure to report. He reported the number still on strike had dropped to 26,511, or fewer than one-third the number out five days before.

IRENE SUES DOG OWNER IN THEFT CASE FOR $30,000

Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin brought suit yesterday against Mrs. Agnes Larsen as a result of Mrs. Larsen's charge that Mrs. McLaughlin's Orphans of the Storm dog refuge had stolen the Larsen dog. The suit, filed in Circuit court, asks $30,000 damages—$10,000 each for Mrs. McLaughlin, the refuge, and the refuge superintendent, Samuel Curran. Mrs. McLaughlin said all had been damaged by defamatory statements.

Mrs. Larsen lives at 838 Judson avenue, Evanston. Her collie, Major, disappeared last March. She found the dog later at the home of a family that had received the animal from the dog refuge. On July 7, Judge Harry Porter of Evanston cleared the refuge of a charge of stealing the dog.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Should the government support the unemployed?

Where Asked.

The Answers.

Dr. Burton Haseltine, Edgewater Beach hotel—Of course it should, so long as reëmployment is impossible. But it should, at the same time, in every possible way, favor the expansion of normal private industry in order to remove the causes of unemployment and avoid the establishment of a permanently dependent class.

Howard A. Kenley, manager of a meat department in a store at Alexandria, Ind.—I don't think so. Every individual still has an opportunity to gain a living through his own efforts. We lack something—a sort of reaching out. People do not go hard enough into the employment they seek.

Arthur R. Gerecke, St. Louis, professional musician—My opinion has always been that the government should enforce legislation so that manufacturers and industry could put more people to work, thus creating a greater buying power and making government support of the jobless unnecessary.

Miss Ida Clark, New York, vacationing on her way to a Wyoming ranch—No, I think there is too much government support. Now we are getting the reaction to this support in the strikes of WPA workers who don't want to put in 130 hours a month. I think government support should be cut down.

R. N. Rasmusen, De Kalb, Ill., sales manager for the De Kalb Hybred Seed Corn company — As long as they are unable to get work we have to see that the unemployed do not starve. The government is the only agency that can do that on a big scale. But I am not in favor of just handing out money to the unemployed, as I think that breaks down morale.

ENGINEER TELLS OF SILENCER FOR AIRPLANE MOTOR

LIEGE, Belgium, July 18.—(AP)—A "soft speaker" airplane motor muffler which might enable fighting craft to raid enemy territory with greater safety was described today to the French Association for the Advancement of Science.

The new silencer was described by Jean Bosquet, an engineer for the great Liege Cockerill Motor works, as "just exactly the opposite of a radio loud speaker." Its effect, he said, is to tone down ear splitting acoustic power by reducing the frequency of sounds blasted out by the motor cylinders.

[The silencer as described would still leave the noise of the propeller, which engineers so far have been unable to eliminate.]

N. Y. FAIR FIRES 275 INFORMATION MEN; MORE TO GO

New York, July 18.—[Special.]—The ax fell today on New York World's Fair employés in a retrenchment program resulting from disappointing attendance at the exposition. The first to be fired were all the information men—a group of 275 young fellows who have been dubbed "Whalen's Own." Garbed in red caps, blue uniforms with red stripes and carrying swagger sticks, they have been admired by visitors as they marched in squads about the grounds to their posts.

PRESIDENT GIVES UP HIS FIGHT ON NEUTRALITY LAW

Senate Chiefs Turn Down Plea at White House.

Since the convening of congress in January the administration has urged the repeal of the arms embargo in order to supply England and France in case of war between those countries and Germany and Italy.

At the White House conference last night the President repeatedly divided Europe between the Rome-Berlin axis and the British-French "stop Hitler" bloc. He repeatedly talked of the "moral effect" that repeal of the arms embargo would exert on Hitler.

Discuss Danger of War.

The President and Secretary Hull began the discussion with talk about the imminence of war in Europe. Secretary Hull said the confidential dispatches from American envoys indicated that Hitler might move at any time and precipitate a general European conflict.

Senator Borah remarked that he was not troubled about the possibility of war in Europe, and Secretary Hull again mentioned his confidential dispatches.

"I don't give a damn about your confidential dispatches," said Senator Borah. "I can read the newspapers. The only quarrel between the so-called democracies and the dictatorships of Europe concerns territories and they are working out their problems in a manner satisfactory to themselves. There is not going to be any war in Europe."

Vice President at Parley.

Attending the conference besides Barkley, McNary, and Borah were Vice President Garner, Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Senator Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.], assistant minority leader. The Republican leaders went to the White House at the request of the President, who refused to accept the report of his own leaders that the situation respecting his war policy program was hopeless.

Barkley informed the President that a private poll conducted by him showed a majority of the senate opposed to any action at this session toward revising the neutrality act. Republican leaders told the President that at least fifty-six senators, including thirty Democrats, were opposed to any action.

POLICE ARE TOLD TO SHUT TAVERNS WITH NO LICENSES

Police this morning have been ordered to close taverns and liquor stores that are without licenses for the current four months' period ending Oct. 31. A total of 8,609 licenses had been issued up to the close of business yesterday, compared with 9,329 for the first half of this year. These are the first licenses sold since the city council boosted the annual fee from $600 to $800. Liquor licenses for the four months cost $270, but the licenses which go on sale Nov. 1 will be for a full six months' period and will cost $400.

WITNESS AT BRIDGES' DEPORTATION HEARING TELLS OF RED THREAT

San Francisco, Cal., July 18.—(AP)—A witness in the Harry Bridges deportation hearing testified today he lost his union card and his livelihood through communist machinations. The federal government is seeking to deport Bridges, Australian born C. I. O. leader of the Pacific coast, on the ground he is an alien communist.

The witness was John Layton Leppold of San Francisco, former marine cooks unionist, who said he was reduced to taking a $36 a month job in a maritime commission school, and that he had been warned by an anonymous telephone caller on June 6 "not to testify at the Bridges hearing." He was a government witness.

Leppold said he was expelled from the marine cooks and stewards union in April, 1938, "on charges of anti-union activities filed by a member of the communist party, charges brought about by my continual fighting of the party in the union and other waterfront organizations."

WAR HEADS FIGHT UNION SELECTION OF MARINE CREWS

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—A move by radical west coast sailor and longshoremen unions to dominate the selection of crews of American merchant marine vessels is being quietly opposed by army and navy officers.

The military high commands are fighting a bill that would give the union men a free hand in manning maritime commission vessels because they fear it might impair the efficiency of a vital arm of the national defense.

The conflict between the unions and the United States maritime commission over the employment of seamen arose in May, when the commission announced revival of steamship service between Seattle and the orient.

Service Revival Brings Clash.

No service had existed on this essential route since the summer of 1938, when the American Mail line suspended operations. In May the commission entered into a contract with the Pacific Northwest Oriental line to operate under the name of the Puget Sound Orient line.

The first of four vessels in the line, the S. S. Coldbrook, was to sail in June. The captain received instructions to hire his crew in conformance with the rules of the commission through United States shipping commissioners.

The bureau of marine inspection and navigation maintains shipping inspectors in all principal ports. At the offices of the commissioners is a register of seamen seeking employment.

In Seattle, on order of Harry Lundeberg, secretary-treasurer of the seamen's union, which is sympathetic with the longshoremen bossed by Harry Bridges, C. I. O. west coast leader, union seamen would not register at the shipping commissioner's office.

Line Contract Canceled.

The union insisted that the maritime commission sign the seamen from union hiring halls. The maritime commission countered with a legal opinion that sailors on commission lines were government employés; the commission, it held, did not have to act in accordance with seamen's collective bargaining agreements prevailing with other American ship operators.

The union officials refused to yield even when the commission said that it would cancel its contract and suspend the line rather than obey the union edict. A week ago the contract was canceled.

When the commission made its threat to cancel the contract, Representative Thomas F. Ford [D., Cal.], one of the small group of confessed radicals in the house, introduced a bill designed to force the commission to employ seamen from hiring halls.

The bill would forbid the government to register seamen through any agency for employment on American ships. The bill is in the house merchant marine committee and has not been reported out. Army and navy officials hope to keep it there.

Lotus Flower

Barbara Ann Gentry at Garfield park conservatory with lotus flower grown from seeds between 400 and 500 years old.

Garfield park conservatory has its own version of the Sleeping Beauty story. The climactic chapter of the long delayed awakening came yesterday when one of the conservatory's two Japanese lotus plants, grown from a seed centuries old, unfolded fragile pink petals.

The exotic oriental bloom is of Manchurian origin. Prof. C. F. Chamberlain of the University of Chicago brought the lotus seed here thirteen years ago. For four or five hundred years it had lain dormant in a submerged lily pond. The period was established by surface tree growth on the spot when excavators brought the seed again to light.

After some experimentation in the university laboratories the seed was given to Dr. B. E. Dahlgren, chief curator of botany at the Field museum, in the spring of last year. Dr. Dahlgren softened the hard outer shell with acid and then placed the seed in water. Within three weeks it germinated. Then the sprout was transferred to the conservatory for further care. When it reached the proper stage of development the lotus plant was divided in two.

DIAMOND SETTER ROBBED OF $1,000 IN FAMILY GEMS

Harry Sohn is the owner of a diamond setting shop at 5 South Wabash avenue. Last night, he told police, he worked late, repairing his wife's $500 diamond ring, her $250 wrist watch, and his own $300 ring. When his work was done he went to his car, parked in Garland court, alongside the public library, to drive home to 5635 North Spaulding avenue. A man slipped into the car beside him and pressed something that felt like a gun against him. Sohn, who is 40 years old, obeyed orders to put up his hands. The robber took the jewelry and $40 cash and fled. Sohn said his shop is insured, but he fears the jewelry is not covered outside the shop.

LOSS OF CABLES SPEEDS GERMAN WORK ON RADIO

Communication Assured in Event of War.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Germany has emphasized development of radio communications so that she will not be shut off from the rest of the world in the next war, it was learned here today.

At the outbreak of the world war Germany virtually was cut off from the rest of the world by destruction and seizure of her cable and telegraph lines.

The British seized the cable between New York and Germany, and the French seized German south Atlantic cables. The British cut the German-American cable in the North sea and off New York.

England Gets Cable.

One free end was taken to England and the other to Halifax, Nova Scotia. The cable then became a British cable. The French diverted the South American cables to France and they became to all purposes French cable lines. Both France and Britain operated the cables before the end of the war.

German Pacific cables were cut and with the exception of a line between the island of Yap and Japan, never were repaired. The Japanese took over the line between Japan and the Japanese mandate islands.

Lines Given to Allies.

At the treaty of Versailles the seizure of the German cables was sanctioned. The lines were officially turned over to Britain, France, and Japan.

Germany made no movement to get the cable lines back during the reconstruction days, when she had all she could do to hold herself together. More recently, with the improvements in radio, she had concentrated on the development on that form of communication and has established radio channels to all important countries.

Germany has built two cables since the war. One is to the Azores, which connects with American lines to afford a German-American link. The other to Spain connects Germany with South America.

The British, French, and Japanese seizure of cables also spurred development of radio in America.

STATE LICENSES FOR 18 TRADES YIELD $367,067

Cost of Collecting Fees Is $286,644 in Year.

Springfield, Ill., July 18.—[Special.]—The state department of registration and education reported today that it collected $367,067 from licenses and other certifying fees for trades and professions in 1938. The operating expenses of the department totaled $286,644, or $80,423 less than revenue.

The department regularly conducts examinations for licensing in eighteen trades and professions, certificates being necessary before a person can engage in any of these occupations. There is a fee for each examination and in most instances there is also a fee for each year the license is renewed.

Require 8th Grade Education.

The applicants for these licenses must have an eighth grade education or the equivalent. If the applicant does not have a grammar school certificate, the state compels him to take the eighth grade equivalent examination at a cost of $5. Some trades and professions also require a high school training or the equivalent. If the applicant does not have this, he must take a qualifying examination, the cost of which varies with the occupation he is seeking to enter. The fee is usually between $5 and $10.

Trade or Profession:	License and Examination Fee.	Annual Renewal Fee.
Architect	$ 10	$ 1
Barber	6	1
Beauty Operator	6	1
Chiropodist	15	1
Dentist	20	....
Detective [private]	70	5
Funeral Director and Embalmer	5	2
Horseshoer	5	1
Land Surveyor	15	1
Medical [physician]	15	....
Nurse [registered]	10	1
Optometrist	15	1
Pharmacist	10	2
Plumber [outside of Chicago]	100	25
Public Accountant	20	....
Structural Engineer	10	1
Veterinary	20	....
Real Estate [broker]	10	1
Real Estate [salesman]	2	1

General Fund Gets Revenue.

All collections by the department of registration and education are turned into the state's general revenue fund. The department is operated by appropriations from the state legislature. The examinations are prepared by boards made up of members of the various occupations. The board members are paid on a per diem and mileage basis.

The department has sixty persons on its clerical forces in Chicago and Springfield and has thirty-three investigators throughout the state. Most of these employés are under civil service. John J. Hallihan, director of the department, receives a $6,000 annual salary and his assistant, C. P. Bliss, is paid $4,300. The appointments are made by the governor.

TRADE TESTS IN CHICAGO.

The city of Chicago conducts examinations for three trades—stationary engineers [including boiler tenders], mason contractors, and plumbers. The license fees are as follows: Stationary engineer, $4 for license and $3 a year for renewal; boiler tender, $2 and $2; master plumber, $100 and $25; journeyman plumber, $25 and $2, and mason contractor, $100 and $25.

Electrical contractors are required to have a license costing $25 a year and a permit for each job they undertake. The price of the permit varies according to the size of the job.

The city's revenue from licensing the trades in 1938 was $76,297 and the cost of operating the boards of examiners for the trades was $56,876, leaving a profit of $19,421. The examining boards are composed of representatives of the unions in the various trades. The appointments to these boards are made by the mayor. The present members of the boards and their annual salaries are:

Mason contractors' examiners—Chairman, William P. Crowe, $4,600, and member, Nicholas Dire Jr., $4,300.

Stationary engineers' examiner—Chairman, Frank J. Smith, $4,600, and members, Peter J. Whalen and Michael Konkolewski, $4,300 each.

Tomato Queen

JUDITH WRIGHT.

The national tomato queen, Judith Wright, and her beauty court of six attendants, are in Chicago for a three day visit. They arrived last night from Elwood, Ind., and took over the Morrison hotel bungalow.

In the absence of Mayor Kelly, Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes will extend the city's welcome to them this morning. During their stay here Queen Judith and her ladies in waiting will be fêted at luncheon and dinner parties, will take a sightseeing trip, attend several radio broadcasts, and will climax their Chicago holiday with a moonlight cruise on the lake.

Their visit is a preliminary to the coronation of the queen at the Indiana tomato festival, which will open July 26 in Elwood.

WIFE SWALLOWS BLEACHING FLUID IN MARITAL RIFT

Mrs. Marie Kleinschmidt, 26 years old, swallowed a small quantity of bleaching fluid yesterday when her husband, Edward E. Kleinschmidt, sent five moving vans to remove all the furnishings of their $200,000 home at 2620 Deere Park drive, North, in Highland Park. She was taken to the Highland Park hospital, where it was said her condition is not serious.

Kleinschmidt, one of the inventors of the teletype machine, said he intended to file suit for a divorce. He is 60 years old. Mrs. Kleinschmidt, his second wife, is about 27. Her attorney, Armin G. Kusswurm of Highland Park, said a counter suit for separate maintenance would be filed.

By agreement the furnishings were stored in a Highland Park warehouse for the present. Kleinschmidt said he engaged a suite of rooms for his wife in a Highland Park hotel before sending in the vans.

HUEY LONG'S AID LAYS SCANDALS TO NEW DEALERS

Rev. Smith Links Indicted Persons to Roosevelt.

Detroit, Mich., July 18.—[Special.]—Fuel was added to the blaze of the Louisiana graft scandal today by the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, who heads an anti-communism organization known as the committee of 1,000,000 and who was a close associate of the late Huey P. Long. Smith, who has been in Detroit since last February, making a series of radio broadcasts against the C. I. O. and similar agencies, charged that the individuals recently indicted in Louisiana are "bone and tissue of the Roosevelt New Deal machine."

Smith was a leader of Senator Long's "share the wealth" clubs. An evangelist type of exhorter, he rose to prominence in Indiana during the rule of the Ku Klux Klan and Anti-Saloon league there.

With Kingfish When He Died.

"Inasmuch as I was with Huey Long when he was killed and spoke the last words over his grave," said Smith, "I consider it in good taste to break my silence concerning matters involving the good people of Louisiana and their assassinated leader.

"Contrary to certain impressions that we have received, the thieves embezzlers, and crooks who are being exposed in Louisiana are part of the Roosevelt New Deal machine.

"All the corruption that will be revealed as the investigation of these scandals develops will prove to have taken place after the Louisiana organization was corrupted, bought and taken over bodily by Mr. Roosevelt.

Tells Sell-Out to New Deal.

"Early in the year 1936, I was among those who led a campaign to elect anti-Roosevelt, anti-New Deal candidates to office. We won this election by about three to one, and the people of Louisiana repudiated the New Deal outfit.

"Then certain of these men, including Gov. Richard W. Leche, Seymour Weiss, and others, sold out to Roosevelt and the New Deal and agreed to deliver that state to Roosevelt at Philadelphia.

"When this took place, I stated that the corruption then being developed in coöperation with certain New Deal politicians would, when revealed, make the Teapot Dome scandal look like a cold cup of coffee."

Push Hunt for $67,500.

Baton Rouge, La., July 18.—[Special.]—Investigation was pressed today into what became of $67,500 of the $350,000 appropriated by the legislature last year for Geology hall on the campus of Louisiana State university.

A. P. Tugwell, state treasurer and candidate for governor in next January's election, declared the books of the conservation department, which turned the funds over to the university, show that the $67,500 is missing.

L. P. Abernathy, chairman of the state highway commission, resigned suddenly without stating his reason. He recently admitted he was interested in an equipment supply house which had done extensive state and university business.

Tom Dutton, president of the university alumni association, has demanded the ouster of the remaining members of the university board of supervisors who functioned while Dr. James Monroe Smith was president. Smith is in jail here under twenty-five state and federal indictments.

NEW DEAL A SERVANT OF PRESSURE GROUPS, PROFESSOR DECLARES

Hanover, N. H., July 18.—[Special.]—The Roosevelt administration was attacked here today as a servant of pressure groups and as "a government by politicians who rule in the name of the masses while they cheat them."

Dr. Walter E. Spahr, professor of economics at New York university, speaking at the Braman Fund conference at Dartmouth hall, warned the nation it was "playing with revolution unless immediate steps are taken to restore representative government by turning nose-counting politicians out of office." He said heavy public spending in recent years had greatly weakened economic democracy and had strengthened government autocracy at the expense of political democracy and good representative government.

Dr. William Starr Myers, professor of politics at Princeton, said there is a trend to dictatorship in Roosevelt's view that "it is for the President to make the policies, and for congress to find the methods to carry out his will."

CHINESE SEIZED AFTER STABBING TWO IN FRENZY

A Chinese ran amok last night on the lower level of Michigan avenue and stabbed two employés of a hardware manufacturing concern. The victims were half a block apart, and were not acquainted with each other.

They are George Gutzler, 2900 Clybourn avenue, a shipping clerk, who was attacked near Hubbard street, and Robert J. Bailey, 149 LeClaire avenue, a salesman, who was knifed as he was about to enter his car near Kinzie street. Gutzler was wounded on his left arm and Bailey was cut over his right ear.

Bailey was given first aid and later identified his assailant at the Chicago avenue police station. The Chinese said he is Leo Charley, but refused to give an address.

SLOT MACHINES HUM IN RESORTS ON NORTH SHORE

Slot machines were operating in a dozen resorts north and northwest of the city last night. Visits to nine taverns in the western suburbs and a short drive through southern suburban territory disclosed that the ban on the coin snatching devices was in force generally in those sections.

Attorney General John E. Cassidy and Chief T. P. Sullivan of the state bureau of investigation, who have coöperated to rid the state of the machines, said attention would be given to Chicago's north shore territory. Cassidy said he has been busy in Springfield on legislation and Sullivan has been in Champaign prosecuting vice.

Cassidy said denial of licenses to taverns found operating slot machines would be in order next week. State licenses for the second half of the year have not yet been issued and he still has time to file objections against renewals, he said.

2 Fined for Shooting Guns Within City; Boy, 12, Hit

Two men were fined $10 yesterday by Judge Lambert K. Hayes for discharging firearms within the city limits. They are John Renaldi, 18 years old, 10742 Calumet avenue, and James Nelson, 19, of 10147 Calumet. A .22 caliber bullet from their rifle struck and slightly injured Joseph Husayka, 12, of 9320 Avalon avenue, on June 26 near 95th street and Blackstone avenue.

DIES OF INJURIES IN FALL.

Walter Marzak, 50 years old, 1315 Wicker Park avenue, died yesterday in County hospital of injuries which police said he received in a fall.

THE NEW PAN-AMERICANISM

By CALEB

THE majority of North, Central and South America—with their 30 countries and 287 million population—speak one of but three languages: English, Spanish and Portuguese. And through these fortunately few media there flows today a spirit of internationality deeper, wider and stronger than at any time in the past.

Still greater impetus to this current has recently emanated from our own city, in the present work and program of the Good Neighbor Forum, originated in Chicago in 1937. Located in the Central Y. M. C. A. College at 19 South La Salle Street, the guiding genius of its development is Dr. Ernst Schwarz, of the Central Y. M. C. A. College faculty.

Travel and missions in Brazil, the Argentine, Mexico, Africa, and most of the European countries, together with authoritative knowledge of Latin-American history and commerce, suggested to Dr. Schwarz the timeliness of this Good Neighbor Forum as a vehicle for non-political promotion of "peace and friendship among the American nations." Already the movement has gained surprising momentum. Endorsed and actively supported by such men as Cordell Hull, Secretary of State; Professors Benes-Mesen and Isaac J. Cox, of Northwestern University; Professors Douglas, Wright and Rippy, of the University of Chicago; Salmon O. Levinson, drafter of the Kellogg-Briand Pact; Prof. Wilgus, of George Washington University; as well as consuls, educators and business leaders—the Good Neighbor Forum is headed by Dr. Edward T. Sparling, President of Central Y. M. C. A. College, with Dr. Schwarz as Director, and has some seventy centers in Chicago, with others initiated in Washington, New York, Boston and Panama City.

Forum sessions in the Chicagoland area have listened to upwards of two hundred lectures on Pan-American relations, peoples and interests. Approximately 100,000 members of all races, colors and creeds comprised their audiences; and the Forum's twofold function—inculcating a truer spirit of alliance, and increasing international knowledge—finds outlet in a school section, an adult section, a lecture section, extension evenings, a research section, a diplomatic section, radio section, tours, and pamphlets and publications. . . .

Thus is Chicago again in the forefront of cities concerned with the broader aspects of "the greatest good for the greatest number" throughout the Americas. In promulgating a new Pan-Americanism, it is helping to realize for all citizens in the world's western hemisphere a future grounded in good will, and the continuance of peace assured through mutual understanding.

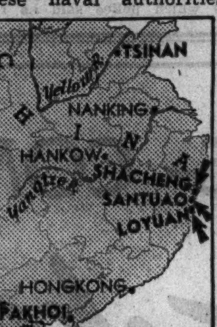
JAPS BLOCKADE MORE PORTS OF SOUTHERN CHINA

Aim at Supplies Flowing Into Small Inlets.

HONGKONG, July 18.—(AP)—Japanese naval authorities today announced the inclusion of a half dozen heretofore little known South China ports in the area of military operations, and in each instance gave the usual warning to third power ships and nationals that they remained in these places at their own risk.



Arrows locate three of ports Japanese will blockade.

The action forecast no actual extension of hostilities or major Japanese landings, but represented the systematic closing even of the smallest Chinese outlets and inlets along the 800 mile seaboard of Chekiang, Fukien, and Kwangtung provinces.

[A Shanghai announcement of the blockade extension said three of the ports ordered closed were Santuao, Loyuan, and Shacheng in north Fukien province.]

Sink Rock Filled Junks.

Japanese coastal action since the occupation on June 21 of Swatow, important port in Kwangtung province, has been confined to blocking or barricading the smaller ports and channels with rock-filled junks.

Trade by foreign ships with these small ports has proved lucrative, even since the capture of Swatow.

Observers expected it would be only a matter of time until a landing was undertaken at Pakhoi, in south Kwangtung, to establish an air base for harrassment of the Indo-China-Kwangsi province military supply line. This route is one of the most important now for China, and promises to be of greater importance as a new railroad along the route is being rapidly completed.

Believe Britain Will Accede.

TOKIO, July 18.—(AP)—Authoritative Japanese expressed belief tonight that Great Britain had acceded to Japan's insistence and agreed to permit the Tokio conference on the Tientsin dispute to embrace more than local issues.

The British ambassador, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, received new instructions from London and arranged to see Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita tomorrow for the second meeting of the Tientsin negotiations.

Informed quarters expressed belief that the talks would break down quickly unless the British agree to discuss the wider problems.

The so-called supreme anti-British committee at Tientsin was reported today to have decided on a boycott of British goods and to "punish" Chinese and Japanese merchants doing business with the British.

Want Deposits Withdrawn.

Japanese sources said the committee decided all its followers' deposits should be withdrawn from British banks and that construction of houses should be encouraged in Japanese controled areas to accommodate Chinese moving from the blockaded British concession.

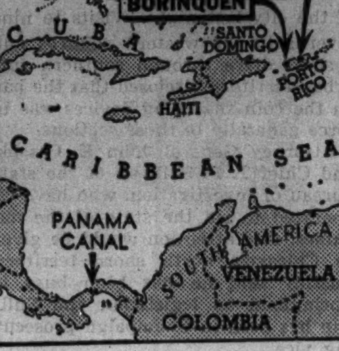
Japanese operators of the war-commandered central China railways threatened to refuse transportation to Britons and British goods. Japanese asserted a British soldier stabbed without provocation a Chinese railway crossing employé. British military officials termed the charges, utter rubbish. Railways in Japanese-occupied China already are virtually closed to foreigners and their merchandise.

Won't Interfere in War.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 18.—Sources close to the government allowed it to become known tonight that new orders sent to Ambassador Craigie in Tokio were aimed at assuring Japanese that Britain does not intend to hinder Japanese military operations in China. These sources emphasized, however, that Craigie also was instructed to tell the Japanese foreign minister that Britain was unable to coöperate with Japan in establishing what Tokio describes as "a new order in East Asia."

American Air Base



Map locates new American air base.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 18.—(AP)—Authorization to acquire Punto Borinquen for an air base on the northwestern point of Porto Rico as an initial step by the United States of America to establish a new defense front in the Atlantic was announced today.

Brig. Gen. E. L. Daley, commander of the American army's newly created Caribbean department, said the new base, 75 miles from San Juan, would be constructed as a self-contained community with adequate structures to insure facility of command and operation. It was understood that the war department has approved plans to purchase a 1,400 acre tract.

Lieut. Col. Rudolph W. Fiefkohl, Porto Rican-born and a graduate of Massachusetts institute of Technology, has been designated constructing quartermaster in charge of the base, for which $8,000,000 has been allotted this year.

MYSTERY VEILS BLAST ON NAZI VESSEL; 15 DEAD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 18.—Mystery tonight surrounded the explosion aboard the 17,000 ton steamer Berlin in the Baltic sea near Swinemuende last night. Fifteen men were killed and eighteen seriously injured. The vessel belongs to the North German Lloyd line, but it had been chartered by the German Labor Front. There were no passengers aboard.

The mystery was provided by the refusal of Labor Front officials to reveal where the thousand passengers the steamer was to pick up in Swinemunede were to be taken and who they were.

The German press, which published the fact of the explosion early this afternoon, relegated it to the back pages in its later editions. Late tonight official circles declared the explosion was due to oil in the ship's boilers.

HOLY LAND JEWS STRIKE AGAINST IMMIGRATION BAN

JERUSALEM, July 18.—(AP)—Jews throughout Palestine, in protest against Britain's six-month ban on Jewish immigration into the Holy Land, began a ten-hour strike today. They closed their shops and shuttered their windows.

The national council of Palestine Jews called the strike in an effort to influence debate on Palestine issues in the British parliament. Only a few Jews holding special passes from their local committees appeared on Jerusalem streets. Mobile police took special precautions in the city.

[Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald of Great Britain announced on July 12 that no Jewish immigration quota for Palestine would be issued for six months, chiefly because of the large scale on which illegal immigration was beiny carried out.]

CLIPPER BRINGS IMMIGRANTS ON 3D ROUND TRIP

Port Washington, N. Y., July 18.—[Special.]—The Dixie Clipper returned at 7:59 a. m. today, 1 minute ahead of schedule, on her third round trip to Europe over the southern route. She brought Dr. and Mrs. Jules Burchovitz of Antwerp, who are believed to be the first immigrants to the United States by air. Dr. Burchovitz said he was retiring from practice and would make his home in Los Angeles.

Others who arrived on the Pan-American Airways ship were James Stahlman, Nashville newspaper publisher; Harry Hassan, oil executive; Paul Brunet, a Marseilles exporter; Mrs. Leila Batty of London; John Sofio, banker, and Artemus Gates of Locust Valley.

TOKIO PONDERS DRASTIC ACTION AGAINST SOVIET

Ministers Study Air Raids in Emergency Session.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, July 18.—An emergency meeting of the five man inner cabinet in Tokio and statements of army spokesmen in Japanese protected Manchukuo today gave a serious aspect to the situation which has grown from fighting on the Outer Mongolian-Manchukuan border and air raids on Manchukuan towns.

Premier Hiranuma and the finance, navy, and foreign ministers met at the request of War Minister Lieut. Gen. Seishiro Itagaki. The ministers were given a full report of soviet-Mongolian raids on Fularki, near Tsitsihar, and three raids on Halunarsham, near the border fighting front. The fighting has been in progress near Lake Bor and the Khalka river since May 11.

Ask Protest to Moscow.

The Manchukuan government at Hsinking, which already had protested the raids to the soviet Russian consul at Harbin and to the soviet protected Outer Mongolian government at Ulan Bator [Urga], today requested the Tokio government to protest directly to Moscow.

Spokesmen of the Japanese army in Manchukuo stated that unusual military activity by soviet Russian forces had been reported along the entire 5,000 mile extent of Siberia from the Ural mountains to Vladivostok.

One authority expressed the opinion that events were leading toward a second Russo-Japanese war and that the next two days would determine whether fighting would flare into the most extensive thus far. This source declared Japan would have the advantage in a war right now because its best troops already are in Manchukuo, while Russian forces in the far east are mostly recruits.

Army May Act Alone.

Japanese in Manchukuo were awaiting a formal reply to the Manchukuan protest of soviet air raids before taking further steps. It was reported the Manchukuan protest included a threat to bomb Blagoveshchensk, the soviet Siberian air base, in retaliation.

In any case, a spokesman said, the Japanese army in Manchukuo would determine the course of action, not Tokio. The course, he said, might be either diplomatic negotiations with Moscow or Japanese reprisals.

Japanese consider the present disposition of forces on the Khalka river front as unsafe as long as the soviet Mongolians hold the west bank which is 300 feet higher than the east bank. Japanese fear a broadening of the front. New soviet concentrations were reported north of Nomonhan hill, where the Japanese hitherto have had no forces.

Two anti-aircraft units were set up in Hsinking, in the heart of the city protecting the largest buildings.

GUNS ON GUARD FOR AIR RAIDS, BRITAIN IS TOLD

LONDON, July 18.—(AP)—Anti-aircraft guns and searchlights are spread throughout Britain and are on guard day and night, War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha said tonight. Speaking at the inaugural dinner of the London Welsh anti-aircraft unit, he said the guns were spread in a wide checkerboard alongside farm buildings in hills and lowlands. Three years ago the anti-aircraft army was 6,000 strong, but "it is now 112,000 strong," Hore-Belisha said.

David Lloyd George, Britain's wartime prime minister, told the gathering that "the menace impending over the world at this moment was like a smoldering peat fire, liable to flare at any moment."

"You see occasional wisps of smoke to show that the danger is still there," he said. "If war comes Britain is ready to defend this island against aggressors from whatever quarter of the skies they may come."

How Much Farm Labor Is Needed?

How many hours of labor are required to grow an acre of wheat? An acre of corn? How many hours are used in caring for one dairy cow for one year? Can farm work be distributed evenly throughout the year? You will find the answers to these and other problems of farm labor in Homer Neisz's informative article on page 24 of today's Chicago Tribune.

On this page also are the farm lands want ads which appear each week adjacent to the farm article.

WARSAW HEARS ROOSEVELT ASKS STALIN TO SIGN

Told President Favors British-French Pact.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, July 18.—Kurjer Warzawski, Warsaw's largest newspaper, today reported from Moscow that the new soviet ambassador to Washington, Constantine Umansky, had arrived in Moscow yesterday and brought with him a special message of greetings from President Roosevelt to Dictator Josef Stalin.

Constantine Umansky.

President Roosevelt, the newspaper reported, had expressed hope for a favorable outcome of the present soviet-British-French negotiations for a military alliance.

Brake Upon Discussions.

From other sources it was reported that the refusal by the foreign affairs committee of the American senate to approve revision of the present neutrality legislation had acted as an additional brake upon the Moscow discussions. The soviet government, it was said, is unwilling to close any form of an agreement with the western powers until America stands ready to give military and economic support to the so-called peace front of Moscow, London, and Paris.

The existing American neutrality act prohibits the shipment of arms, ammunition and implements of war to belligerent nations. It is the arms embargo portion of the legislation which the President had sought to have removed.

Called for Personal Report.

Ambassador Umansky, according to Moscow circles, was recalled to make a personal report on President Roosevelt's inability to obtain congressional support for revisions in the present neutrality act.

The soviet press at first confidently predicted that Roosevelt would be able to persuade opponents to accept the proposed changes in neutrality legislation. However, it is not sure now about Russia, France, and England obtaining full American support.

Save 209 from Flaming Ship

The Japanese freighter Bokuyo Maru, from which 209 persons were saved by American tanker when the freighter caught fire and sank 1,125 miles east of Yokohama. There were 212 persons aboard the Japanese ship.

Three Are Killed

San Francisco, Cal., July 18.—(AP)—The rescue at sea of 209 passengers and crew members of the burning Japanese freighter Bokuyo Maru was tersely told today in a message from the American tanker Associated.

Capt. L. E. Hawkins, skipper of the tanker, said he took those on the Bokuyo Maru aboard his ship about 3,750 miles west of San Francisco. He said there were three casualties. Whether the Japanese ship sank was not learned here.

The 8,619 ton Bokuyo Maru was enroute from San Pedro, Cal., to Japan with a cargo of nitrates loaded at Valparaiso, Chile. The stop at San Pedro had been made after fire was discovered in the forward hold. There were no American or European passengers aboard the vessel.

2 DIVERS REPORT SQUALUS RESTS ON AN EVEN KEEL

Portsmouth, N. H., July 18.—(AP)—Encouraging news that the submarine Squalus sank almost on an even keel, without breaking open her hatches, came today from two divers who defied death in a maze of wires to reach the submersible for the first time since it broke away from salvage pontoons last Thursday.

Because of the tangle of salvage equipment the divers, Henry Frye and Lieut. J. K. Morrison, took great risks when they went down 240 feet for the report on the Squalus.

Frye, descending to the stern, reported it was in about twelve feet of mud at the deepest. This was eight feet less than the depth to which the Squalus sank when she first went down May 23, with a loss of twenty-six lives. Lieut. Morrison found that the bow, which leaped to the top for fifteen seconds Thursday, was at a slight upward tilt, indicating the Squalus' forward compartments still are dry.

British Launch 2 Cruisers; Put Third in Water Today

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 18.—The 8,000 ton cruiser Nigeria was launched on the Tyne today, four hours after the 5,400 ton cruiser Dido took to the water at Birkenhead. Tomorrow the Mauritius, sister ship of the Nigeria, will be launched. It will be months before the work of outfitting the new cruisers can be completed, but the speed with which they are being built is part of the preparedness program that will call up 12,000 naval reservists on July 31 and will bring 130 warships of the reserve fleet back into service next month.

clared that the determination of Danzig Nazis to achieve political union with Germany could not be shaken by "blustering and threats on the part of England."

The party leader made this statement after Danzig senators and political leaders studied instructions brought back to Danzig from Germany by Albert Forster, Nazi district leader, who conferred with Hitler.

Danzig Nazis Hopeful.

The Danzig Nazi leader delivered this statement:

"After the talks between Hitler and Forster Danzig Nazis are more hopeful than ever that they will achieve their goal, which is political union of the free city with the reich.

"It was agreed also that the protective measures taken by Danzig are sufficient safeguard against any surprise action which might be undertaken by Poland.

"It was established also that policies of National Socialists [Nazis] of Danzig and of Germany are in complete agreement. Danzig is sure that Hitler stands beside the free city and that he is ready to fulfill without reservations all his assurances of help to Danzig in the attainment of its goal."

2,000 Troopers Arrive.

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, July 18.—Two thousand members of the German Versugungsgruppe—a special unit of Hitler troopers well known for their exploits in the Sudetenland before the Czecho-Slovak crisis—arrived here today. Some quarters suggested their arrival is connected with a possible Nazi move in the Free City. There have been many arrests among members of the Danzig police force, particularly among those who arrived from East Prussia. It was rumored sixty were seized.

Robs Gas Station, Kidnaps Two and Makes Getaway

A bandit took $65 last night from a gasoline station at 7800 Cottage Grove avenue. Then he commandeered the car of a customer, Eugene Beck of 525 East 80th street. The gunman took Attendant Lester Lemke of 1122 East 55th street along as a hostage and forced Beck to drive to 78th street and Evans avenue. There the robber pushed both men from the car and drove away in it.

STALIN REVIEWS BATHING QUEENS IN TIN HELMETS

MOSCOW, July 18.—(AP)—While Dictator Stalin watched atop Lenin's tomb, Soviet beauties in blue silk bathing suits and tin hats paraded and Russian troops routed goose-stepping "German" and "Japanese" soldiers in sham battles in Red square today.

On Russia's physical culture day, when the strength and preparedness of the nation's youth was demonstrated, some 40,000 shapely girls and sun tanned young men marched past Stalin to typify their fitness for life and for battle. They were selected as the finest representatives of soviet trade unions, collective farms, the army and the navy.

Emphasis on readiness for military service was provided by a profusion of weapons and sham battles.

SEN. VANDENBERG MOVES FOR A NEW PACT WITH JAPAN

Demands Changed Status in China Be Recognized.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—A resolution calling for a new treaty with Japan, which would re-define American rights in China and recognize that conditions have changed since signing of the nine power pact of 1922, was introduced in the senate today by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.].

Senator Vandenberg's resolution anticipated a finding by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, to be submitted to the foreign relations committee tomorrow, respecting the legality of the resolution by Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], which would empower the President to embargo shipments of arms, ammunition, oil, gasoline, steel, iron and scrap metal to Japan as a violator of the nine power pact.

Defined as Act of War.

Senator Vandenberg said the Pittman resolution would constitute an act of war against Japan and invite reprisals which the United States could not ignore. He predicted that Secretary Hull will rule that Pittman's resolution violates both the nine power pact of 1922 and the 1911 treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Japan.

The signatories of the nine power pact pledged themselves to respect the open door in China and China's territorial integrity.

The 1911 treaty—which requires six months' notice for its abrogation by any signatory—declares:

"Nor shall any prohibition be imposed by either country on the importation or exportation of any article from or to the territories of the other which shall not equally extend to the like article imported from or exported to any other country."

Open Discussion Provided.

The nine power treaty contains the following provision:

"The contracting powers agree that whenever a situation arises which, in the opinion of any one of them, involves the application of the stipulations of the present treaty and renders desirable discussion of such application, there shall be full and frank communication between the contracting powers concerned."

Senator Vandenberg contends that the Pittman resolution, calling for unilateral action by the United States without consultation, would violate the nine power treaty.

Vandenberg's resolution, therefore, would put the senate on record in favor of reassembling the conference of the nine powers at Brussels, which met in 1937 and recessed without determining whether Japan had violated the treaty.

Wants Free Hand for U. S.

The Vandenberg resolution would call upon the administration to give Japan the required six months' notice for abrogation of the treaty of 1911 "so that the government of the United States may be free to deal with Japan in the formulation of a new treaty and in the protection of American interests as new necessities may require."

"If we are to make any pretense of believing in the sanctity of international agreements, we must deal with Japan in an orderly and legal way," said Senator Vandenberg. "By serving notice of our intention to abrogate the treaty of 1911, we would be making a frank acknowledgement that new conditions exist in China and then we could start to deal with them in the formulation of a new treaty."

Senate opponents of the Pittman resolution suspect that it is an administration measure intended to implement President Roosevelt's famous quarantine speech at Chicago on Oct. 5, 1937. At that time Mr. Roosevelt advocated concerted international action to quarantine aggressor nations.

VANDENBERG TO GET FIRST HAND LOOK AT EUROPEAN SITUATION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, a leading candidate for the Republican nomination for President next year, is going to Europe after the adjournment of congress to study the international situation at first hand, it was learned today.

The Michigan senator is one of the foremost opponents of President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the existing arms embargo in order to supply arms to Great Britain and France in a possible war with Germany and Italy. He was largely instrumental in the formulation of the existing neutrality act which makes the embargo of arms to belligerents mandatory upon proclamation by the President that a state of war exists.

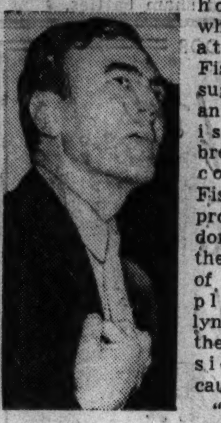
The movement for the nomination of Vandenberg is beginning to take organized form. A committee to promote the "Vandenberg movement in Michigan" has been formed, headed by Howard W. Lawrence, former Michigan state treasurer and for ten years chairman of the Michigan Republican state committee.

HOUSE DISMAYED BY FISH PLEA FOR ANTI-LYNCH VOTE

Blasts Roosevelt's Stand on Arms Bill Defeat.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Hamilton Fish.

Washington, D. C., July 18.—There were expressions of dismay in the house today when Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] suggested that anti-lynching legislation be brought up for consideration. Fish made his proposal in a sardonic vein, but the very thought of adding the explosive anti-lynching issue to the present session's program caused concern.

"There is a silver lining to every cloud," Fish told the house. "If we are to be kept in session any longer, because President Roosevelt is mad at the decisive action of the house in retaining an arms embargo, I suggest we take steps at once to provide Speaker Bankhead and Majority Leader Rayburn with such an important piece of legislation as the federal anti-lynching bill for consideration in the house pending action of the senate on the Bloom neutrality bill.

Foresees Holiday Session.

"The senate may be in session on the President's neutrality proposals until Christmas. By bringing up and adopting the anti-lynching bill we would provide the senate with the necessary legislation to continue its deliberations without interruption until the next regular session of congress, beginning in January."

The house passed an anti-lynching bill at the last session. It ran into a filibuster in the senate and expired with adjournment.

When the 76th congress convened last January, twin bills to make lynching a federal offense were introduced in the house by Fish and by Representative Bernard J. Gavagan [D., N. Y.], who represents the Harlem district in New York City.

The judiciary committee, to which the bills were referred, took no action. Gavagan presented a petition, which has been lying on the speaker's desk, to discharge the committee from further consideration of his measure and thus bring a vote in the house.

"I urge you to sign this petition immediately," Fish said to members. Forty more signatures are needed to bring the bill to the floor.

"Congress is ready to adjourn in ten days and is getting tired of Presidential scoldings and threats over the neutrality bill," Fish said. "But if we are to be kept here, let's pass this worthwhile anti-lynching bill and give the senate plenty to talk about."

LOVE BIRDS FIND A HOME; BABOON GOES UNCLAIMED

Two love birds found a home yesterday with Mrs. William A. Pehta, 2918 North Long avenue. But the brindle baboon, Rollo; Bolivar, a capuchin monkey, and two zebra finches still were staring hopefully at each visitor to the Brookfield zoo. The love birds were claimed by Mrs. Pehta as holder of ticket 08250 in a drawing Sunday. Persons holding tickets 09021, 30574, and 14950 failed to show up for their prizes. Robert Bean, assistant zoo director, said Rollo, Bolivar, and the two finches shouldn't feel too bad. He has had 500 letters from people all over the country offering to take them.

KEEPER OF VICE DEN NEAR U. OF I. FOUND GUILTY

Jury Hears Girl's Story of Life in Resort.

Urbana, Ill., July 18.—[Special.]—Harry Butts was convicted of operating a house of ill fame tonight by a jury which had heard a girl tell of her employment in a resort he conducted only a short stroll from the University of Illinois campus.

The jury deliberated three hours and a half. Sentence was postponed until a motion for a new trial is heard after July 31. Butts was returned to the county jail.

First of Eight to Trial.

Butts was the first of eight defendants to go on trial before juries. They were indicted last spring after the slaying of a university sophomore at a Negro resort prompted a grand jury inquiry on Champaign vice and gambling.

Doris Booker, also known as Janet Logan, a brunette, told the jury she had worked in Butts' house. She said she earned an average of $16 a night, half of which she gave to Butts' wife.

Miss Booker said her home was in Decatur, but that she had lived in Champaign much of the time in recent years. She told of spending the night of Sept. 15, 1938, as a prostitute in Butts' resort.

Deputy Sherif John Rising testified concerning the anger of Butts and his wife when they discovered three girls had invited him and Chief Clyde Davis of the Champaign police department into the house last Oct. 12.

Officers Enter House.

Both Rising and Davis, then a police captain, were in plain clothes when they went into the Butts place after the girls had invited them. When the Buttses returned, Rising said, they cursed the girls.

"Do you know who you have let in here?" they demanded.

Rising said he and Davis arrested Butts and the girls.

Circuit Judge Frank B. Leonard today sentenced Mrs. Irene Durham to four months in jail and fined her $200 for keeping a house of ill fame. She had pleaded guilty.

SCHOOL DESPOTS CALLED FAILURE TO DEMOCRACY

Two hundred education administrators gathered yesterday at the University of Chicago for the eighth annual conference of officers of public and private schools. They heard Lloyd A. Cook, associate professor of sociology at Ohio State university, brand as despotic the common method of school administration in this country. It is not to be expected, he asserted, that children will learn the ways of democracy from dictator principals and teachers.

Prof. Cook said school administrators should sift ideas through group discussion and arrive at decisions by a consensus of staff and students, school and community.

Frank E. Baker, president of the Milwaukee State Teachers' college, advised teachers' colleges to institute the rule of freedom rather than the rule of discipline in order to promote the democratic attitude.

'MISS MICHIGAN' TAKES A LOOK AT N. Y. NIGHT LIFE

New York, July 18.—[Special.]—Visiting New York as "Miss Michigan Aviation," Miss Willo Sheridan of Detroit took a look last night at what Gov. Luren D. Dickinson described last week as the perils of New York night life. Today Miss Sheridan said she had a bit of a hangover from two drinks of Scotch whisky she took in a night club.

Miss Sheridan, 23 years old, said she had not seen any of the dangers in New York which the Michigan governor had said were putting unprotected girls in proximity to a hellish brink. Miss Sheridan had a letter of introduction from the governor.

PRESIDENT RAPS G. O. P. PROPOSAL TO CUT EXPENSES

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—Republican proposals for a flat 10 per cent reduction in major government expenditures ran into opposition today at both the White House and the senate.

Referring to resolutions introduced by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge [R., Mass.] and Representative Joseph W. Martin [R., Mass.], house minority leader, calling for such a reduction, President Roosevelt, in reply to a question at his press conference, said people who put in that type of bill ought to have the courage to be specific.

The President added that 10 per cent reductions would hurt some functions of government. He indicated, however, he believed certain reductions might be made without harm. He was requesting government agencies, he said, to put some of their newly appropriated funds aside in the hope they won't have to be spent.

FATHER DIVINE GETS ANOTHER FANCY HEAVEN

New York, July 18.—[Special.]—Father Divine and his followers apparently are making great strides toward the establishment of fancy new heavens in two nearby localities, it became known today. At New Rochelle a deed was filed today transferring a larger home formerly owned by Miss Harriet E. Cripe, a retired school teacher.

Mrs. Angela C. Kaufman, who is turning over her estate in Newport, R. I., to the cult, has returned there to prepare for the arrival of the disciples. She is reported to have become a devout follower of the Negro Evangelist.

LETHAL CHAMBER DEATH ORDERED FOR SLAYER, 22

Student Is Convicted of Killing Salesmen.

Phoenix, Ariz., July 18.—(AP)—A jury accepted Robert Burgunder's challenge today and ordered him executed in the lethal gas chamber for murder.

Without a sign of emotion Burgunder listened to the verdict, which was the jurors' answer to his assertion that he should be given the death penalty if his story that an unidentified friend killed two automobile salesmen was untrue.

The jury, which sat through an eighteen day trial, rejected his story and the plea of his father, Robert M. Burgunder, Seattle, Wash., attorney and associate counsel, that the youth, 22 years old, was born with a defective brain.

Mother Near Collapse.

The poker playing collegian's frail mother, Mrs. Ruth Burgunder of Alhambra, Cal., was on the verge of collapse after the verdict was read. His gray haired father sat tight lipped and weary. Both had tried to assume blame for their son's waywardness.

Burgunder, until April 29 a sophomore student at Arizona State Teachers' college in Tempe, was convicted of the murder of Jack Peterson, Phoenix automobile salesman. Still pending against him is a charge of murdering Ellis M. Koury, another salesman.

Admits Plan to Steal Car.

On the witness stand Burgunder blamed the slayings on a companion whom he refused to identify because of a code of criminals he said he learned while serving twenty-three months in a Washington state reformatory for a Seattle drug store holdup.

The friend, Burgunder testified, shot Peterson and Koury because Peterson recognized him. Burgunder said he lured the salesmen to the desert so he could take their car and go to Tennessee.

Immediately after Judge Arthur T. La Prade set imposition of the death sentence for July 24, Defense Attorney C. T. McKinney began a new fight to save Burgunder from the gas cell. He said he would ask a new trial and appeal the judgment to the State Supreme court.

ADMITS ATTEMPTED RAPE.

William Mack Powell, 17 years old, Lynch, Ky., a Negro, confessed last night to the attempted rape early yesterday of a married woman at the door of her home where she awaited her husband, police said. He fled from the husband. He was identified by the woman after his arrest on suspicion.

HOODLUM GETS SIX MONTHS FOR STARTING A RIOT

Judge Lambert K. Hayes in the Boys' court yesterday sentenced Richard Pierce, 18 years old, 5230 Race avenue, to six months in the Bridewell for starting a riot on a Madison street surface lines car at Paulina street on July 2. His brother, Joseph, 17, was fined $200. John Carden, 17, of 3447 Franklin boulevard, and Theodore So-ers, 18, of 5229 Race avenue, were freed. Witnesses testified Richard Pierce started the fight by slugging a passenger for no apparent reason.

3 HURT AS CAR PLUNGES DOWN 30 FOOT BANK

One man was critically injured and two escaped with less severe hurts yesterday in an automobile accident on Sheridan and Downey roads, at the southern end of the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Simon Storchak, 840 Sunnyside avenue, the driver, lost control of the car on Sheridan road. It plunged off a soft shoulder, skidded 200 feet along the edge of the road, smashed through an iron fence, and careened down a 30 foot embankment to Downey road, which runs below Sheridan road there. The car overturned three times and the occupants were thrown out.

One of the men, Samuel Clark, 915 Wilson avenue, was recovering from a broken leg. His leg was rebroken in the crash, one arm was fractured, and he was injured internally. William E. Burns, 849 Leland avenue, incurred fractured ribs, and Storchak suffered bruises.

Lee Tackitt, 923 Windsor avenue, a truck driver, was killed yesterday when his truck crashed into a parked steel truck on U. S. 12 eleven miles west of Jackson, Mich. Tackitt's truck was burned.

Frank Izanson, 5946 South Halsted street, incurred a skull fracture last night when he was struck by a hit and run driver at Halsted and 22d streets.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 439 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 341 were killed in Chicago, where 11,418 were injured in the same period.

Judge, Clerk Renominated in Chicago Heights Poll

City Judge Robert A. Meier Jr. and City Clerk Edward H. Kirgis were renominated in the Chicago Heights primary election yesterday. They were unopposed on the ballot, but voters wrote in the names of two men who will oppose them in the election Sept. 5. They are Martin Dolowy for judge and Joseph Dionne for clerk. Meier received 965 votes and Kirgis 908. Their opponents each received 224 votes.

SEIZE CAB DRIVER IN STORE STRIKE KILLING INQUIRY

Eugene Carter, 21 years old, a cab driver, was held yesterday at the detective bureau by request of Assistant State's Attorney Richard Devine, who is in charge of the investigation of the murder of James Lawrence in April.

Lawrence, a truck helper for the Wieboldt stores, was shot to death during a labor dispute between union drivers and the merchandising firm. Oscar Kofkin, 37 years old, a business agent of the Taxi Drivers union, has been indicted for the murder of Lawrence and is scheduled for trial Aug. 1.

Carter, who lives at 1600 Jonquil Terrace, was seized by detectives near the Howard street elevated station. There have been reports that attempts were made to intimidate a witness who identified Kofkin as one of the killers of Lawrence, but Devine refused to indicate definitly that Carter was held in connection with such threats.

TAX COLLECTION BUREAU TO OPEN PAYMENT DRIVE

Realty Owners Will Get Delinquency Letters.

A drive to coördinate efforts of county officials in collecting delinquent taxes will be started next week by the newly created centralized bureau on tax collections.

This was announced yesterday by Arthur Sullivan, attorney for County Treasurer John Toman. Sullivan is chairman of the volunteer committee of county officials which is setting up the new bureau.

Sullivan said that within ten days the bureau will begin to send letters to taxpayers whose real estate taxes are delinquent in any years since 1928.

Letters to Cite Delinquencies.

The latters will call attention to the delinquencies and will explain to the taxpayer that it is to his interest to pay. They also will explain that county tax bills at present are 15 or 20 per cent higher than they would be if back taxes were paid.

Sullivan said the main function of the bureau will be to follow tax bills from the day they are extended until they are paid or until the property, in the case of real estate taxes, has been foreclosed by the county.

The bureau also will function as a central agency for dispensing information to taxpayers, thus eliminating the necessity for taxpayers to go from one county department to another. It will advise citizens who are trying to work out satisfactory plans for clearing up their back taxes.

Board Group Studies Plan.

A subcommittee of the county board, under the direction of George F. Nixon, is studying the plan and will report to the bureau on its findings. Sullivan said the bureau could function prior to its approval by the county board, because at present its activities will require virtually no funds. Officials and employés of the bureau will be selected from employés of county tax divisions.

Sullivan and George O. Fairweather, director of the citizens' committee on tax collections, conferred yesterday with Carl Chatters, executive secretary of the Municipal Finance Officers' association.

Chatters outlined tax collection efforts being carried on in other large cities by similar bureaus and discussed their methods and results.

MOVE TO CHANGE ICE CREAM LAW UP FOR HEARING

The city council health committee will hold a public hearing today on a proposed amendment to the milk ordinance which would permit ice cream manufacturers to use cream other than "Grade A." Ald. Joseph C. Ross, chairman of the committee, said the amendment was recommended by officials of the board of health and is in accordance with the model milk ordinance of the United States public health service. He said the amendment is deemed advisable because of a threatened shortage of grade A cream.

Sentence 3 Election Judges to Year Terms for Fraud

Three election judges found guilty of contempt of court for voting irregularities in the April 12, 1938, primary were sentenced yesterday to a year each in the County jail by Judge Edmund K. Jarecki. The three, all from the 3d precinct of the 24th ward, are Joseph Levey, 3840 Fillmore street, Democratic judge; Sidney Bank, 3911 Grenshaw street, and Harold Burmeister, 3925 Fillmore street, Republican judges. They also face criminal charges of conspiracy to violate the election laws.

Starts Air Trip

Mrs. Virginia Pfuderer, 72, with her grandson, William Pfuderer of Clinton, Ia., when she started round the world air trip.

The popular fallacy that a spirit of adventure is a prerogative of the young folk was exploded yesterday by Mrs. Virginia L. Pfuderer, 72 years old, when she waved good-by to her son and grandson from an eastbound United Airlines plane. Mrs. Pfuderer was off on a round the world flying tour. She expected to circle the globe in 33 days.

To excited William F. Pfuderer III., 23 months old, it was the fairy tale of the magic carpet come true. His father, William II., had brought Billie from Clinton, Ia., because he wanted to remind his grandmother again that she promised to make special observations of Bagdad, city of Sinbad the sailor.

Mrs. Pfuderer will take the Dixie Clipper to Marseilles, France, by way of the Azores and Portugal. She will allow a week for sightseeing in Paris, London, and Rome. Then across Egypt and Asia, above the trails the venturesome Polos followed to the fabulous courts of Kublai Kahn, her time scale running in hours to the years of their travels. The Pacific Clipper will bring her from Hongkong back home.

JUSTUS JOHNSON ENTERS STATE SECRETARY RACE

Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, second district Appellate court clerk, yesterday announced his candidacy for secretary of state on the Republican ticket in 1940. Johnson, a former chairman of the state central committee, is the first to declare for the secretaryship.

"Because we must have harmony and unity," he announced, "I have repeatedly declared that I would work wholeheartedly with any movement intended to bring success to the Republican party. At this writing there seems to be a concentration of candidates for the two major offices to be filled—governor and senator—in the congressional districts of which Chicago is the dominant part.

"It does not seem logical that the senator, governor, and secretary of state, the three major offices, all should come from the same political division. Therefore I deemed it not out of place for a downstater to announce for secretary of state."

Thus far only one major candidate is in the field for governor—Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, the 1938 senatorial nominee. Speaker Hugh Cross of the Illinois house of representatives, who lives in Jerseyville, is the only candidate to date who has announced for the lieutenant governorship.

WOMEN PICKETS IN ROCKERS KEEP GUARD ON DUMP

Housewives of the northwest side yesterday continued to picket the city dumping ground at Narragansett and Grand avenues although no city refuse trucks attempted to enter. The unique picket line, to which the housewives brought rocking chairs and their babies, was established Monday by women residents of the district who protested against the dump's odor, smoke, and vermin.

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, has ordered refuse trucks to avoid the dump and carry their loads to other refuse pits. Before his order was issued women and children had massed at the dump's entrance and defied truck drivers to enter.

A suggestion that incinerators be built to dispose of the city's refuse is being considered by the city council finance committee. At present the city has only one incinerator. It is on Goose island and was closed in 1934 because of the high cost of operation, Hewitt said.

ALDERMEN HEAR WINNETKAN RAP SCHOOL BOARD

The city council school committee held its second secret session yesterday to hear charges by Raymond Kraft, a Winnetka teacher, against buying practices of the board of education. The committee is investigating the charges at the request of its vice chairman, Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th], who also asked that the sessions be secret. Frank R. Schneberger, assistant attorney for the board of education, told the committee it has no authority to change the school board budget or the tax levy ordinance. He said its only power is to approve the budget.

"Apparently we have no power to make any changes in the board budget," said Ald. Henry Sonnenschein [22d], chairman of the committee, "but some good may come out of these hearings."

GOOD OLD Rheingold BEER

Always the Same Satisfying Flavor

● The uniformity of finer flavor that has made Good Old Rheingold Beer a big favorite does not "just happen." We take no chances in brewing—never have in 80 years.

For example, the composition of the water must be exactly right. It must in no way interfere with the full development of flavor and quality that do not vary.

Every drop of water we use in brewing is specially filtered and boiled. It is then crystal clear and softened to the perfect degree for blending with other scientifically tested ingredients.

Next time, ask for Good Old Rheingold Beer and get greater enjoyment. Remember—no guessing is done in the making. Read more about good beer in our advertisements.

WANTED: Pioneers without rifles*

"IT MUST'VE BEEN GREAT TO BE A PIONEER! Think of it! Absolutely free ... Your own boss—Lots of wild game... Why, those boys had it easy—They were in on the ground floor!

Used to be a feller could light out for the West—take up free land—take no orders from anybody... But there's no future for a man these days.

The frontier is gone. The virgin timber is gone. All the gold has been discovered. There's no future in going to sea any more ... I don't know what the world is coming to..."

* * *

NONSENSE! says Liberty Magazine. What this young man (and thousands with minds like his) needs to do is to turn around and face the future! Opportunity does not lie in the past... It never did! The pioneer's life was no picnic. He had to learn how to be a pioneer in his day and that's just what we've got to do today!

For seven long years we have been listening to a song of defeat... "The days of private enterprise are over"... "We must face the fact that unemployment is with us to stay" ... "All the wealth of the country is in a few hands"... "Nothing can be done until we have a new social order."

Who says so, Liberty Magazine wants to know?

* * *

Not the forward-looking men who have cracked the frontier of the air—men who have planned, built and successfully flown Atlantic Clippers across the Atlantic Ocean this summer—1939.

Not the men who have recently discovered manganese right here in America—so that, pretty soon, we may not have to import any more from abroad to make manganese steel.

Not the men who planned, built and are now successfully operating 46 regular express trains powered with Diesel engines.

Not the men who have cracked the frontiers of weather—and have brought air-conditioning into trains, planes, factories and homes.

Not the men who have created steering wheels out of soy beans, billiard balls out of milk (casein), a whole new synthetic fiber and fabric—Nylon (better for stockings than silk) —out of ordinary coal.

No. These men have been too busy to look backwards. They have no breath to waste, sighing about "lost frontiers." AND ALL THESE MEN have been in private industry —going ahead with their pioneering despite a government which has consistently hampered their work, with "regulation" and taxation, rather than helped it.

These men know—just what the pioneers knew—that success has to be worked for. Work built America—made it great. Work will protect our liberty as nothing else will, because the minute we accept a relief check as just as good as a pay check—then we surrender our right ever to reach the frontiers of tomorrow.

* * *

LIBERTY MAGAZINE BELIEVES THERE IS A FRONTIER AHEAD, a frontier that only private initiative can open up—as it has opened all frontiers. This last frontier is one we can't lick with ax or gun; it is the frontier of the mind.

We Americans can't fight our way, this time; we've got to think our way out—and thinking is not a government function! There's no such thing as a "public brain"! Thinking, the kind of thinking that makes these new pioneers, is a matter of private initiative, personal initiative!

Millions of Americans, pioneers of the new frontier, find that Liberty Magazine stimulates and widens their thinking, arouses their minds to the problems and responsibilities of our times. More than two and a half million families, who read the magazine regularly, believe, with Liberty, that personal initiative is the best guarantee of personal freedom.

ANOTHER LOUISIANA PURCHASE.

Not long ago Attorney General Murphy delivered the baccalaureate address and was given an honorary degree at Louisiana State university. At that time he stressed integrity in public life, saying that the department of justice would be the scourge of the evildoer and the fearless defender of honor. Many distinguished citizens of Louisiana sat on the platform as Mr. Murphy pledged the sword of justice to the cause of incorruptibility. Among them was Dr. James Monroe Smith, then president of the university.

It was probably too late at that time for any of Mr. Murphy's auditors to correct certain errors in their way of living, although his words may have made them regret that they had not seen the light a few years sooner and had listened to the voice of conscience while there was still time to keep their feet from straying off the road the honest man travels to the only real rewards of life.

It is unlikely that Mr. Murphy had a peek into the records of some of the gentlemen who heard him, because so fearless a man would not have received an honor from persons he would be prosecuting a few weeks later. It is true that he could have known that his predecessor in the department of justice dealt officially with some of these distinguished Louisiana statesmen, charging that they had defrauded the government in their income taxes. Some satisfactory political adjustment was made of that issue after the death of Huey Long, who had become a disturber to the New Deal, and the culprits were restored to good standing in Washington.

Mr. Murphy may be indignant because the culprits allowed him to talk of public integrity on the very spot where the powder barrel was to blow up. He was almost caught in the débris. He has retaliated for this indignity by getting into the prosecution of some of the accused politicians through the mail box.

Seymour Weiss, the New Orleans hotel man, who was one of the Louisiana "Big Three" taking over control after Huey Long's burial, has been indicted, among others, by the federal grand jury, charged with using the mails to defraud. Mr. Weiss, Dr. Smith, and others are accused of having sold the university $75,000 worth of its own property which it had already bought and paid for. In the course of the transaction it is alleged that checks were sent through the mails, and that brings in the federal government.

When Dr. Smith, the president of the university, resigned and skipped out, Gov. Earl Long, taking the place of Gov. Leche, who also resigned, on account of his health, said that things in Louisiana were going to be strictly on the up and up. He spoke as approvingly of honor in public life as Mr. Murphy had done a few weeks before. A swindle, if there was one, defrauding the state university would seem to be a matter for the state law officers to handle.

Mr. Murphy may say that Louisiana can't be trusted with the administration of justice when its prominent sons are involved, and that may be true. It is nevertheless regarded as a state's business to conduct its own administration of justice. It can, of course, proceed with its own indictments and prosecutions, but the federal agents will be on the scene and it is not improbable that the politicians who may be practicing their profession next year will take due note of the interest the federal government has manifested in the state's affairs. That may doubly insure some docile delegates to the Democratic national convention. The Washington politbureau isn't overlooking any prospects these days.

VITALIZING THE ARMY.

The house military affairs committee is withholding from action by congress, for reasons more apparent to the committee members than to the public or the army, the vitalization bill designed to retire from the army officers who have failed to attain promotion to rank commensurate with their age.

Their failure is due to the "hump" that exists in the army, and that in turn resulted from the large number of officers who stayed in the service following the world war. For promotion to ranks below that of brigadier general army officers in effect stand in single file. Officers commissioned after the war are standing behind the "hump" of wartime officers, with the result that none of the former has advanced beyond the rank of captain, although the elder members of this postwar group are now in their forties.

The vitalization bill, introduced by Senator Logan of Kentucky, provides that forced retirements of the older officers in each rank of the promotion list shall take place to the extent necessary to remove from active service 4.35 per cent annually of the officers on that list. Retirement of brigadier generals at 62 is also conditionally provided. Under the bill the maximum age for colonels will probably become 60, for lieutenant colonels 58, for majors 55, and for captains 50 years.

The forced retirement plan has been strongly recommended by Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staff, in his last two annual reports. It apparently has the approval of the officer corps. A recent poll conducted by the Army and Navy Journal produced a vote of 2,425 to 1,039 in its favor. Those participating in the poll, moreover, were largely senior officers. Few lieutenants voted, apparently deeming the question one for their elders to settle.

The bill should be passed. The present situation is bad in two respects. Not only are officers kept in lower ranks beyond the age that fits them for the duties of those ranks, but younger officers are denied promotion and the training that comes from its increased responsibilities.

In peace times the administration of the army suffers by the present situation. In time of war it would be intolerable. Captains, majors, lieutenant colonels, and colonels must lead troops in the field. Even though officers as a rule keep themselves in better condition than civilian executives of equal age, men from 50 to 60 years old are rarely capable of meeting the physical demands of active field service without loss of efficiency that is a serious and unwarranted hazard to the safety of their troops.

Army retirement pay is, on the whole, generous. The officers affected by the vitalization bill would retire with from $253 to $375 a month. They would, of course, be free to supplement their earnings by civil employment.

CORPORATE HOME RULE.

The corporate headquarters of the Southern Pacific Railroad company are being moved from New York to San Francisco. There the board and its executive committee will meet and there the principal officers will be stationed. Because of the change, four westerners have been elected to the board, and they will, at once, become members of the executive committee.

This is as it should be. In the formative period of such an enterprise as the Southern Pacific there may have been some point in having the main offices in New York because an immensely important aspect of management at the time was the provision of long term capital. So far as this country was concerned, New York was the principal financial center, as it still is, and financial problems could best be handled there, where most of our investment bankers and the correspondents of European banks were located.

Today the emphasis has shifted from finance to operation. A western railroad can be financed in New York but it cannot be run from there without a serious loss of efficiency. That fact has now been realized. Only the departments of the Southern Pacific which are directly concerned with finance are to remain in New York. The rest will move to the coast, where the president and his principal lieutenants will be in direct, daily contact with employés and customers.

THE TRIBUNE has been urging this reform for many years and latterly with considerable success. The experience of the Illinois Central, which was among the first large railroads to adopt the suggestion, proved its soundness. When western roads with headquarters in New York were continuing to show declining revenues, the Illinois Central, operated from Chicago, was reporting increased revenues. That was because the best executive brains in the Illinois Central were no longer handicapped in making decisions by having to act on other men's observations and reports. The result has been speedier and wiser judgments.

The United States Steel corporation has taken steps in the same direction. The management of its mills in the Chicago district has been given a great deal more freedom of action in recent months than was permitted at any time since the properties were assembled. Here again the results appear to have been encouraging.

The trend in the direction of corporate home rule is sound. Home rule promotes not only efficiency but also better labor relations. No matter how well disposed an executive may be, no matter how eager he may be to remove all avoidable causes of conflict, he will be at a disadvantage if he tries to deal at long distance with his working force. It is easy to distrust a man who lives a thousand miles away and is seen only when he makes an occasional inspection. It is not so easy to hate a man who is seen every day and has established in personal relations a reputation for considerateness and good will.

THE GOOD SUCKER POLICY.

Secretary Hull is reported, in a recent dispatch from THE TRIBUNE'S Washington bureau, to be fearful that if we stop buying Mexican silver at an artificial price he will have trouble in getting restitution for American petroleum properties seized by the Mexican government. The implication is that if we continue to finance the Mexican government through the silver purchases it may consent to give some of the profit back for the wells and refineries it has taken.

In another dispatch the United Press quotes Eduardo Suarez, Mexican minister of finance, as saying that the oil properties are valued at less than $10,000,000. At the same time President Cardenas said his government intends to pay off the expropriated foreign investors within ten years.

The Roosevelt administration has already paid Mexico $217,000,000 for silver mined in that country. It is about time that trafic through that rat hole was reversed. A vaguely possible payment of $10,000,000 to American investors in ten years does not seem a proper return for another $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 for useless metal to be buried at West Point.

Editorial of the Day

JUSTIFIABLE FURY.

[Des Moines Tribune.

Office workers everywhere will sympathize with a large owl on the campus of Oberlin college, Ohio, which attacked more than a score of students, apparently because it was annoyed by their whistling.

This cheerful propaganda about "whistling while you work," put over by Snow White's seven dwarfs, has mistakenly induced many to whistle while somebody else was trying to work.

Persisted in, this would have disrupted civilization as effectively as the next great war, especially since most people can only whistle off key.

Naturally, then, while he might have tolerated a little melodious screeching, which owls enjoy, he resented the unmusical interruption of the students.

They may even have been whistling "Three Little Fishies."

This can become torture by mere repetition, and whistled off key it has been known to drive humans mad—let alone owls!

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

HOLD THE FORT, COMMISSARS.

Grave and reverend [we hope] commissioners of the Chicago parks district, let us sit down and reason together, without sarcasm or acrimony, if possible.

So you are going to tear down Fort Dearborn, on two weeks' notice!

We turn to the tourist's handbook published by the American Automobile association, and there we read under "places to see":

"Burnham park: At the foot of 31st street is a replica of old Fort Dearborn, complete with the outer stockade, inner stockade, blockhouse, log houses, barracks, etc. By the fort are replicas of five Lincoln cabins, including his boyhood home."

So you are going to make a liar out of the motor traveler's favorite book of reference! This list of "places to see" in Chicago is none too impressive, when analyzed; it is padded with such junk as the Pure Oil building, the freight tunnel system, "Hobohemia," "Little Bohemia." Fort Dearborn is needed there.

* * *

We have understood that Mayor Kelly formed a "Greater Chicago" committee last year to study ways and means of expanding the city's reputation as a place worth visiting. What has that fine body of men, who ought to know that the only way to improve business is to keep the customers coming, to say about your sudden decision to abolish Fort Dearborn?

Your reasons are financial, but we have noted that you spared no expense in purchasing the largest sewer pipes in the world to bury in Lincoln park. Is your sense of the city's greatness confined solely to sewer pipes? Do you lack the historical imagination? If so, do not scorn it as "high brow," for many plain people drive their cars for hundreds of miles to see such evocations of the past.

* * *

You say that you have had no coöperation from civic bodies about equipping the fort with museum relics. Well, the heat is on now; they will get busy if you refrain from tearing down this admirable example of pioneer fortification before they return from their summer vacations.

Why the hurry? You are conveying the impression that you have a taste for destruction.

Sleep, O ablest of life's many herdsmen
That lead us variously, you alone
Can take us into quiet pastures yielding
Sweet sustenance no other soils have grown.

Hope guiding us to calm, abundant meadows
And Love to slopes luxuriant and bright
Have found no regions where we thrive so surely
As on your lands in valleys of the night.

Unhappy is the stray you do not gather
To that serene immobile flock you keep
Upon your lovely acres in well being
As deep as it is delicate, O Sleep.

The Real McCoy in Scotch Jokes.

A postcard from Edinburgh addressed to M'Tavish, the Line poet, proves that jokes about Scottish thrift are prevalent there as well as here. It shows a canny lad in a tam o' shanter writing a telegram, and gives the message, thus:

"Uncle dead. Arrangements made. Rangers two. Aberdeen nil."

If the humor of this baffles you, please note that Sandy is sending two messages [a bereavement and the football score] for the price of one.

[M'Tavish can have his postcard as soon as he sends the Linemaster his correct name and address.]

Still Talking About Trees.

Remember the Line's discovery of the only sycamore tree in Chicago and the several dozen others that were promptly reported by our scouts? Well, on the site of ancient Jamestown, Va., where the first English colonists landed, and probably right where Capt. John Smith made the first boot heel marks, we found a lordly sycamore tree.

Furthermore, after a pleasant luncheon at Buttonwood Inn, Matawan, N. J., we were asked, "How did this place get its name?" and we said, "Probably from a tree. Maybe from that big one at the entrance." Then we looked at the big one and saw it was a sycamore, alias buttonwood tree.

All this forms our report as traveling correspondent of the Sycamore Defenders' association.

Protagonist of self-defense,
The porcupine shows rare good sense.
Folks used to think he'd shoot a quill
At those who'd try to work him ill,
But now we find he needs but wait
And let intruders earn their fate;
For uncouth ones who sit on him
Always repent in sorrow grim.
And so we learn those who offend
Must suffer for it in the end.

Timbers of Libby Prison.

To complete the record of Libby prison [July 12]: Some of the bricks were secured by the Chicago Historical society and now form an interior wall of its civil war room. The timber was bought by State Senator Danielson of Indiana and used by him to build a large cattle barn on his farm south of La Porte. This farm is now owned by Frank Davis.

On these timbers may be seen a number of initials carved by prisoners. One full name appears, J. Houseman. We traced this name through the records in the war department and found that he belonged to the Pennsylvania cavalry, Company B, 13th regiment.

MIGRAINE ADDICTS—SLOW DOWN.

THE recollection of an upset household occasioned by an attack of migraine, or sick headache, is vivid. The room in which the patient lay was darkened, no one was allowed to speak above a whisper, and every one realized that on the whole it was a distressing affair. The family doctor, assiduous in his attentions, was able to ease the symptoms but partially, and we came finally to regard the matter as an incurable chronic disease baffling to medical science.

I can recall, as a lad, how the bottom dropped out of everything when mother was obliged to go to bed with one of her headaches. After an especially important task, such as a church bazaar with its numerous responsibilities, she was almost certain to succumb.

The malady is equally common today. We recognize that it probably is hereditary and is characterized by a sort of explosion which seems to upset the sympathetic system completely. All too often the afflicted individual is highstrung and dissatisfied, and many episodes may be likened to a psychic tornado actuated by disappointment or frustration. Some waste their nervous force unnecessarily. They are aroused to anger easily, they harbor jealousies or hatreds, finally arriving at a state in which they pity themselves beyond all understanding. Such a disposition may be the result of too little to do, a sluggish alimentary tract, or unfavorable surroundings. But any one who is overdoing physically or mentally is a potential victim. Many a case has improved on reducing tension and acquiring a serene outlook on life. The quiet, retiring woman whose go-getter husband demands a score of social activities a week—which she is powerless to resist—is a suitable subject.

Has the difficulty an organic basis? We know that it may be made worse by indiscretions in diet, loss of sleep, eyestrain, and any or all factors that will lower resistance. But no tie-up has been demonstrated with the gall bladder, for example. If the seizures appear often an effort should be made to locate the trigger element. While the bouts cannot be eliminated entirely, attention to reserve may lengthen the intervals.

Pain in the head is usually a reflex from some other part of the body. In these circumstances vessels within the brain are grossly dilated and blood pours through them with augmented force. By means of ice caps, cold compresses, and a drug which will contract these channels, relief may be obtained.

With 60 to 80 per cent of all patients the use of ergotamine tartrate [gynergen] will bring the greatest amount of comfort and many can be trusted to inject the drug themselves. The physician must graduate the dose carefully and make sure that it is used regularly. With some, taking the compound by mouth will be equally efficacious.

With not a few the incident will pass if sleep can be persuaded to encompass the patient with a blanket of unconsciousness. Toward this end one of the strong barbiturates, such as nembutal or sodium amytal, may be employed. If vomiting is persistent there is little to do but let it proceed. Enough water drinking should be encouraged so that the stomach will be thoroughly washed out; then let it alone. Food is not needed, at least for a while.

Recently it has been suggested that the inhalation of oxygen gas will be helpful and hospital experience with this procedure has proved its power. By means of a suitable mask, an hour or two of active oxygen therapy will banish the pain as well as the marked sense of depression which sometimes typifies these sieges. I have seen many patients who were apparently convinced that they were going to die, later they were perfectly willing to do so, and still later they were afraid they would not.

As far as is known there is no permanent effect upon general health. One may be obliged to absent himself from routine duties, but when the storm passes—other than a day or two of a washed out feeling—there are no noticeable reactions. Frequent attacks, however, call for the highest skill in medical management.

INFECTION MAY BE CAUSE.

A. E. S. writes: Does an unpleasantly sweet taste in the mouth, seeming to come from the stomach, indicate an acid condition? This occurs quite frequently, although I avoid sweets because of my slight acne.

REPLY.

Not necessarily. The symptom may be caused by a coated tongue, infections of the nose or throat, decayed teeth, etc. Observe thorough oral hygiene, avoid constipation, and follow a well balanced diet.

EPILEPSY.

S. D. T. writes:

1. Is it unusual for a woman of 40 to start having epileptic fits?
2. What should be done?

REPLY.

1. As a rule epilepsy appears more frequently before this age.
2. Treatment should be under the supervision of a competent physician.

We have a leaflet on this subject which will be sent on request accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CURE FOR SHINGLES.

E. H. writes: Is there a short cut to a cure for shingles?

REPLY.

COCKY BRITISHER STIRS HIM.

Chicago, July 13.—Before you decided to publish the article by L. G. Permuy of the Island of Trinidad you should have consulted the weather man. Not all of us have the comfort of air conditioned homes, and that plurge by Permuy would make the blood of the average American boil at 50 below, not to speak of what it did at 90 in the shade.

How a man with such an idea and the desire to express it ever became an "acting editor" is beyond me. "Acting damphool" would suit him much better.

His letter sounds like an implied threat, intimating as he does that the United States had better join up with England and France now—or else. And the alternative he offers us is nothing less than turning the whole world loose on us with a mandate over us to be given to the several powers of the old world, and where would we be then? He does not say just what disposition will be made of the 12 billion dollars due us by these same powers. We suppose he has that all arranged satisfactorily.

The writer can't peer into the future, but we have a sort of sneaking idea that when it is all over the old world powers will be minus some very important island possessions in this hemisphere and that the dominion of Canada would then be the republic of Canada instead. It is possible, of course, that a line of poles would be erected along both coasts of North and South America, set in cement, and that on these poles would be left hanging as a warning the remains of the poor deluded mortals who had the fantastic idea that they could conquer these two continents, and I might add that there would be no umbrellas over any of them.

Mr. Permuy, the vacillating attitude of the English government, and that alone, is to blame for the present predicament in which it now finds itself. We are certain no aid can be expected from this country. To paraphrase an old Indian saying common in this country: England fool America once, England to blame; England fool America twice, America to blame.

ROBERT R. HILLARD.

STATUS OF ITALY.

Chicago, July 14. — Your editorial, "Impoverished Italy," will terribly scare all those not used to reading similar catastrophic predictions in regard to Italy. Italy has been pronounced on her deathbed many times since the ascent of Mussolini and each prophecy was answered by the eloquence of new victories.

Italy may now be about to achieve another objective and the prophet of disaster may well calm his fears.

OTHER STREET NAMES CHANGED.

Chicago, July 14.—My dear TRIBUNE, where were you and your editorials when 12th street was changed to Roosevelt road, 22d street to Cermak, Robey to Damen, and 39th to Pershing road?

It didn't hurt business any on these streets when the change was made, did it? Of course not, so why should it hurt business on Pulaski road?

TED SZYMANSKI.

WAKE UP, HOMEOWNERS!

Chicago, July 13.—Wake up you homeowners! Let's all get together and swarm congress and get some action on distressed homes. The farmers organized and got the interest reduced on their loans. Why not we poor city families? Let's all write to congress and see what can be done. HOMEOWNER.

FOUND EVERYTHING "SWELL."

Chicago, July 14.—I was surprised at the complaint of "A Victim," who complained of the high prices of New York hotels.

I have just returned from a six week vacation in New York. I found fair prices at both hotels and eating places. My first two weeks was spent at a "swanky" Broadway hotel—$6 a day, and worth it, too. The room and service would please a millionaire. As my funds dwindled I moved to a $4 room, absolutely perfect in every detail. Dwindling funds forced me to a $2 a day room. This, too, was fine—radio, perfect service, adjoining bath with a wonderful shower, clean and worth double what I paid.

Finally, with $10 left and a week to go [I had a return ticket], I was forced to get a $1 a day room. This was in the outlying district, but was desirable, and included a sun porch.

As to the restaurants, they compare favorably with anything in Chicago, although at one place I was served with a fancy looking meat order, with a French name, which cost me $1.25. Later on I found it was cheap hamburger steak with all sorts of fancy dressing, but this place was notified to reform or close up.

When I was down to my last dollar I ate at the Automat. What a meal I got for two bits! And I never expect to find such wonderful coffee again as long as I live.

"Victim" evidently fell into one of those places which really do gyp people. Why not write the New York Chamber of Commerce? They will act immediately.

A WAY TO CONTROL VOTES.

Lansing, Ill., July 15.—Some of your articles don't discriminate between a pension and old age assistance. Old age assistance can be cut off at any time, while a pension is for life. I learn that the political machine in power does not want the millions now getting old age assistance put on a pension. Their argument is that the former can be cut off at any time, making it possible to control their votes, but if they are put on a pension they will be free to vote as they please, since a pension is for life. Several million votes are too much to lose just now when the President seems to itch for a third term. S. H. W.

COMES FAR; SEES GREAT SHOW.

Kirkwood, Mo., July 17.—I was fortunate enough to be able to attend the Police and Fire Thrill show held in Soldiers' field yesterday. I think such displays should not go without some comment from those who witnessed them.

The spirit and discipline indicated by the different stunts performed by the policemen and firemen were indeed an inspiration. All of the exhibitions were praiseworthy, but in my opinion the military drilling by both the policemen and firemen the early part of the afternoon stole the show.

I came a long way to see this show and hope I am able to do so again next year. FRANCIS MCNEARY.

WILL FINISH IT—AND US.

Chicago, July 15.—Why all the agitation against a third term for President Roosevelt? Is the country to be denied a continuation of his remarkable record just because of the anti-third term tradition?

Who else could keep 11 million people jobless for more than six years, dole them out just enough borrowed money to eke out a miserable existence, and still make them think he is their only friend?

In spite of the incompetence, waste, vote buying, and graft of the last six years the country still isn't bankrupt. In spite of punitive taxation, subsidized strikes, badgering and interference by incompetent, inexperienced nincompoops American business is not yet completely demoralized. In spite of keeping people out of real jobs, discouraging ambition and thrift while encouraging laziness and shiftlessness, there are many Americans who still maintain their self-respect and who are willing to do an honest day's work, so Mr. Roosevelt's job is not yet finished. Just give him another term and he will finish it—and us.

WORKING GIRL AND THE BOSS.

Chicago, July 14.—To "A Poor Working Girl" who is being annoyed by her employer I would suggest that perhaps the trouble lies with her.

I am 39 and have worked since I was 16 with time out for marriage and childbirth. I was married at 21 to one of my business associates; still married eighteen years later. I have always worked with men, some in large organizations, some in small ones, and, while "passes" have been made, I have found they are easily discouraged. I am not unattractive and believe that my business associates enjoy working with me because I am vitally interested in whatever position I hold, working to the best interests of organization and "boss."

The business man of today is too busy trying to make a living to be bothered with inefficient office help, the inevitable result of familiarity. As a business woman I have a great deal of respect for the average American business man.

Today's girl and woman can take care of herself in business. Respect yourself and you'll find your boss respects you, too. ANOTHER WORKING GIRL.

PLEADS FOR SURFACE LINES.

Chicago, July 13.—I see the city refuses the proposal for an 8 cent fare and rejects a valuation of 220 million dollars for the properties of the Chicago Surface Lines.

Why all the objection to an 8 cent fare? Will a cent more than the present fare put such a big crimp in the pocketbook of the average working man?

Give the surface lines the 8 cent fare they need to operate their business at a profit just as any other business has the right to do. Why allow big moneyed interests to buy our surface lines for a song and thereby enhance their already large fortunes, while the old stock and bond holders who received no dividends for years take a great loss?

DRIVER'S LICENSE.

Chicago, July 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please inform me [1] whether the driver's license law has been held to be constitutional in court. I am interested because I bought a new car two months ago but so far have had little use of it for the reason that [2] I have been refused a driver's license although I made application for one in April. How can a law be constitutional [3] if it discriminates and [4] if it deprives a man of the use of his property? R. G.

1. There has not been time for litigation, but we see no ground for serious question.
2. We could advise to better advantage if you had told us the grounds for the refusal.
3. It is not clear what discrimination you have in mind.
4. The right to use property is subordinate to the police power.

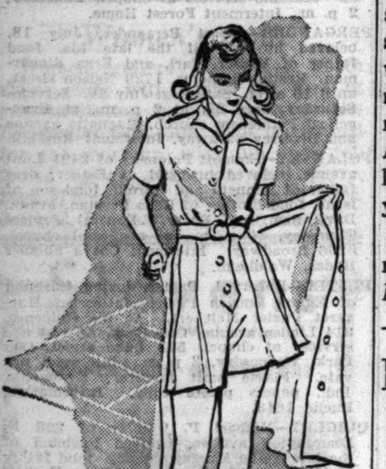
Go Giddy In Denims

You can go in for denims in the gorgeous, sun-swept colors of a summer garden. You can come out with all to match, or all as mixed and dashing as poppies with marigolds and larkspur. We've everything in denims . . . slacks, jackets, haltershorts, halteralls and such . . . at $2.25.

Then there are outfits in pilot cloth, exclusive with us in Chicago, and terrifically popular for land or sea. It's a blue herringbone weave, sturdy but light and deliciously cool. We've many, many types of sport pieces in pilot cloth. Prices are $2.25 to $4.50.



Classic sharkskin playsuit

You can go dazzling and glacial in a two-piece rayon sharkskin playsuit (illustrated above). It comes in white and pastels at $5.95, sizes 12 to 20, and is basic in dressing well for sports.

You accent pilot cloth or denims with the stripes or plaids of bright little cotton shirts. You can startle your public by appearing in cork-strung necklace and belt. And don't forget your fishnet scarf to wrap around your head or your neck or waist.

For Modern Mermaids

Dive sleek as a seal in a printed rayon lastex suit with bare midriff. Do a ballet of the waves in your flared pantie skirt that will stay down in the water. We've a collection in all the season's gay styles and fabrics for modern mermaids, at from $4 to $12.95.

Have fun all day in the mountains, the fields, the lakes . . . looking pretty every minute and knowing it. Sun Spot clothes do that for you! Sixth Floor, Middle, Wabash.

Don't Mind A Heat Wave—You CAN Keep Cool

When it's hot we like to say it's hot, and do something about it. Don't you? Next to sitting under a palm tree on a South Sea Island we like best to relax under Marshall Field's own Zephair Electric Fan. Have you ever tried it? It moves slowly—and with no noise—its plump, scooped blades sending cool breeze after breeze. You wonder how you ever did without it. Inexpensive, too . . . priced at $6.95.

Another summer pet is the versatile electric Whiz Mix . . . and whiz it is. On warm summer afternoons it will frappe special drinks for you quick-as-a-wink. It's a vegetable mixer liquefies and makes health drinks. And as a cocktail mixer—it's wonderful. So sturdy and strong, it mixes almost anything from batter to sandwich spreads. All—while you're resting in the cool, cool breeze of your Zephair fan! Whiz Mix is a joy—it costs $13.95.

If you could only cook—just once, and coolly—with an "Ever-Hot" Roasterette on a warm day . . . you'd never want to cook any other way. It's an electric gem that broils, boils, bakes, stews, fries or roasts. Holds six quarts without squeezing. You can pop a whole meal into it . . . and it cooks away merrily. (It's a nine-piece set at $8.95.) All the time, of course, you're still relaxing under the beautiful breeze of your Zephair fan.

All these cooling effects—and many, many more—are waiting for you in Household Utilities, Ninth Floor.

Don't Risk Your Precious Eyes!

How much are your eyes worth to you in dollars and cents? Probably as much as the national debt! And that is why we say, "Let Field's Fit Your Glasses." We know how valuable your eyesight is...we know how to help you keep your eyes functioning perfectly.

Only men with the finest training and highest degree of technical skill examine your eyes. The instruments used in making these tests embody all the latest scientific developments. Other precision instruments are used in the actual making of your glasses. And, in addition, only the finest grades of ground and polished lenses are used.

The frames, too, play an important part . . . they must fit perfectly and be comfortable to wear. Typical of the fine quality frame we use is the "Numont Loxit" (illustrated). It is the very latest style used in rimless glasses, inconspicuous and smart-looking. Because it requires only one hole in each lens, it gives you greater protection from breakage. Moreover, this frame is equally suitable for a woman or a man. This is but one of the many attractive styles from which you choose when you have your glasses fitted at Field's! Optical Section, First Floor, North, Wabash.

Glory In A Cool Tub With Charm Aids

Where do your thoughts turn wishfully when the thermometer plays oopsey-daisy with 100°? Ten-to-one it's the bathtub! There's nothing more cooling and refreshing than a leisurely tubbing on a hot, sticky day.

A bathtub au naturelle is one thing . . . but a tub filled with the golden-green waters of a Balneo Swiss Pine Bath is "bathtub supreme"! You'll feel like a queen after relaxing for about fifteen minutes in this delightful concoction. Then to stay cool after you get out of the tub, rub yourself lavishly with Balneo Swiss Pine Cologne. Its natural, woodsy smell is wonderfully invigorating. You get both the Pine Bath and matching cologne for only $1.50!

Bath salts, too, make bathing an extra-special pleasure—our Imported English bath salts are particular favorites. They're delightfully scented in pine, cologne, lavender, rose geranium or verbena fragrances—and they soften even the hardest water very effectively. The wooden containers make clever additions to your bathroom beauty shelf. They come in three sizes, at 95c, $1.65 and $2.55.

Practically necessary for the well-appointed bath or shower are Elizabeth Arden Velva Bath Mitts. They're soft pink bags filled with a rich, fragrant soap ingredient. Fitting into the palm of your hand, they set up a lather that is nothing short of miraculous! And they can be used again and again. Single ones are priced at 75c, while a box of three costs $2. Cosmetics Section, First Floor, North, State.

Paris Accents With Music

THE DRESS WITH THE POLONAISE JACKET

adapted from Balenciaga

Side panniers ripple over your hips subtly—emphasizing your pinched-in waist. Tiny enamel flowers in sentimental pink button you into this 1880 picture. Your skirt falls in gentle fullness, slightly longer, at the back. Town and cocktail dress of glossy black rayon Ottoman, rich-looking, heavily corded. 10 to 14. $35

Colorful Belts Give Fresh New Touches To Summer Outfits

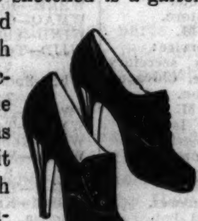
One of the quickest and easiest ways to rejuvenate a slightly jaded summer frock is to wear a clever, colorful belt. Field's have a sprightly collection of these smart pepper-uppers in as many colors as a bag of gumdrops. And they range from teeny-weenies no wider than your thumb to wide corselet styles that flatter tiny waists.

For spectator sports and street dresses there are several ingenious types of belts from which to choose. One of multicolored straw braid is especially fetching at $2.25. Another of white linen with brilliant little felt appliques may be tubbed repeatedly. It's a find at $1!

If you're a golf enthusiast you'll find a golf belt a really useful accessory. We have one of white hemp with a roomy pocket of leather for your change or gadgets, and another leather flap to hold your tees. This is $1.75. A similar style in natural pigskin is $3.50. Belt Section, First Floor, South, State.

Pug-Toed Shoes Set New Fashion

It's cute as a button and brand new, this little Pug-Toed Staccatoe. And whether you like it or not, and you will like it, we're sure of that, you're going to see a lot of these saucy, bumpy toes that look like the shiny pumpkin-colored numbers the Gibson Girls' beaux used to wear. It also has the new walled last that's so different, and, what's more, so delightfully comfortable.



The little shoe sketched is a gaiter pump of elasticized suede with high patent heel for accent to match the row of tiny buttons up the side. Put it on right now with your dark town-sheers and wear it later this fall with your very swankiest new dresses.

Staccatoes are known for their debonair gaiety, their fashion rightness and flattery. They make your foot look tiny and very feminine. This little gaiter is no exception—the new Pug toe creates an even greater illusion of smallness. You'll be seeing the Pug in all kinds of lasts later on. But why not be among the first to wear one of these adorable little shoes? This one is just $7.75, in the Staccatoe Shoe Room, Fifth Floor, North, Wabash.

Post-War Architecture

You'll enjoy this "National Exhibition of Representative Buildings of the Post-War Period." Photographs and plans show you buildings representative of the best work in all types of architecture since the World War. Selection has been made by the American Institute of Architects and is truly national in scope. The Chicago area is represented by a number of buildings, among them the Casino Club and the Adler Planetarium. Crystal Corridor, Seventh Floor.

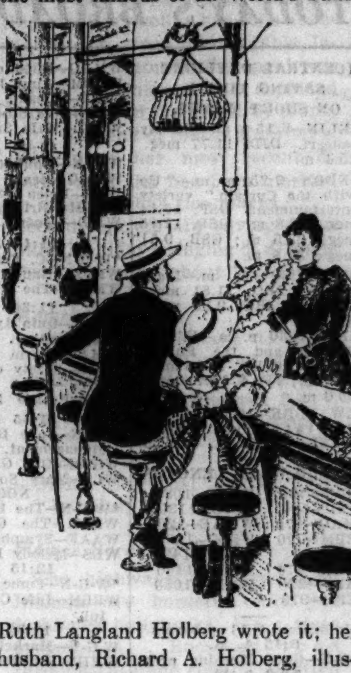
For Midsummer Fillip—"Something From Field's"

By the Editor Fashions of the Hour

Something to make a vacation all possible fun . . . to present to a week-end hostess . . . to please a child . . . to bring home as a memento of a trip to Chicago. You know how there's always an especial tingling delight to "something from Field's." Here are five suggestions that lead off into all sorts of possibilities.

Little Girl At Fair Of '93

Not So Long Ago is the sort of book you buy for a child—and then you both love it. It's a story of the gay '90s, and of Penny's wonderful trip to the most famous of all World's Fairs.



Ruth Langland Holberg wrote it; her husband, Richard A. Holberg, illustrated it. We've the original drawings on display, and have illustrated (above) our particular joy—the one showing our State Street aisle in 1893. Then, as now, nobody missed coming to Field's! The book is $1.75. Book Section, Third Floor, North, Wabash.

Play Bridge In The Wind

This is "what they've thought up next" for vacationing bridge fans who want to play out-of-doors—on the beach, in the boat—and naturally don't relish the idea of cards "gone with the wind!" It's a table cover of greenish-gray denim with pockets to hold the cards securely, yet keep them at hand for easy play. Also convenient for almost any other kind of card game. It's $2.50. Stationery Section, First Floor, North, Wabash.

Exciting New Racing Game

Just arrived in Chicago—All-American Handicap, the new parlor horse-race game! Take it along on your week-end, your vacation—it provides thrills aplenty. You put the special record on your phonograph, pick your horse, and hear him win—or lose. Odds indicator gives the price at the end of each race. The record has eight variations of a race including such famous champions as Seabiscuit and War Admiral. The set, $2.50. Adult Games, Fourth Floor, South, Wabash.

Midsummer Iridescence

Dawn colors shimmer through this exquisite necklace of feather-light imported composition. Cluster its flowers at the throat of summer sheers and cause a stir among fellow vacationers and home-towners. Or give it to a best-beloved hostess. Necklace, $4, in iridescent white, peach, or lavender with iris or peach. Other pieces in this dream-struck collection include bracelets and clips at $2 each. First Floor, South, Wabash.

Spice Ball Closet Sachet

For a gift that will delight, and flatter any hostess, choose this utterly refreshing spice ball sachet. She'll hang it in her closet, or place it among her lingerie, and bless you for thinking of it. The tangy blend of crushed flowers and rare spices retains its perfume long, long. And it's $1! Apricot color. Boudoir Shop, Third Floor, South, State.

"Good Books To Rent"

You can read the books every one is talking about this summer and do it as inexpensively as buying a few postage stamps. Come in and join our Rental Library. It's very quick and simple, with no deposit. We've thousands of volumes in our constantly changing collection—practically every new novel published and a large selection of non-fiction as well. Rentals are 3c per day for most novels, with a minimum charge of 10c; 5c per day for more expensive books, with a 15c minimum. Book Section, Third Floor, North, Wabash.

HAND-BLOCKED BATIK TURBANS

inspired by Javanese artisans

It all started in The Pageant of the Pacific on Treasure Island . . . caused by the ravishing batiks, the unusual twists and folds in the turbans worn by the "sunshade maker," the "sweetmeat seller," the "water carrier" from Java. You'll agree, they're the most striking and interesting turbans you've seen in ages. And they're wonderfully wearable, too! In a variety of styles and patterns; the hat sketched, $12.75.

DENTISTS HEAR WAGNER HEALTH BILLS ASSAILED

Urged to Fight Socialized Medicine Plan.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 18.—[Special.] The American Dental association in its eighty-first annual convention which opened here today heard two speakers assail the New Deal's socialized health program. Dr. Marcus L. Ward, Ann Arbor, Mich., president of the association, and Frank E. Gannett, Rochester, N. Y., newspaper publisher, criticized the program which is embodied in amendments offered by Senator Robert Wagner of New York to the social security law. An audience of 1,500 dentists applauded the criticisms and voiced their opposition to federal control and management of medical and dental service of the nation.

Health Not a Commodity.

The demands for changes in the health program, Dr. Ward said, were partly "unadulterated politics" and partly "promotional agitation of social service and weak public health workers."

"Suggestions that health service can be bought as commodities reveal defects in reasoning based on lack of knowledge of the services offered by medicine and dentistry," Dr. Ward said. "The Wagner bill is so vague as to permit almost any kind of activity. If medicine and dentistry are allowed to carry out their plans for a more general distribution of health service, there will be no need for legislation such as the Wagner bill except in the care of the indigent and in the prevention of disease."

Freedom Jeopardized.

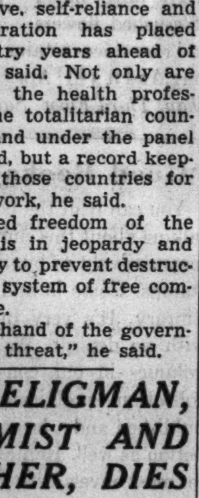
Private initiative, self-reliance and voluntary coöperation has placed American dentistry years ahead of Europe, Gannett said. Not only are the standards of the health professions lower in the totalitarian countries of Europe and under the panel system of England, but a record keeper is needed in those countries for every doctor at work, he said.

Gannett declared freedom of the professions now is in jeopardy and action is necessary to prevent destruction of the whole system of free competitive enterprise.

"The fumbling hand of the government is the chief threat," he said.

E. R. A. SELIGMAN, ECONOMIST AND TEACHER, DIES

Lake Placid, N. Y., July 18.—[Special.]—Dr. Edwin R. A. Seligman, teacher, adviser to governments and dean of American economists, died this afternoon at his summer home here. He was 78 years old. Dr. Seligman had been ill since last Thursday. Death was caused by coronary thrombosis.



Dr. Edwin Seligman.

At Dr. Seligman's bedside when he died were his daughter, Mrs. Carl Goldmark Jr. the former Miss Hazel Seligman, and his son, Eustace. Also surviving is his widow, formerly Miss Caroline Beer. Funeral services will be held at his son's home, here, on Thursday. Dr. John Elliott, of the Society for Ethical Culture, will officiate.

Son of Joseph Seligman, founder of the banking firm of J. & W. Seligman & Co., his teaching career began in 1885 at Columbia. He was expert to the league of nations committee on economics and finance in 1922.

SENATE PASSES CURB ON POWER OF BUROCRATS

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—Legislation designed to curb and control the powers of federal agencies that now exercise legislative and judicial powers was approved by the senate today and sent to the house.

The bill, sponsored by Senator M. M. Logan [D., Ky.], aims at standardization of regulations and court appeals from dozens of bureaus such as the interstate commerce commission, federal trade commission, wage and hour administration, national labor relations board, and others. Senators who sponsored the bill protested in the accompanying report that many of these agencies consider themselves above the statutes and show contemptuous disregard for both the congress and the courts.

The proposed restrictions, the senators added, were necessary unless "this country is to become first a parliamentary and then a totalitarian government with the states reduced to mere police provinces, and with both the legislative and judicial branches of this government dominated by the administrative agencies."

Former Movie Actress Dies of Auto Accident Injuries

Bloomington, Ill., July 18.—[Special.]—Mrs. Daisy Henry, 60 years old, of Hollywood, Cal., who worked in the movies under the name of Beth Roth, died today in a Bloomington hospital from injuries sustained July 10 in an automobile accident near Farmer City. Her last part was in a picture released in 1938.

JACOB H. TATSCH, MASONIC AUTHOR, DIES IN LONDON

LONDON, July 18.—(AP)—Jacob Hugo Tatsch, Masonic author of Boston, who was American delegate to the installation tomorrow of the duke of Kent as grand master of English Freemasonry, collapsed last night while proposing a dinner toast at the author's lodge and died. He was 51 years old and was born in Milwaukee. He was married to Harriet Hughes of Cedar Rapids, Ia. He served as a special agent of the army intelligence division in the world war and later attained the rank of lieutenant colonel in the reserve corps. In 1923 he became assistant secretary and assistant editor of the National Masonic Research society, Cedar Rapids.

Peoria Civil War Veteran, W. P. Railsback, Dies at 93

Peoria, Ill., July 18.—[Special.]—William P. Railsback, 93 years old, civil war veteran who enlisted in the Union army April 13, 1864, after two previous rejections because of his youth, died today. Twenty-three years ago Railsback retired from service with the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad with which he was an engineer for more than fifty years. He was commander of the Bryner post, G. A. R., from 1925 to 1929. Railsback was born in Wayne county, Indiana.

2 DENTISTS SUE TO NULLIFY JOB LIST OF COUNTY

A petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the county civil service commission to cancel its June 28 list of persons eligible for the position of county dentist was filed yesterday in Superior court on behalf of Dr. John S. Fafinski and Dr. LeRoy F. Maas, who failed to pass the examination.

The petition charges that fraud and political influence entered into the June 28 examination and asks that another be held. The list is to be used to fill eight dental positions in the children's clinic at the County hospital. Dr. Fafinski and Dr. Maas had been employed there.

Frank O'Malley, chief clerk for the civil service commission, yesterday said the examination was conducted in strict accordance with the law.

Fourth Victim Dies of Auto Crash Injuries

Clinton, Ia., July 18.—[Special.]—Selen Orrick, 28 years old, died early today, the fourth fatality in an automobile accident north of here Saturday night. Three others in the car, Charles Carter, 26, the driver; Arthur Fleming, 24, and Floyd Fulton, 22, were killed when the car plunged off the highway and rolled down an embankment. Orrick, helpless, lay for nine hours before he was found.

FRANK HARDING, SONG HIT KING OF '80S, DIES AT 75

New York, July 18.—[Special.]—Frank Harding, once a famous and wealthy song publisher whose ballads and ditties were popular in the eighties and nineties, died of a heart ailment in Bellevue hospital on Sunday at the age of 75. Living in a furnished room, he had been ill several months.

Some of his song hits sold 100,000 to 150,000 copies—a tremendous figure for those days. Among them were Harry Kennedy's "Molly and I and the Baby," "Patsy Brannigan," "Say Au Revoir but Not Good-bye," and Jim Thornton's "My Sweetheart's the Man in the Moon."

"Throw Him Down, McCloskey," by J. W. Kelly and sung by Maggie Cline, was published by Mr. Harding, as well as was "Down Went McGinty," by Joe Flynn.

CENSUS SYSTEM FOR '40 TO GET TEST IN INDIANA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—St. Joseph and Marshall counties in Indiana were selected today by Harry Hopkins, secretary of commerce, as proving grounds for the 1940 census.

A trial census of the two counties will be taken beginning Aug. 15 and will continue for two weeks. The trial, the first in 150 years of decennial census takings, was ordered to test new questions that will be included in the 1940 census.

The census bureau is eager to learn the reaction to the questions and determine how much they will delay the population count.

The New Deal is preparing to spend $45,000,000 on next year's census, which will put an army of Democrats to work in the presidential campaign year. At its peak the staf will number 157,500.

The United States' center of population as revealed by the 1930 census was Greene county, Ind.

HEADACHE STRAINS YOUR NERVES

A headache disturbs your nervous system. You feel nervous, grouchy . . . find it harder to concentrate. That's why headache is best treated with a remedy made to do at least 2 things . . . ease pain and calm your nerves. Bromo-Seltzer does both. Tests by a group of doctors have proved this. Keep it handy always. At drugstores—soda fountains.

New Shoes of the Season

Keep Your Feet Cool and Smart.

Shoe fashions for a cool and decorative summer are an interesting story of comfortable footgear for discriminating shoppers. And shoes are almost as important as hats . . . sometimes the slippers are as flippant as the millinery.

Air conditioned slippers are not only decorative, but the most popular buys in the shops. Heels are gracefully high, and flattering to foot and ankleline. Every imaginable material has been used for original slippers, sandals, and the newest rage of the summer season, tie oxfords. Peasant weave cottons, bits of bandana kerchiefs used for ties, checked gingham, pique and striped silks, all find a place in the new slippers. Even strands of raffia are woven together and made into amazingly comfortable and good looking summer slippers.

Old fashioned patterns of cane have been borrowed for mesh models, lovely lattice work effects and eyelet patterns have been effectively used in linens, soft kidskins, and even summer suedes with some eye filling results. Smart fashions are available at moderate prices.

As long as the temperature climbs, the most popular summer footgear will be the cut-out air conditioned easy to wear models that are current attractions all over town.

Comfort and style of the new shoes are shown in 1, mesh and leather daytime sandals; 2, play sandals of canvas-like cotton have platform soles; 3, tie oxfords of mesh and kidskin.

Women's Golf.

Women golfers of twelve north shore clubs will attend the first of two invitation parties today at the Edgewater Golf club. Golf is planned for the morning, with luncheon followed by an afternoon card party. Mrs. Thomas E. Sullivan and Mrs. John C. Brennan will be in charge.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen Roberts of New York and Chicago announce the engagement of their daughter Janice to Gail Woodruff Compton, son of Don Martin Compton of Chicago. Miss Roberts attended the Faulkner school in Chicago and Miss Porter's school at Farmington, Conn. Mr. Compton attended Phillips Exeter academy and was graduated from Dartmouth college.

The engagement of Miss Katherine Rebecca Young to John L. Carson of St. David's, Pa., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Young of 5332 Hyde Park boulevard.

Mrs. William V. Kelley Will Be Bride on Aug. 5

BY JUDITH CASS.

A MARRIAGE of interest to Chicagoans will take place on Aug. 5 in All Saints Episcopal church, Beverly Hills, Cal., when Mrs. William V. Kelley Jr., will become the bride of Edward Dickson Maltby. Mrs. Kelley, the former Marjorie O'Brien of Chicago, is the widow of the brother of Gordon, Phelps, and Russell Kelley of Lake Forest.

She and her two children, William III., and Barbara, have been living in Beverly Hills for several years. Mr. Maltby, also of Beverly Hills, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George L. Maltby, formerly of Jamestown, N. Y.

The wedding will take place at 4 o'clock with Dean Fleetwood officiating. Only the families, including the bride's father, Thomas B. O'Brien of Beverly Hills, will be present. Miss Joan Bennett of the film colony, who is to be Mrs. Kelley's only attendant, has invited about sixty close friends to a reception at her home following the service. Among them will be several former Chicagoans, including the Sydney Gardiners, the Watterson Rothackers of Westwood, the Harrison Lobdells of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Ruth Lobdell of Beverly Hills. Frederic Johnson of San Francisco will be Mr. Maltby's best man.

Among the parties planned for Mrs. Kelley and her fiancé are a dinner the Henry Kings will give in Los Angeles on the 25th, and one the Edmund Lowes of the movie colony will give Saturday night at their home in Westwood. The Rothackers and the Thomas Joyces are planning parties for after the wedding.

Mr. Maltby and his bride will make their home temporarily in her Beverly Hills house. They plan to build soon in nearby Bel-Air. They are planning a trip east late this fall, at which time they will visit Chicago.

Katherine Cowin Carr Bride of Yale Professor.

Her Chicago friends have learned of the marriage on Tuesday of last week of Mrs. Katherine Cowin Carr and Fred Rodell of New York and Wilton, Conn. Mrs. Rodell, the daughter of Mrs. Phister Cowin of Boston and Duxbury, Mass., lived in Chicago first as Miss Cowin and then as the bride of Robert Adams Carr, from whom she was divorced.

Mr. Rodell is a graduate of Haverford college and of the Yale law school and recently was appointed professor of law at Yale, where he had been a member of the faculty since 1933. The bride is a graduate of Dana Hall and of Vassar. She lived in South America for several years and her book, "South American Primer," was published this spring. She has been on the staff of Fortune magazine.

Mr. Rodell and his bride will live in New Haven.

Lake Geneva Flower Show Opens Aug. 11.

The 35th annual Lake Geneva Flower show, sponsored by the Lake Geneva Garden club, will be held Aug. 11 and 12. On those days Horticultural hall at Lake Geneva, Wis., will be transformed into a bower of beauty which thousands will come to see.

Mrs. Arthur W. Wakeley, who is general chairman of the show, probably will announce her committees at a meeting of the club today at Black Point, the home of Mrs. Henry Bartholomay and of Mrs. Otto L. Schmidt.

Today's meeting promises to be an interesting one for another reason. Instead of having a guest speaker, there will be a tour of some of Lake Geneva's gardens, conducted by Dr. O. D. Frank, ecologist at the University of Chicago, who is director of the Geneva Lake Summer School of Natural Science.

The Garden club has been invited to attend two other meetings of the science class during the week, one tomorrow night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garret W. McKee, the other on Saturday night at the home of the Hubbard Carpenters. John V. Beatty, the naturalist, will speak at the McKees'.

Cicadæ, the seventeen year locusts, will be the subject of an illustrated lecture in the large Carpenter living room. Alton S. Windsor, entomologist, will be the speaker.

William P. Wisemans are Parents of Son.

Mr. and Mrs. William Parr Wiseman [Mary Louise Fenton Horton] are being congratulated on the birth of a son, William Fenton, on Sunday at St. Luke's hospital. The baby was named for his father and grandfather, Howard W. Fenton, and also for his paternal great-grandfather, who was William Fenton. Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman have a 9 year old son, Charles Philip.

Guest at Debut Festivities

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

If you've been absorbing even a little bit of sun this summer you must take pains to see that your powder shade is right. Your skin tint, you see, is not what it used to be, and even though it's darkened only a trifle, the powder shade you used when you were lily-fair all winter will be just light enough to look wrong.

Our own idea is that skins are not nearly as light in tone as we women fondly imagine them to be. You can camouflage skin tone with a foundation, but if you're one who rarely uses a base it's imperative that your powder shade be the exact tone of the skin. Or, if not exact, let it be just a smidge darker rather than the very faintest tone lighter.

Powder that is too light looks obvious. And the perfect powder for your skin is the one that the onlookers are never conscious of. In texture and in shade it should be so completely right that it looks like a natural rather than an artificial complexion finish.

You can have powders blended. It's fun to watch the experts do this—and it's an eye opener. Small amounts of green, yellow, white or even orchid powder are often added to the cream colored base to make the tone that matches your own complexion. Or you can blend powder yourself. You won't do such a perfect job, but very often it's only by blending that you can achieve a flattering tone.

One good plan, and an economical one, is to blend a bit of darker powder with your usual one as summer progresses. Fuss with it in small amounts until you get the shade you want. Apply your new powder under a merciless light—and keep darkening it or graying it until it ceases to be obvious against your skin.

Cheers Greet Edith Mason at Grant Park

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Edith Mason's appearance at the lake front band shell last night resulted in one of those emotional Grant park evenings. We hung on the soprano's slightest word, shouted and clapped for more, and yelled "Bravo" and "Brava" indiscriminately.

To the accompaniment of the Chicago City Opera orchestra under Dino Bigalli, the much liked soprano sang airs from "The Marriage of Figaro," "I Pagliacci," "Madame Butterfly," "La Bohême," and "Andrea Chenier." Also songs like "Mighty Lak a Rose" and "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms." For "The Little Irish Girl" Mr. Bigalli forsook his baton for the piano bench and quite belied his name by the Hibernian archness which he put into the accompaniment.

Miss Mason's great endowment—her ability to fill her music with feeling without ever allowing too undisciplined a surge of emotion to wrench her phrases out of the fastidious shapes which her taste demands—was movingly in evidence. "Mamma Morta" from "Andrea," for instance, churned the audience mightily because of the immediacy and the power of the singer's utterance—yet it remained music, rather than declamation, from first note to last.

The luminous Mason voice was on display through a good part of the evening, although some items [notably the Mozart] became a little matter-of-fact sounding. The dainty Mason legato had a way of disappearing once in a while, too.

The purely instrumental parts of the program were of little interest. A lot of doubtful music was played in an unloving way.

To next Saturday evening's Ravinia program has been added the first performance anywhere of the "Fantasy for String Orchestra," by Howard Hanson of Rochester, N. Y. The work was commissioned by the Ravinia festival. Dr. Hanson will conduct the première.

Ask Funds for Annual Orphans' Auto Day Outing

John P. Keating, president of the Orphans' Automobile Day association, yesterday appealed for funds to finance the organization's annual outing to be held in Lincoln park on Aug. 16. The plan is to entertain 5,000 orphans and aged persons from forty-two institutions, and the estimated cost is $5,000. Keating said that donations should be sent to Edward L. Cleary, secretary, at 307 North Michigan avenue.

He seemed a part of the ancient and holy surroundings in his brown robe, capuche, and sandals. When Mr. Richards signed the register the monk's eye lighted and he grasped his hand.

"Chicago," he exclaimed. "I was born back o' the yards and haven't been back since the fire."

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Jayne Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frazier Snyder of Wheaton, to Walter Haverly Damon Jr. will take place on Saturday night at the Gary Memorial Methodist church in Wheaton. Miss Snyder, who was graduated this June from Smith college, is a great granddaughter of Jesse C. Wheaton, founder of the city. The prenuptial breakfast will be held today in his ancestral home. Mr. Damon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Damon of Wheaton, attended the University of Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Cox of 7141 Eggleston avenue announce the marriage on July 1 of their daughter Virginia Alice to Robert Harold Kaeding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Kaeding of 341 Englewood avenue. Mr. Kaeding is a graduate of the Chicago Teacher's college. His bride was graduated from MacMurray college.

THE TRIBUNE TRAVELERS' GUIDE

ESCORTED TOURS

TOURIST CARRIED BACK 1,300 YEARS BY MAYAN RUINS

Chichen Itza and Uxmal Have Chief Groups.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MERIDA, Yucatan, Mexico.—The peninsula of Yucatan, which includes the states of Yucatan, Campeche and Quintana Roo and is about the size of Illinois, is 600 miles south of New Orleans, the same distance east of Mexico City and only about 500 miles west of Havana.

The land approaches to Yucatan are through wild country, consequently there are no international railways or highways leading to Merida. Weekly steamers call at Progreso, Yucatan's chief port, 25 miles north of Merida. More convenient is the daily air service between Mexico City, Merida and Havana.

On the seven hour flight from Mexico City to Merida the transport plane must rise to 12,000 feet to clear the mountainous rim of the Mexico City basin. Then below one sees many small towns and settlements set in the green countryside and the winding road which Gen. Winfield Scott traveled with the American army in 1847 from Vera Cruz to Mexico City. The plane stops at Vera Cruz; at Medellin, the oyster port; at Minatitlan, the oil town; at Hermosa, Carmen and Campeche.

Descendants of Mayans.

The Yucatanians are descendants of the Mayans, and, being isolated from the rest of Mexico, they seem a different race of people. Their huts are more substantial and neater than those of the peons of central and northern Mexico. The dress of both men and women is conspicuously clean. Gun toting, so frequently observed in other parts of Mexico, is not seen in Yucatan.

Local roads and railroads radiate from Merida across the sandy coastal plain of Yucatan, but come to dead ends in the dense growth of the interior. Drouths are frequent and on the henequen [sisal hemp] lands of the plain there are 14,000 windmills.

In the southern region there are virgin forests and stretches of land suitable for agriculture. This section is the home of the famous Yucatan turkey. Hunting is good in the forests and one finds jaguar, wild boar, deer, mountain lions, doves and quail. The doves and quail are smaller than our American species.

Temples of the Mayans.

Two of the roads from Merida lead to the famous Mayan ruins. The less important group of these remarkably well preserved, massive rock structures is at Uxmal, 50 miles south of Merida on a gravel road.

The Uxmal ruins cover an area of about two square miles enclosed in the jungle. There are other ruins nearby, but as yet no roads have been built to them or clearings made. The largest and best prerserved structure at Uxmal is the house of governors which stands atop a commanding hill. Terraces lead up the hill.

The structure covers an area about 300 feet long and 40 feet wide. Its single story has twenty-four rooms. The walls are made of 20,000 individually hewn rocks. The ornaments and carved stone are impressive. Two other imposing works are the temple and nunnery. On a pyramid rising 100 feet above a 150 foot square base, the high priest had his seat. The nunnery is a quadrangular building about 200 feet by 400 and has a richly decorated patio.

Older at Chichen Itza.

There are no tourist accommodations at Uxmal, but there is a neat little tourist hotel, cottages and guide service at Chichen Itza, which is 80 miles southeast of Merida on another road. The Chichen Itza ruins occupy about four square miles of cleared jungle land and include some 200 different buildings. They are believed to be about 300 years older than those at Uxmal. They are the structures of a Mayan civilization that flourished about 600 A. D.

At Chichen Itza the most notable structure is a pyramid and temple. Flights of 100 steps, 30 feet wide, lead to the top on each of the four sides.

Nearby is a rectangular stadium called the ball court. Its upper walls are known as the temple of tigers. The flat turf center field is 500 feet long and 140 feet wide. Two large stone rings extend toward the field. They are said to have been baskets for ball contests. Engraving on the stones indicates that the losing teams had their heads cut off.

Temple of Warriors.

In another area are the Temple of the Warriors and the Group of the Thousand columns. The columns, of many shapes and sizes, but most of them round and about 10 feet high, surround a central plaza of about five acres.

Farther away is an observatory shaped much like those of today. The main part is crumbling, but the dome is still standing. The most impressive feature of the ruins is the detail of the architecture and stone carvings. Remarkable likenesses of humans, animals and symbols are carved in small rocks to the minutest detail.

Ancient Temple of a Forgotten Religion

Sanctuary for Wild Life Established in Leidy Lake

Mendon, Mich., July 18.—[Special.]—A part of Leidy lake, near here, has been established as a wild life sanctuary. The lake long has been known as a gathering place for Canada geese. Flocks sometimes numbering 6,000 or more attract tourists each spring.

PIGEON HILL, OLD DUNE LANDMARK, IS BEING LEVELED

Muskegon, Mich., July 18.—[Special.]—Pigeon hill, sand dune landmark for resorters and yachtsmen who frequent this section, is about to follow its namesake, the passenger pigeon, into extinction.

The hill got its name from the fact that it was the meeting place for market hunters in the days when the passenger pigeons darkened the skies around here. Probably millions of birds were trapped on the dune.

Now the hill is being torn down for the sand in it.

Ottawa Indians to Choose Queen as Festival Ruler

Harbor Springs, Mich., July 18.—[Special.]—Ottawa Indians of this region will have a princess of their own choice next Sunday. She will rule over the naming ceremonial and festival. She must be unmarried, between 17 and 25 years old, and be at least one-fourth Indian.

CHICAGO ANGLERS FIND BIG MUSKIES LUNGING AT LURE

Bass, Pike Catches Also Large in North Woods.

BY BOB BECKER.

Vacationists from Chicagoland who stress the importance of a fishing outfit on their trips into the north woods are sending back encouraging reports about the muskellunge, black bass, and wall-eye pike that have been tricked by lures. From many parts of northern Wisconsin come snappy stories, substantiated, in some instances, by boxes of iced fish.

In spite of 15.9 inches of June rain in the Manitowish waters, the anglers have been making nice catches of pike and muskies in recent weeks.

Chicagoan Gets 29 Pounder.

Harry Joseph of Chicago landed one of the largest muskies caught so far this year. It weighed 29½ pounds. To Frank Klumpp of Kenosha goes the honors for one of the largest wall-eyes taken from the Manitowish chain of lakes. It weighed 11¾ pounds. One of the luckiest Chicago fishermen to visit the Manitowish region this month is Dr. Carroll Eugene Cook. In one day he hooked eight legal muskies, including one which weighed 15 pounds. Clear, Island, and Spider lakes have been producing a number of limits of pike.

Chicagoans who have been tossing their lures in Sayner and Lost lakes also report progress in their efforts to fool the big ones. M. F. Peters, 4056 Palmer street, found wall-eyes that weighed up to 8 pounds and made some dandy catches of black bass, topped by one weighing 4½ pounds.

Woman Lands Big Muskie.

Just to show the men that the women can catch fish, too, Mrs. Florence Knackstadt of Deerfield, Ill., visited Found lake and proceeded to hook and land a 15 pound muskie in the course of an afternoon's sport.

In the Eagle river country more Chicagoland anglers are getting their names on the honor roll. Among them are N. Gregerson, who caught a 20 pound 3 ounce muskie in Dam lake, and Henry Koback of Cary, Ill., who landed a 26 pounder in Scattering Rice lake in the Eagle river section.

Lucky are the fishermen who have to quit with a limit before the day is over. W. L. and John Lamey of Chicago are in this class. In the Lac du Flambeau Indian reservation country near Minocqua and Woodruff they had to stop on each of several days. H. J. Jann was another who succeeded there. Fishing with Alex Bobidash, the Indian guide who has the most musical name on the whole reservation, he caught limits of wall-eyes and bass.

Other Lakes Furnish Sport.

Gunlock, Fence, Shishebogema, Crawling Stone, and other lakes in the Flambeau area are turning up some fine strings of wall-eyes and muskies. Swamp lake is the bass feeding grounds usually visited.

Michigan fishermen also wear a satisfied look. The deep trolling for lake trout in Grand Traverse bay is improving. Inland lakes of Grand Traverse, Leelanu Benize, Manistee, and Exford counties are producing some large bass. The night fishing for brown trout in the Boardman river has been fair.

Midsummer Regatta Is Set for Aug. 13 in Biscayne Bay

Miami, Fla., July 18.—[Special.]—Sailing interest in the southeast will center on Miami next month, when the eighth annual midsummer regatta is held under the auspices of the Florida Sailing association. The races are scheduled for Aug. 13 over the Miramar course in Biscayne bay.

HORSE AND BUGGY AGE LIVES ON AT MACKINAC ISLAND

Quiet Attracts Thousands of Vacationers.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

In the western hemisphere there are at least two islands still living in the horse and buggy age. They are Bermuda, forty hours out of New York, and Mackinac, a few hours out of Chicago. Both are in the horse and buggy age by preference. Tourist trade is virtually their only business, and the islands' chief appeal to the travelers—aside from scenic attractions—is their lack of autos and their consequent peace and quiet.

Because of the ease with which it is reached, Mackinac each summer plays host to many thousands of midwesterners. Great Lakes cruise steamers leave Chicago for the island every few days; railroads, motor coaches, and private yachts and autos take care of the rest of the trafic.

Autos Stop on Mainland.

But the trains, buses, and cars are not allowed to penetrate the playground. They pause on the Michigan mainland; their passengers are taken to the island by ferry boat. Once there, the visitors find that their only means of travel is by carriage, by bicycle, or on foot.

The island lies in the Straits of Mackinac, near the northern end of Lake Huron and between Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas. It is about four miles long and three miles wide. Some 1,700 of its 2,200 acres have been set aside as a state park; the rest is privately owned. Ferry boats ply to it from both Mackinaw City and St. Ignace.

Part of Mackinac's drawing power comes from the fact that it has a history of more than three hundred years. Jean Nicolet, sent out from Quebec by Champlain to discover a passage to Cathay, landed there in 1634. Pere Marquette is believed to have followed him in 1670. In 1780, just before the end of the American revolution, Fort Mackinac was moved to the island from the mainland. Today it is one of this country's oldest standing battlements.

Once Called Michilimackinac.

The island once was handicapped with the name of Michilimackinac, but there is no record of what that title meant. Some experts believe it meant great turtle to the Indians; others say it stood for great spirits. The Indians revered the turtle, which to them was symbolical of the earth.

In his "Early Mackinac" Meade C. Williams writes: "The fancied physical resemblance of the island could easily work in with their [the Indians'] mythical idea of the turtle, apart from its having any etymological connection. Thus, whatever way the name is studied, it becomes associated with some Indian conception of spirit." Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, an authority on the language, said that the original title was even more jaw-breaking — Mishiminaukinong — and that it meant the place of the great dancing spirits.

Arch Rock Remarkable.

Besides Fort Mackinac, there are many places of historic and scenic interest. Arch rock, a remarkable formation on the east end of the island, was carved by the action of the water for thousands of years. Its top is nearly 150 feet above the water level, and the arch spans a distance of about 50 feet.

Astor house once was used as an office and warehouse of the American Fur company, organized by John Jacob Astor in 1809. The Grand hotel, named by Mark Twain and standing above an old Indian burial ground, boasts of the longest verandah in the world.

There is an outer boulevard, nine miles long, around the island. Some of the roads follow trails established by the Indians and early Frenchmen. The plateau is thickly wooded with cedar, birch, and balsam.

Four years ago Mackinac had a minor crisis. A radio operator tried to operate an auto there. He was arrested, tried, and convicted. He appealed to a higher court, but was overruled. The courts decreed that the island must be preserved to keep its old world atmosphere and must be preserved forever as a playground of the people.

Travel Queries Answered

[What's your travel problem? Address queries regarding where to go, how to get there, costs, and accommodations to the Travelers' Guide, Chicago Tribune, inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.]

How long is the San Francisco fair to remain open? L. F.

Please give me the dates of this year's Cascades festival at Jackson, Mich. W. M.

Aug. 12 to 19.

In the highlands of Arkansas and Oklahoma. Its area of nearly two and a half million acres embraces most of the Ouachita and Kiamichi mountains between the Arkansas river and the southern coastal plain.

In THE TRIBUNE's travel pages I have often noticed reference to national "monuments" as well as national parks. What is the meaning of the term? S. R. G.

In the sense employed by the national park service, the word is believed to have first received that interpretation by Baron Alexander von Humboldt, scientist and explorer. In describing certain natural features in Brazil, he made reference to monuments de la nature, or natural monuments. At the present time seventy-eight areas are classified as monuments in the national park system. Many of them—notably those in the southwest—are prehistoric in their significance; others, such as those at Fort Laramie, Wyo.; Scotts Bluff, Neb., and Fort Marion, Fla., commemorate events or periods in the country's history.

How did the Gaspe country in Canada gets its name? A. K.

It was named by Jacques Cartier when, more than four hundred years ago, he was forced by a storm to take refuge in the then unknown bay. Gaspe was the title given his landing place.

Where can I get detailed information about the vacation resorts in New York state? F. H.

Write the Bureau of State Publicity, Conservation Department, Albany, N. Y.

I have been told that a cottage which served as a hideaway for Emperor Maximilian and Empress Carlotta of Mexico is to be restored. Just where is it? S. D. R.

At Acapacingo. In contrast to the royal splendor of the former Mexican court, the tiny cottage is simple and unpretentious. It is to be restored and its gardens replanted as a memorial to Maximilian.

INITIALS CARVED IN BASINS AROUSE PARK OFFICIALS

Yellowstone Park, Wyo., July 18.—[Special.]—Park authorities do not mind if overly ambitious persons leave their footprints in the sands of time, but when these persons leave their initials on the sands of Yellowstone's geyser basins the officials don't like it.

An orgy of name writing on delicate algae formations in the hot springs and geyser areas has set in this summer. The publicity seekers, says Supt. Edmund B. Rogers, are not content to carve their initials. They are writing out their whole names—in billboard proportions.

The situation came to a head recently when two high school boys were taken before the United States commissioner in Mammoth Hot Springs and fined for defacing the basins. They had filled a space 5 feet high and 19 feet wide with their signatures.

WESTERN RAILROADS REPORT INCREASE IN PASSENGER BUSINESS

Passenger business on the western railroads this season has greatly exceeded figures for the corresponding period in 1938. This was announced yesterday by Hugh W. Siddall, chairman of the transcontinental Passenger association.

"In May and June of this year," Siddall said, "the ticket validations in San Francisco were 50 per cent above those of a year ago. While this applies to the focal point of western travel interest, other points throughout the west have been showing similar increases."

Business on the all-expense tours has seen a material gain. As many as 3,000 persons have taken such tours in one week. The majority of these have gone to the Pacific coast but the national parks, Alaska, and Mexico also have received a heavy share of the patronage.

LINERS PLYING LAKES PROVIDE VARIED CRUISES

Trips Appeal to Travelers with Limited Funds.

Chicagoans do not have to go to Atlantic or Pacific seaports before starting summer cruises. All they have to do is grab a taxi or a street car for Navy pier. There they can board steamers for cruises of America's inland seas.

One of the Great Lakes lines this year is operating two ships out of Chicago to Mackinac Island, Georgian bay, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls. Each trip calls for seven days of sailing and sightseeing. Each is 2,200 miles long. Departures are made every Wednesday and Saturday.

Another company is running a large ship over a similar itinerary, but with a call at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., instead of the Georgian bay ports. Fourteen hours are spent at Mackinac Island. There is a sailing each Friday night, with the return set for the following Friday morning.

Nightly Dance Cruises.

A third line is sending a ship daily across Lake Michigan to Benton Harbor, St. Joseph, and South Haven, and another vessel daily to Milwaukee. Dance cruises are held nightly.

Farther east still another company has a sailing each evening from Detroit for Cleveland, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls. Connections with Chicago are by rail.

Also leaving from Detroit are one company's cruises to Niagara Falls, Toronto, the Thousand Islands, Montreal, Quebec, Murray bay, Tadoussac, and the Saguenay river.

A sixth line has cruises, each lasting eleven days, from Montreal to Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, Labrador, Gaspe, Murray bay, the Saguenay, and Quebec.

All on Protected Waters.

All the cruises, on both the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence river, are on protected waters. They are designed to appeal to travelers with limited time and medium size pocketbooks at their disposal. While not as elaborate as the world cruises, neither are they anywhere near as expensive.

This year, with many midwesterners going east for the New York World's Fair and other attractions, the journey combining travel by land and sea is drawing a wider response than usual, and the ports visited en route are among the most interesting places in North America.

For the names of the steamship companies operating these cruises, or any further information concerning them, call the Tribune Travel bureau at Superior 0200, local 707, or write to the bureau at 1 South Dearborn street, Chicago.

FINDS OLD FAITHFUL ONLY A YOUNGSTER AMONG THE GEYSERS

Yellowstone Park, Wyo., July 18.—[Special.]—Old Faithful, Yellowstone's best known geyser, isn't the venerable graybeard that scientists have always believed it to be. Studies by Dr. C. Max Bauer, park naturalist, indicate that it is a comparative youngster.

Until Dr. Bauer and his associates gave the cone a thorough examination recently, the most reliable estimates had placed the geyser's age at 10,000 years or more. But the new evidence tends to show that some 9,800 years will have to be lopped off that figure. For Old Faithful has been an active spouter for not more than 200 years.

Dr. Bauer says that Giant and Castle, on the other hand, have been erupting for several thousand years, and that several other Yellowstone geysers have been active for at least a thousand.

But, whether it celebrates its birthday with 200 candles or 10,000, Old Faithful still draws the crowds when, at 66 minute intervals, it disgorges its 10,000 to 12,000 gallons of boiling water in a column 150 feet high.

See the ADIRONDACKS

Drive to the roofpeak of the Adirondacks—nearly a mile in the sky—over the famous Whiteface Mountain Veterans' Memorial Highway. Count 60 lakes, including Placid, Champlain, Ontario, the Saranacs and Tuppers. See the verdant slopes of the Green Mountains, the hazy outlines of the White Hills. Look down on the valley of the St. Lawrence, the far-spreading landscape of Canada and five American states.

MAYBE you'll never get the chance again to see the wild and romantic beauty of the Adirondacks. Maybe this will be your only opportunity to ride over historic roads that reach back to the beginnings of this nation. So—on your way to and from the World's Fair—seize the chance of your life-time to travel through New York State!

See 50,000 square miles of mountain, lake and river country . . . with an incredibly lovely shoreline washed by the blue waters of Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, Lake Champlain and the Atlantic. Ride through America's second largest forest preserve. Talk with Iroquois Indians, the most famous warriors of the Red Men. Revel in the beauty of the Finger Lakes, the historic Mohawk, the majestic Hudson. Visit West Point, Sleepy Hollow, Rip van Winkle's bowling alley. And hear the roar of Eternity in the thundering voice of Niagara.

New York State is too big to be seen casually. You must pick your way—choose the spots that interest you most. That is why the Bureau of State Publicity has prepared a special World's Fair folder to help you. It is filled with maps and pictures, enabling you to select picturesque through trips, or glamorously beautiful side excursions. Write for the folder now—it's free.

Good-bye To Vienna

By Olga L. Rosmanith

(Copyright: 1939: By News Syndicate Company, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

An American girl and her Viennese sweetheart, Franz Gruenwald, in a café in Vienna hear a radio announcement of Hitler's entry into Austria. The girl, Marian Taylor, has been staying in Franz's home, studying voice. Franz fears for his foster father, Prof. von Plasy, author of a recent anti-Nazi book. He refuses to flee the country and leave his wife, Gisela, and son, Johann, who has the mind of a child. Leopoldine, a pro-Nazi woman surgeon, in love with Franz, warns him to send the American girl home. Von Plasy is taken off to jail to die from shock. In order to take Gisela's money out of the country to deliver to her friend, Herr Wiedermann, in Riga, Marian invests it in rare stamps. Herr Speyer, the stamp merchant, guesses her purpose, but is sympathetic and asks her to deliver a picture to a friend of his in Riga, a Mme. Lonska. Franz loses his job. When Leopoldine secures one for him he accepts it for the sake of his dependents. In Riga Marian learns Herr Wiedermann is in love with Gisela and wants to arrange for her and Johann to come there. Mme. Lonska, she discovers, is a spy and that the picture from Herr Speyer was a message in code. Marian returns to Vienna. Franz persuades Gisela to go to Riga and leave Johann until a passport can be got for him. Franz spurns Leopoldine's offer to be his mistress. Next day Franz is seized by the Gestapo. Leopoldine's brother, Karl, a Storm Trooper, intrigued by Marian's beauty, helps Johann obtain a passport. Marian accepts Karl's invitation to dinner.

INSTALMENT XXXIII.

SUSPICIONED KINDNESS.

He said "things are very confused in the city just now. Departments overlap and individual cases get overlooked in the general pressure of events, but I'll make inquiries personally about Franz and let you know."

"Soon?"

"Immediately. Why should they leave you consumed with anxiety and suspense? I'll find out what I can tomorrow."

Marian's eyes were surprised. "Really? O, you are kind."

He was a little bemused with wine now and hot with his desire for her. He did not see the perplexity—almost suspicion—in her eyes. "You will not discuss this with your sister?" she added.

"No. That's a promise. Of course not. Are you rested now? Will you dance?"

She would do almost anything for him in return for his surprising willingness to help them. She rose smiling, and danced on almost in a trance till the orchestra gave up. By this time Karl Steinweg was so violently in love with her he could hardly bear to part with her at the door of the apartment in the Reichstratstrasse. The ubiquitous hausmeister hopped out of bed when he heard the jangle of his warning bell as the outer door opened. He slipped his rusty overcoat over his dangling nightshirt and went down to see who was coming in. Karl knew a mad moment of anger—an impulse to kick the interfering old man back up the stairs—and not do it too gently.

He drew a deep quick breath, raised Marian's hand and pressed it fiercely against his lips communicating his violent new passion for her—glared at the self-appointed chaperon standing behind her, jumped into the big black car and was gone.

Marian was too tired to sleep. Although the big apartment was now almost empty, she was still in her narrow slice of bedroom whose window faced the view of the quadrigas on the parliament roof galloping eternally against the sky.

Her healthy body was merely pleasantly fatigued with the long hours of dancing, but her mind was exhausted. Nevertheless it continued its weary treadmill of how to communicate with Franz. The hope which Karl had raised now sank again.

She would go and talk to that nice helpful breezy official at the American consulate in the morning. He had seen Franz and liked him.

She saw the first ashy red stain of coming sunrise flow up behind the Hofburg silhouetting the noble eagle crowned sweep of roof in a black splendid skyline. She stood watching the colors change till the first silver of blazing gold appeared and it was another full born summer morning. It calmed her tingling nerves. The wholesome daylight dissipated the terrors she had been imagining in the night and restored the courage that went with the necessity for action.

She had written to Gisela the day before telling her the good news about Johann, but a letter going astray in the present hectic condition of the mail service was more than a possibility. She walked round to the back of the Palace of Justice and sent a telegram from the post office before she got into the street car for the Schwarzenbergplatz. After that it was only a short walk down the Rennweg and round a corner to the consulate.

The kindly official disappointed her. Not because he told her promptly that he could do nothing to help—she had expected that. But because he advised her quite seriously to keep out of it herself. "You won't hasten his liberation, you see," he explained reasonably, "but you may arouse antagonism and make things more difficult than they are now."

Marian bit her lower lip, but when she spoke her voice was steady. "Then you don't know where I ought to go next to ask for news of him?"

"Frankly, I don't. You've been to Herr Buerckel's office. I don't know if I'd tell you if I did. Don't you realize I am advising you to sit tight and have nothing to do with these people?"

The official pushed his chair back and stood up. "Listen, Miss Taylor, I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll try and find out something through certain friends. I can't promise any results. In the meantime will you lie low—for a day or two anyway—to please me?"

"Yes, I will. I mean until I hear from you if you don't forget me and keep me waiting too long. And thank you very much."

He opened the door for her. His ante-room was still blocked with anxious watchful people. "Don't worry, I won't forget you."

After leaving the consulate Marian walked to a winding street off the busy thoroughfare of the Mariahilferstrasse. Here was the tiny shop where she had bought large quantities of second hand music at absurd prices and yet in beautifully preserved condition. The shop was kept by an ex-concert violinist who had been too badly wounded in the war to continue his profession. He had been in prison for weeks now and Marian called in every few days for news and to cheer up his wife.

She was startled this morning to see the man himself behind the counter. "Why Herr Lueger, of all things wonderful!"

But the genial, friendly violinist had changed. He looked round furtively before speaking, and even while he spoke his eyes were continually on the door leading from the street. He spoke in little more than a whisper as if he dared not raise his voice.

"Yes, isn't it? I am very glad to be home again."

Marian affected not to notice the radical change in his manner. She perched herself on the stool before the counter and turned over the pages of some newly acquired music. This man could tell her at least one of the things she wanted to know.

"How glad your wife must be—she was very brave about it."

"Yes—yes—she told me how kind you were, always dropping in to see her. If you like that beautiful score—see the lovely old binding, they respected music in those days—I will give it to you. I would enjoy giving it to you. We will be going away soon and you have been such a good friend."

It was the vocal score of Tristan and Isolde bound in limp blue leather—the last opera she had attended with Franz. It was like a sign. She wanted it even while she refused it not too firmly.

"No, I couldn't take it—really. But I like it. Let me buy it from you. Tell me, what did they take you into prison for?"

"Just talk. I belonged to a club where we were fond of talking—rearranging the world like smoking room talkers do. But there were some alien ears in that club biding their time. They denounced us."

"I see. Where did they take you to?"

"Fräulein, I can't tell you. You are not let out unless you undertake not to talk."

"Very well, Herr Lueger, I won't ask you. But could you tell me where a person would be likely to be found who was taken from his home without warning by a couple of secret police?"

"The Central prison, I should think. They go there first even when they're sent on to concentration camps."

"Do you know where it is?"

"I should say I—I mean yes, have you that little street map handy?"

She had it in her pocketbook. He spread it on the counter and indicated the situation with his finger.

(ATHLETE'S FOOT)

LABORATORY TESTS have shown that "Lysol" kills fungi responsible for ringworm of the foot. Soak the feet daily, for 15 minutes in a warm solution of 1 teaspoonful "Lysol" to each quart of water. Also wipe inside of shoes, and wash socks, towels, bathmats, with this solution to help prevent reinfection. Floors, tiling, linoleum should be mopped daily with "Lysol" in the water. Full directions with each bottle.

Wife Is Puzzled by Her Mate's Indifference

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I am married, 24 years old, and have three children. I always thought that I would be capable of handling my own domestic affairs. Lately, I find that I am slipping somehow, somewhere, and that's what I want to know about.

"My husband is four years older and considered good looking and popular. He has a number of friends, all of whom he keeps to himself. I never meet them. When I ask to be introduced, he answers me that he doesn't think I'd care for them. Yet he is in their company a great deal.

"Now, about myself. I am attractive, I know. I won prizes before my marriage and have managed through my married years to keep up to par. My children and home I keep in good shape.

"Yet, I seem to bore him. He and I cannot seem to agree on anything. I usually give in at the end of any debate or quarrel we have.

"Another thing, in company he raves of girls he knew before our marriage and those he comes in contact with during business. Then, the friends he doesn't want me to meet, he talks about glowingly in company. I am at my wit's end to know what to do. What could you suggest? MATRON."

Some husbands are difficult to handle, Matron, and no doubt about it. However, they can return the compliment about wives, which you might keep in mind while floundering around for a remedy. We read a wide temperamental difference between you two in spite of your both being right nice people. But because we cannot get the right cue from your letter we would suggest that you try to find out through a close friend or relative who knows your situation thoroughly just wherein you may fail, or he.

Trend Is Back to Humanness With Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Aren't you glad it's modern to be human with your baby? [Of course, some of us were, anyhow.] It is now being approved of by the best authorities. You're not even supposed, at present, to turn hand springs and wear yourself and your baby out, breaking him to the dry habit. [Of course, some of us never did that, either!]

Aren't you glad it's modern to be human with your baby? It's so much more fun for both of us.

Perhaps, some day, a robot will wash our dishes and clean our rooms and launder our clothes for us. But there's one thing no robot ever will be able to do, and that is take care of our children for us, even in the most routine matters.

There was a time when such an impersonal and efficient approach to child training was being recommended by experts that the old-fashioned mother often wondered if they weren't going to reach the point of suggesting first a robot nurse and then a robot mother.

Happily the pendulum is swinging back again, and the value of the human touch is fully recognized. Unfortunately, though, it isn't always made clear, even now, by writers on the subject, because their printed words are often so concerned with techniques. The result is that there are still young mothers, trying to be modern, who get to be actually businesslike and impersonal with their children, and lose the warm, loving human touch which makes life worth living to a person of any age.

Don't let your handling of your children get to be too mechanical, too businesslike, or too impersonally efficient. Warm humanness is what children need. It won't offset your intelligent approach to child training. It will, rather, help you to achieve really better results.

Leaflets on "Bladder" and "Bowel Control" are available by mail. For each one please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

The Housewife

Have you seen the new hat-stands made of transparent plastic and shaped like the old cuff and sleeve protectors that clerks used to wear? They are light as a feather, easy to pack, and they hold any hat well because they are larger at the bottom than at the top.

In sets of three they come bound in wine, in turquoise, in rose, blue, green and other colors, to match your clothes closet color scheme. They're not expensive.

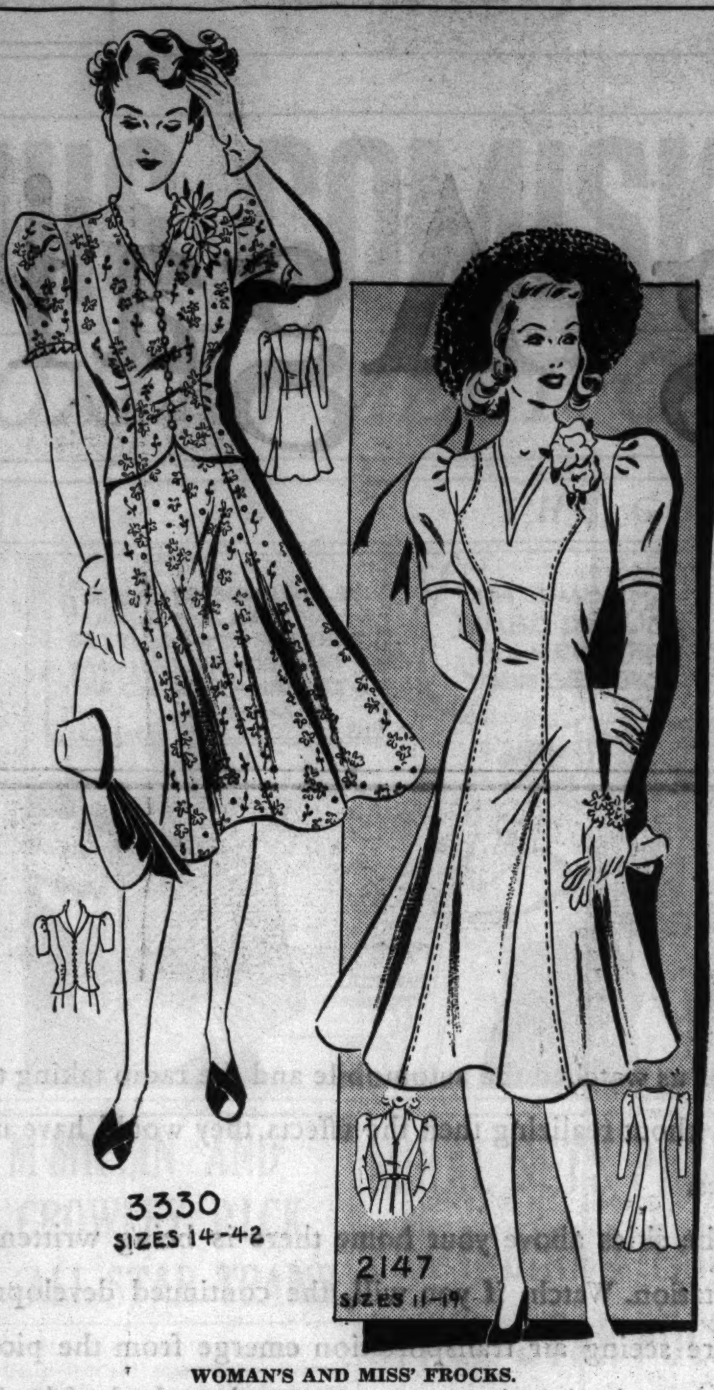
Two Frocks for Summer



WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCKS.

Is your summer wardrobe beginning to bore you? If that's the case, you need a new frock or two. These additions need not necessarily mean a great strain on the budget, because you may make the dresses yourself and save money. Two patterns today are designed to fill those empty hangers in the closet.

At the left, a two-piece style with paneled lines, flattering to rather plump silhouettes. The V neckline is edged with plaiting or ruffling, as are the short puffed sleeves. Buttons are used down the front of the blouse. The paneling in the bodice corresponds to that in the skirt, providing a long, unbroken, and flattering line. Silk prints are perfect mediums for a costume of this type.

At the right, a princess frock with crisply styled princess lines. Dazzling white sharkskin is a grand material for this dress, with its V neckline, exaggerated points, and flared skirt. Pique is another good choice for this design.

Style No. 3330 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3 yards of 39 inch material.

Style No. 2147 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19. Size 15 requires 3 yards of 39 inch material.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

This is one of those rare thirty minute meals. Everything may be on the table half an hour after you've started preparations, and you'll think it one of the finest dinners to which you've pulled up a chair.

SHORT CUT DINNER.
Salmon Mornay Parsley Potatoes
Cole Slaw with Green Pepper
Buttered Spinach
Quick Cinnamon Rolls
Fresh Fruit Compote
Hot or Iced Tea

Salmon Mornay.

1 No. 1 flat can salmon
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
¾ cup top milk or evaporated milk
¾ cup canned chicken or mushroom broth
1 slice onion
⅓ cup grated cheese
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Put salmon, as it comes from the can, into a small pan. Cover and heat in a moderate oven. Melt butter, add onion, and let brown lightly. Add flour and blend. Add milk and broth, stirring to keep sauce smooth. When mixture has thickened, remove onion, add cheese, and stir until blended. Put hot salmon into a shallow casserole or on an ovenproof platter. Add liquid from salmon can and nutmeg to the sauce, and pour it over the salmon. Place under the broiling unit just long enough to make the sauce bubbly and lightly brown.

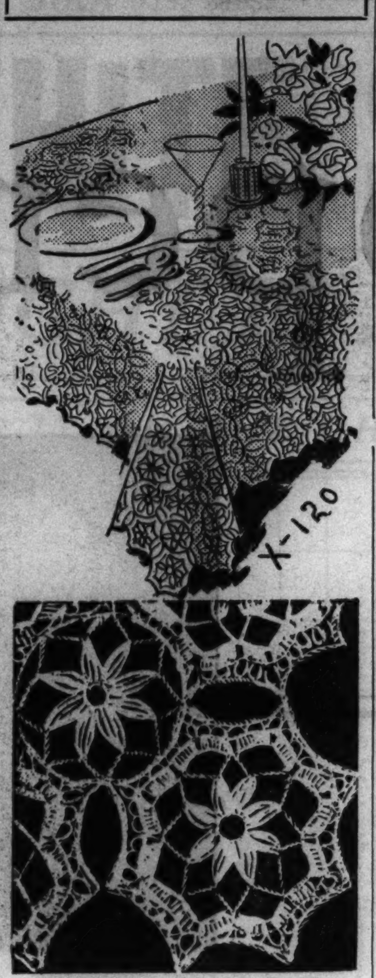
The sauce may be made without chicken or mushroom broth, if it is more convenient. Use all milk, or half tomato juice. A little mustard may be added.

To prepare spinach, wash it in at least four changes of water, to remove all sand. Lift the leaves from the water to a kettle. Spinach will cook with only the water which is left on the leaves. Cover the kettle and cook for a very few minutes, until spinach has wilted, but is not mushy. Spinach is one of the few green vegetables which may be cooked by steaming without loss of color and health value. The covered kettle cooks by steam, but if a regular steamer is available, this may be used. Salt the spinach as it cooks and, as soon as it is tender, add a little pepper and several tablespoons of melted butter. Buy a pound of spinach for three or four servings.

Make the quick cinnamon rolls from a prepared biscuit mix. Roll out the dough, spread with soft butter, and sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Roll up, cut off inch thick slices, and place in a greased pan. Bake at 400 degrees for about 12 minutes.

Make the fresh fruit compote out of any and as many of the fresh fruits as you care for. Plums, apricots, grapes, blueberries, raspberries, peaches, bananas, are a few choices. Pieces of melon may be included. Have the combination cold and colorful.

English Daisy Pattern Used in Fine Tablecloth



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

For crochet workers who like to do their needlework in small amounts, and also achieve something worth while and of lasting beauty, this crocheted tablecloth is suggested. It is a simple medallion worked on No. 20 ecru mercerized crochet cotton with a No. 11 steel crochet hook. About 15 minutes are required for each medallion, and one may readily determine the length of time required for a tablecloth about 72 inches square.

For instructions in crocheting the English Daisy medallion for the tablecloth, No. X-120, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

Many players who bid up to three no trump on sketchy holdings and then, after having been doubled, run to a long minor suit, feel that they are safe because the opponents will not dare to double four diamonds or four clubs. Perhaps their judgment is correct when applied to their particular circle, but they had better not use this philosophy in faster company. Fine players do not hesitate to double a contract merely because it is not a "free" double.

In today's hand South was overaggressive and North was downright "fancy," so the result, as might have been expected, was not very good.

North, dealer.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	1 club	1 heart	Pass
Pass	1 spade	2 diamonds	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	Pass	Double
3 diamonds	Pass	Pass	Double
Redouble	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's one heart overcall was, of course, proper, but his two diamond bid over East's spade was "pressing" considerably. West might have shown some signs of life on the second round, but probably was biding his time in the realization that the opponents were wild bidders. Incidentally, East's one spade reopening bid, though based on a very weak suit, probably was the best choice available.

From West's point of view North's delayed two no trump bid reeked of the "old army game." That is, he had made no move over South's one heart, but after the diamonds were mentioned, suddenly came to life. This was ground for suspicion that North had great diamond support and, of course, his shift to diamonds after the two no trump was doubled confirmed this suspicion. Nevertheless, West not only had an ace, a king, and a queen, but equally important, had four diamonds and, with East having made two bids, felt that even a three diamond contract could be trounced.

Since it was obvious that North-South fit beautifully in diamonds, it was equally apparent that a cross-ruff in other suits might develop and, to prevent this as far as possible, West correctly opened a trump. Dummy won and the heart four was led. At this point East made an excellent play. He reasoned from West's opening lead that West wanted to convert the play of the hand into no trump, that is, wanted to force out the trumps as quickly as possible. East himself had no more trumps to lead, hence if he were to win this present heart trick with the ace he would not be able to further his partner's marked plan. East realized that he might possibly lose the ace by ducking, but the gain was worth the risk, so he did duck.

After this bold and splendid play the contract could not be made. Declarer's jack lost to West's king and another trump was returned. South overtook the jack with the ace and led the seven of hearts. Since it was vital to establish the heart suit, declarer did not ruff this in dummy, but instead threw a club from dummy. East won with the ace and cashed the club king, then led a low club. [If South had the club queen left West could ruff; whereas if West had the club queen South would have to ruff.] South ruffed and cashed the heart queen, then ruffed away West's heart ten. Now a low spade was led from dummy and, to declarer's horror, the king was gobbled up by West with the ace. West returned a trump, eliminating the last two opposing trumps in one fell swoop and leaving himself with the thirteenth trump. Now declarer could win only the queen of spades because, when he tried to cash his long heart, West ruffed.

Thus the contract that North had considered so safe was down 300 points.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

Behind the Scenes.

Hollywood, Cal., July 18.—Whatever became of the hundreds of red-haired girls [and brunets and blondes with red wigs], who were tested for the rôle of Scarlett O'Hara? . . . Partial answer is supplied by "Beau Geste," just previewed. . . . Susan Hayward playing the principal femme lead, is one of the youngsters who came out here under contract to David Selznick. . . . The Brooklyn girl was a New York model when George Cukor saw her in a Satevepost ad. . . . He signed her quickly, but after the six month period had elapsed, Susan found herself in Hollywood jobless. . . . Cukor was no longer connected with the picture.

Red-haired girls have a certain zing and boom to them. . . . Three days later Miss Hayward was signed by Max Arnow to a Warner contract. . . . Bob Taplinger's department gave her the most amazing publicity build-up that the million dollar build-up process ever has witnessed. . . . Within two months the entire country had heard of Susan Hayward, no mean feat when it is considered that in this time she never got a chance to appear before a moving picture camera. . . . She became so well known through posing for fashion stills, bathing photos and other publicity "plants" that one of the syndicate editors wired for a Sunday feature on the girl that everybody knew without ever having seen her on the screen.

At the conclusion of her six month contract at Burbank they let her go. . . . This time there was no immediate succor. . . . For five months, she made her way from one studio to another, looking for work and spacing her meals as far apart as possible. . . . The big studios had nothing for her, so she went to the smaller studios.

She drifted out to the valley area one day and applied for a job at Republic. . . . They turned her down. . . . Finally one day, when she was much thinner than when she started job hunting, at Paramount she read a part that Bette Davis had done on a radio program. . . . They signed her immediately. . . . "Beau Geste" is her first picture. . . . "Our Leading Citizens," with Bob Burns is the second, already completed. . . . Susan Hayward, who came west to play Scarlett O'Hara only to experience more discouragement in Hollywood than Margaret Mitchell's heroine experienced in the deep south, has herself what appears to be a permanent job.

Performers and directors, with option time at hand, find that studios are quietly but firmly insisting on salary cuts. . . . Influx of new faces is the club being held over the veterans. . . . The movies, without any fanfare, are retrenching. . . . Eddie Buzzell and Norman Krasna leaving for Europe. . . . Paramount's Frank Freeman, with 1,600 theaters as a yardstick, gets quick answers on his audience reaction tests to starlets. . . . As many as 1,000,000 cards are handed out to find out movie fans' opinions of a young performer. . . . Seventy per cent of the fans answer the questionnaire. . . . The answers, cataloged, tell him quickly whether to continue the build-up of a player or release him or her.

Freeman, at Paramount, is a former theater manager. . . . Blumberg, at Universal, is a former theater chain manager. . . . R. K. O.'s Schaefer is a former theater man. . . . These ex-exhibitors, crowding into Hollywood, will change the production picture around slowly but surely. . . . From experiences, and from their theater contacts, they have better than a sneaking notion of what movie fans will buy, and at what price. . . . Directors are being brought up short, nowadays, by front office memos from which there is no argument. . . . This new group of executives is not interested in Hollywood's social life or in social ratings of directors or performers. . . . They're from Missouri. . . . The industry is being put on a business basis by theater veterans.

Czecho-Slovaks Welcome Vojta Benes to Chicago

By O. R. Smith
PRESIDENT

"Interesting novelty." Alexander Graham Bell was first transmitting the human voice over a metallic wire.

"Might be all right; but you'll never get rid of the noise and static," they said when the invention of Marconi first utilized the air waves.

We may say: "If those things had happened in OUR time WE would have recognized their value without hesitation."

Maybe so, but we ARE seeing today the growing utilization of an American invention—the airplane—which will have far reaching effects upon our business and social life, equalling any other in the history of our country.

What Does It Mean When:

American Airlines increased its fleet of Flagships by thirty-three per cent early in this year and has re-ordered planes twice already this year.

Nearly every Flagship carries on every flight men and women who have never been in an airplane before. As many as eight or nine "first riders" are found on some flights, seldom less than two on any flight.

For the first six months of 1939 American Airlines transported fifty per cent more passengers than it did in the same period of 1938.

It Means:

That "It's Happening Again"; that the utilization of invention is again forming the basis for a great American industry.

That air transportation is the most rapidly growing industry in the United States today.

That air transportation is taking its place with other typical American industries—telephone, automobiles, radio—to lessen distance, to make undiscovered pleasures available to you—TO MAKE LIFE LONGER BY PERMITTING YOU BETTER TO UTILIZE YOUR TIME.

That the utility value of air transportation is demonstrated by the fact that this industry is one of the few in America which has never failed—in any year—to show an increase in business done and service rendered over the year which preceded.

That American Airlines alone, which transported more than 54,000 passengers in the month of June, 1939, will, in a few years, be transporting more than a quarter million passengers in a single month.

History in the Skies:

Most of us do not remember the first crossing of the Atlantic with steam—we missed the thrill of talking over the early types of telephone.

Some of us watched the automobile and the radio taking their place without realizing then the effects they would have upon our lives.

In the skies above your home there is being written the history of air transportation. Watch, if you will, the continued development of this industry. You are seeing air transportation emerge from the pioneer and development stage, to take its place as an accepted method of business and social travel—a new American industry.

The Obligation of American Airlines:

Many have climbed high mountains, only to find still higher peaks ahead.

American Airlines has been consistently exceeding all previous records, only to find that the job has just begun.

We are flying 360,000 more miles per month in scheduled service than we were flying at this time last year. We have operated, in addition, as many as 14 extra sections in one day from a single city. Other Flagships are coming from the factory and other American flights will be available.

Every member of our entire organization, along American's 6,775 miles of routes, is conscious of greater responsibility as the result of our steadily increasing volume. MORE IS EXPECTED OF US.

American Airlines has established a STANDARD OF SERVICE. That Standard we will maintain and PROMISE TO EXCEL.

We Are Grateful:

For the increased patronage of our services. We aim to continue our operation on a basis which will permit a continuation of your confidence in us. We want to retain your patronage by DESERVING IT.

Our old customers are our most cherished asset; you have been the PIONEERS who have built American Airlines and to you we are grateful. Thank you for your patience and courtesy during the peak periods of the Holidays, when we were not always able to do things for you as promptly as we would have liked.

To the constantly increasing number of NEW patrons, we pledge you a high standard of service and hope that you will make many journeys with American during the year.

Our Goal:

The airplane is an American invention; nowhere else in the world has it been better used in the pursuits of peace and commerce. American air transportation leads the world. We pledge our best efforts to do our part to further widen that margin of leadership.

IRISH BOXERS MEET C. Y. O. TONIGHT IN SOLDIERS' FIELD

INVADERS SEEK TO AVENGE LAST YEAR'S DEFEAT

30,000 to See Bouts; 16 Scheduled.

Fight Facts

PLACE—Soldiers' field.

TIME—First preliminary at 8:15 p. m.

NUMBER OF BOUTS—Ten international fights preceded by six preliminary intercity matches.

ESTIMATED ATTENDANCE—30,000.

PROCEEDS—C. Y. O. milk fund.

TICKETS—$2.20, $1.10, and 50 cents.

BROADCAST—WMAQ at 10:30 p. m.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

In Soldiers' field tonight, ten well trained, husky lads from Ireland will make their bid to break the unbeaten record of the amateur boxers of the Catholic Youth organization.

Walter Cavalieri.

This series of matches, preceded by six intercity bouts between the C. Y. O. and representatives of the same organization from six other cities, the first of which will start at 8:15 o'clock, is the high point of the summer's boxing in Chicago. It is the second international tournament between the C. Y. O. and Ireland, the invaders having been beaten last year, 6 bouts to 4.

Expect Crowd of 30,000.

A crowd, estimated to be at least 30,000, will watch the rivalry. There is, however, scarcely any limit to the accommodations in the lake shore stadium. Tickets will be available at Soldiers' field tonight. Prices are $2.20, $1.10, and 50 cents.

Tonight's international pairings are:

118 pounds—Frank Bausone, C. Y. O., and James Ingles, Ireland.

Rivals Weigh In at Noon.

The Catholic Youth organization began its long series of intercity and international competitions in 1932 by whipping a Los Angeles team. On four occasions, frequently when the complete strength of the C. Y. O. was not available, the C. Y. O. has been held to a tie in team matches.

Both teams concluded training yesterday. The Irish boys, who arrived in Chicago a week ago today, went through a last workout at the C. Y. O. gymnasium, 31 East Congress street, where at noon today both squads will meet to be weighed and for their physical examinations.

The Irish team is coached by Dick Hearns, a veteran of international competition, which included appearance in Soldiers' field in 1933 against Chicago's Golden Gloves team, and again last year when he fought as a light heavyweight against Cornelius Young. Paddy Kane and Dick Fitzpatrick are the C. Y. O. coaches.

Chicagoans Are Confident.

Although only five of last year's victorious C. Y. O. team are fighting again tonight Coach Kane is optimistic that his boys will win from Ireland. Admitting that Ireland has a stronger team than a year ago, he believes that the newcomers on the C. Y. O. will prove equal to the task this evening. Included in the group of ten C. Y. O. boys are three who have fought in Golden Gloves intercity or international bouts. They are Walter Cavalieri, Joe Du Pont, and Savior Canadeo.

In addition to these veterans, Frank Bausone, Ernest Wilson, the O'Connell brothers, Joe and Eddie, Isaiah Wells, and Al Urlich, will fight for Chicago.

Officials for tonight's bouts will be:

REFEREES—Gene Tunney, Frank McAdams Phil Collins, Norm CcCarthy, Joe McNamara, Tommy Thomas, Walter Brightmore, Tommy Gilmore, Dave Miller, Georie Young, Jess O'Brien, Walter Seyferrt, Art Walsh.

JUDGES—William Battye, William O'Connell, Dr. G. W. Christoph, Dr. E. A. Frankel, R. A. Goudie, E. A. Hintz, Rube Metz, Carl Witt, John Bray, Frank Jackson, James McManus, Livingston E. Osborne, Frank Gilmer, Percy Kenny, George Kenny, H. G. Vance, James G. Lynch.

M'MILLIN AND CROWLEY PICK ALL-STAR TEAMS

A. N. [Bo] McMillin, Indiana university football coach, who directed the All-Stars last year in their victorious battle against the Washington Redskins, and Jimmy Crowley, Fordham university coach, a member of the coaches' staff of the first charity game in 1934, yesterday selected starting elevens to meet the New York Giants, world's professional champions, in Soldiers' field, Aug. 30.

McMillin's lineup:

ENDS—Petrick, Indiana, and Brown, Notre Dame. TACKLES—Haak, Indiana, and Mihal, Purdue. GUARDS—Heikkinen, Michigan, and Hovland, Wisconsin. CENTER—Aldrich, Texas Christian. QUARTER BACK—Patterson, Baylor. HALF BACKS—MacLeod, Dartmouth, and G. Smith, Southwestern [Memphis, Tenn.]. FULL BACK—Weiss, Wisconsin.

Crowley's selections:

ENDS—Jacunski, Fordham, and Brown, Notre Dame. TACKLES—Voigts, Northwestern, and Hale, Texas Christian. GUARDS—Keikkinen, Michigan, and Means, Washington. CENTER—Brock, Nebraska. QUARTER BACK—O'Brien, Texas Christian. HALF BACKS—Goldberg, Pittsburgh, and Pingel, Michigan State. FULL BACK—Osmanski, Holy Cross.

Arlington Fans Get First Look at Johnstown

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Arlington Park crowd was sauntering about, calculating bets and studying the odds board between the first and second races yesterday when a big bay colt with a J-shaped mark on his nose came out from the paddock. A moment later every one was hustling toward the rail or getting points of vantage in the stands, for the announcer informed them: "Johnstown is on the track."

William Woodward's speedy horse, reigning champion of the three year olds, was making his first public appearance since his arrival Monday in preparation for next Saturday's Classic stakes. He will attempt to add this rich prize to the others which he has taken in the Kentucky Derby, the Belmont, the Wood Memorial, the Withers, and the Dwyer.

He Takes It Easy.

Jimmy Stout, the boy who has ridden Johnstown to all of his stake victories this year, was aboard the champion as he came out for a leisurely gallop of a mile and a quarter on a muddy track. Escorted by a lead pony, Johnstown strode past the stands as far as the sixteenth pole, his hoofs sinking into the mire.

As he crossed the finish line for the first time the clockers snapped their watches on him but nothing spectacular developed. He was at the quarter in :26 2-5, the half in :52 3-5, the three quarters in 1:18 4-5, the mile in 1:44, the mile and an eighth in 1:58, and the mile and a quarter in 2:13.

It was pretty tame compared to the moves with which Johnstown has startled clockers on other occasions, but the condition of the track was such that Stout never called on him to extend himself. He was just cantering at the end.

Challedon's Trainer Is Happy.

"They can wrap that track up for us right now and lay it down again on Saturday," he said. "Challedon can run in any kind of going and mud slows him up much less than it does other horses."

Challedon will make his final preparatory move this morning when he will go a mile or a mile and an eighth.

"He doesn't need much work," Schaefer said. "He's been racing regularly and is sharpened up enough."

John Hay Whitney's Heather Broom arrived from the east yesterday, leaving Viscounty as the only possible starter which is not on the grounds. Earl Sande, Heather Broom's trainer, will arrive tomorrow.

The Classic field now consists of Johnstown, Challedon, Technician, Unerring, Heather Broom, Sun Lover, Viscounty, and Total Eclipse. There is considerable doubt as to whether the last two will start. If eight should go to the post, the gross value would be $51,100, of which $38,075 would go to the winner.

MIHAL SETS PACE FOR INDIANA TRIO IN ALL-STAR POLL

MacLeod on Air

Bob MacLeod, one of the leading candidates for a half back position on the All-Star football team, which meets the New York Giants, professional champions, on Soldiers' field Aug. 30, will be interviewed on Bob Elson's sport review over station W-G-N at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

BY ARCH WARD.

Joe Mihal of Purdue has moved into the lead in the three cornered fight among Hoosier candidates for a starting position at tackle in the sixth annual All-Star football game between the New York Giants and College All-Americans at Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 30.

Mihal passed Bob Haak of Indiana and Ed Beinor of Notre Dame on heavy returns from Gary, his home town, and from Lafayette. He collected 16,762 votes yesterday in the poll conducted by the Gary Post-Tribune.

The battle for the tackle positions is not only a race of three prominent Indiana state athletes. It has developen into a matter of civic pride. Mihal comes from Gary, Haak from Hammond, and Beinor from Harvey. Their supporters in those areas are making strenuous efforts to hold their places at the head of the national parade.

Poll Closes Saturday.

The coast to coast poll, in which 332 newspapers and radio stations in every state except Delaware are cooperating with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will close at midnight Saturday. More than 2,130,000 votes already have been cast. The two ends, two tackles, two guards, center, quarter back, two half backs, and full back who lead their positions when all ballots have been tabulated will start the game against the Giants. In event any player chosen by the fans is unable to take his place in the starting lineup, the man next in line in the final standings of the poll will be moved up.

Fans will begin to vote Sunday for a staff of five coaches to handle the All-Stars. The board will be made up of two midwesterners, one from the Big Ten and one from outside the conference; one from the east, one from the south, and one from the far west. The coaches' poll will run for two weeks. The candidate who gets the greatest total vote will be head coach.

Two from South Leading.

It is becoming apparent that the south will have at least two representatives in the starting lineup.

To a Friend.

I spoke my very heart to you one day,
I wanted you to play the love game square;
You laughed with hidden scorn to hear me say
You couldn't win without the aid of prayer;
That was the parting of our pathways, friend;
You faded from me like a dying light,
And after this long span of years you send
A little note to tell me I was right.

But who shall know the heartaches you have borne,
And who shall gauge the gamut of your woes,
Because you would not see the piercing thorn
That lurked beneath the redness of the rose!

CUBS CLIMB INTO 2D PLACE; BEAT DODGERS, 4 TO 2

Passeau Pitches; Hack, G. Russell Hit Homers.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 18.—Claude Passeau's hot southern blood didn't boil over today. For the first time in three starts Claude avoided the heave-ho by umpires and the results of placidity were most gratifying. Claude and the Cubs defeated the Dodgers, 4 to 2, to make it three out of four in the series and eight to six in the season's relations with the Flatbushers. Passeau struck out three straight batters with the tying runs on first and third in the ninth.

As a result of the victory and the Cardinals' 5 to 3 triumph over the Giants, the champions hopped into second place in the National league ahead of the New Yorkers. During the process of winning, the Cubs knocked out Luke Hamlin.

Cubs Win on Homers.

Stan Hack opened the game with his sixth homer, which also was his 101st hit. In the second inning G. Russell also smacked a homer, with Gabby Hartnett on base.

These early three runs met no challenge until two were out in the fourth. Then Dolph Camilli made the second Brooklyn hit and successive doubles by Babe Phelps and Gene Moore produced two runs.

The champions increased their lead to the final 4 to 2 by making a run on four singles and a walk in the sixth.

In the first inning the Cubs made the same number of hits, of the same caliber that they made in the entire game in beating Hamlin, 1 to 0, a month ago. Hack hit his homer over the right field screen. Herman lined to Koy and Galan singled to center. Moore made a circus catch of Gleeson's drive to the scoreboard in right field and doubled Galan.

Then G. Russell Hits One.

The Cubs made it 3 to 0 in the second inning. Hartnett walked with one down and G. Russell followed Gabby home on a homer into the left field stands. In the fourth the Cubs again were victims of the second Moore-to-Camilli double play of the game. With one out Reynolds singled. He was doubled on Hartnett's fly to Moore.

The Dodgers broke into the scoring column after two were out in the fourth. After retiring eleven batters following Koy's opening double, Passeau pitched a single to Camilli. Phelps doubled to right center, scoring Camilli. Moore doubled to left, scoring Phelps. Moore reached third and Durocher first on Hack's fumble, then Almada forced Durocher.

Casey Replaces Hamlin.

Hack opened the sixth with a single but was out, Phelps to Durocher when Herman failed to connect on a hit and run play. Herman then singled to right and so did Galan, Herman stopping at second. Hamlin was excused and Casey, losing pitcher in the opener of the series Sunday, took his place. Coscarart threw out Gleeson. Reynolds walked, filling the bases. Durocher knocked down Hartnett's smash, but it went for a single, Herman scoring. G. Russell lined to Durocher, leaving three on the bases, the only Cubs strandees of the game up to that point.

The Cubs had men on third and second with none out in the eighth and the bases loaded with one out but Van Mungo, third Brooklyn pitcher, snuffed out any scoring ideas the Cubs may have had. The champions had runners on third and first with one out in the ninth as a result of hits by Passeau and Herman, but again Mungo called a halt.

Phelps opened the ninth with a single to left and reached third after Moore dumped a single in short center. Durocher struck out. Parks batted for Almada and also fanned and so did Mungo.

Sox Lose 13-10 to Boston; Win Second, 8 to 5

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Boston's Red Sox, who recently developed a trace of pennant fever so violent that it spurred them to twelve consecutive victories, mangled the White Sox yesterday in the first game of a double-header. But eventually they paid for their fun. They won the opener, a giddy pitching parade, 13 to 10, for their fifteenth triumph in seventeen games. Then they were thumped by the Chicagoans in another slugging orgy, 8 to 5.

The first contest was a headache for the respective managers. They were forced to summon seven pitchers, three of them in white socks and four in red. Four of the seven had arrived and departed before the third inning was completed. Among these were Bill Dietrich and Jess Dobernic. Elden Auker and Emerson Dickman were equally worthless to the Boston cause. But the White Sox finally were slowed down by Joe Heving and the Red Sox kept going by blasting Eddie Smith and Clint Brown.

Home Runs Hurt.

The home run ball was a potent item in Boston's success and of only limited help to the Chicagoans. During the annihilation of Dietrich in the second inning, a home run by Auker and Jim Foxx's sixteenth of the season accounted for four runs. Ted Williams notched his fifteenth against Brown, also with a pal on base. The lone White Sox homer was by Mike Kreevich and drove in the only two runs scored during Heving's tenure. Kreevich also drove across three other runs and continued his rampage by driving across two more in the second game.

Johnny Marcum and Jack Wilson started in the second game, but eventually the managers were calling back their pitching failures of the first battle. Marcum quit in the seventh and Brown returned, but the score was tied before he could get the situation under control. Wilson also vanished and the Chicago boys bashed Dickman for the winning run in the seventh, later getting two more off Auker. But Brown, after getting through the seventh, was air tight and achieved his seventh victory in his 34th rescue job.

FIRST GAME

The Red Sox set upon Dietrich in the first inning of the first game with one run, but could have had another if Williams hadn't been so leisurely about his base running. Cramer walked with one out and was safe at second when Appling threw badly trying to force him on Foxx's tap. Williams forced Foxx, then a pass to Cronin loaded the bases. Vosmik singled to center, Cramer scoring, but Kreevich's throw to third cut down Cronin before Williams reached home.

The White Sox responded with three runs in their half. Hayes singled and Kuhel walked. Both moved along on Kreevich's bunt. They scored on a double to right center by Radcliff. Walker lined to Foxx, but Appling singled Radcliff home.

SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA AT SUMMER HOME

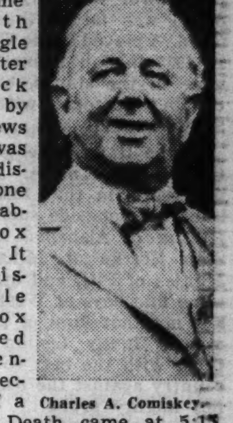
J. Louis Comiskey, owner and president of the Chicago White Sox, died late yesterday in his summer home in the north woods at Eagle River, Wis., after a heart attack complicated by pneumonia. News of his death was given by long distance telephone to Harry Grabiner, White Sox vice president. It reached Comiskey park while the White Sox and Boston Red Sox were engaged in the second game of a double-header. Death came at 5:15 p. m. [Chicago time]. Mr. Comiskey was 53 years old.



Charles A. Comiskey.

Cause of death was given as hypostatic pneumonia, failure of the left ventricle and pulmonary oedema. Two physicians had been in constant attendance. They were Dr. R. A. Oldfield of Eagle River and Dr. I. E. Schiek of Rhinelander, Wis.

Succumbs in Oxygen Tent.

Mr. Comiskey, son of the illustrious Charles A. Comiskey, took charge of the White Sox in 1931 after his father's death. The elder Comiskey also died in the Eagle River summer home.

Mr. Comiskey's condition became critical Monday night when he was placed in an oxygen tent after lapsing into a coma. Early yesterday two attending physicans gave up hope for his recovery. At the bedside were Mr. Comiskey's wife and his three children, Dorothy, Gracie Lou, and Charles A. Comiskey II. Mr. Comiskey was 53 years old.

Mr. Comiskey went to his Wisconsin retreat a week ago and planned on returning yesterday for the opener of the White Sox-Boston series.

Hold Services Saturday.

The body will arrive at the Northwestern terminal at 10:40 o'clock tonight and funeral services will be held at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Thomas the Apostle Roman Catholic church, 55th street and Kimbark avenue. The game scheduled for that afternoon between the Sox and world champion Yankees has been postponed.

Mr. Comiskey's health began to fail almost 20 years ago. He became desperately ill while accompanying the Sox and Giants on a European tour in the fall of 1924. Because of his condition he maintained a suite in St. Luke's hospital and went there for periodical treatments. Heart attacks were so frequent that in recent years, whether at home, at the ball park or traveling, he kept available a portable emergency oxygen mask. His condition forced him to forego seeing his team play this season. He went to Detroit for the opener but because of rainy weather remained in his hotel hoom.

Club's Future Uncertain.

Mr. Comiskey inherited the baseball club and other properties from his father who died intestate. He refused to consider bids for the franchise, but whether he provided for disposition of the holdings or for his heirs to continue at the helm will not be known until the will is filed.

John Louis Comiskey was born in Dubuque, Ia., Aug. 12, 1885, and was literally raised in a baseball atmosphere from which he never attempted to escape. At the time of his birth his father was well along on the baseball career that prepared him for assisting in the formation of the American league and becoming one of its guiding geniuses.

Uncle Lou, as the Comiskey offspring became known to his intimates in later life, took no active part in the running of the White Sox ball team before he ascended to

BILL SHEPHERD TELLS STORY OF ALL-STAR GAMES

BY BILL SHEPHERD.
[Western Maryland Football Player: Member 1935 All-Star Team.]

Muncie, Ind., July 18.—I've played on both sides of the fence. I was with the All-Stars in 1935 when the Chicago Bears won 5 to 0 in the rain and I lined up with the Detroit Lions in 1936 when the score was 7 to 7.

It was a great experience for a boy from a small college who hadn't been around much. As I look back over a rather long football career these two games stand out in my mind. I can tell this year's All-Stars that when they face the New York Giants Aug. 30 they also will remember the game as a climax to their football careers.

These Games Different.

I never was one to get hopped up over a football game. I've seen big pro tackles cry when their teams lost, but I never felt that way, even in college. It was just another ball game to me. Yet those two games in Chicago were different. Maybe it was the crowd. Certainly that throng of 80,000 was larger than I ever had faced. I played in the East-West game in 1935 in San Francisco and 60,000 were in the stands, but that crowd couldn't compare with the one at Soldiers' field.

Maybe it was the great talent on the field that night. I know I was impressed, in that 1935 game, to be lined up alongside such stars as Don Hutson of Alabama, Pug Lund and Stan Kostka of Minnesota, Miller Munjas of Pitt, and others. We had some fine boys at Western Maryland, but not that kind of performers. It was a funny feeling playing out there with the best collegians in the country against the best pro team. I felt mighty proud.

We lost the 1935 game, 5 to 0, when Jack Manders of the Bears kicked a field goal in the first quarter and the Bears later added a safety on a blocked kick. I don't want this to sound like an alibi, but we couldn't get going after it started raining between halves. We did, however, keep the Bears from scoring a touchdown.

Claims Edge to All-Stars.

The next year, when I played with the Lions against the All-Stars, I realized why we were able to stay that close and why, in recent years, the college boys have had the better of it. It's because the game is played in August, before the pros are in the best condition.

I noticed that the Detroit veterans weren't as peppy as the All-Stars that night and we had our hands full. Tuffy Leemans, now with the New York Giants, ran wild. We finished up in a 7 to 7 tie but that was only because we ran a trick play that sent Ernie Caddel across. Those kids were younger and better conditioned.

Maybe it's a good thing the game is played so early. That way it gives the college kids enough of an advantage to make the game an even battle. Because if the National All-Star game were played in December there wouldn't be anything to it. The pros would win them all. With due respect to the great talent and great coaching staffs assembled at the All-Star games the Stars could not cope with a top flight pro team when the money boys get rolling.

Anxious to See Leemans.

But in August the game is a great attraction. It doesn't seem possible that a group of college boys from all parts of the country could become a formidable team in the three weeks they are in Chicago, but they are. The choice college talent and the type of players to be found on a championship pro team are certain to produce a great game. I'm anxious to see Leemans and his Giants tackle the college boys this year. We pros are falling too far behind.

The college boys didn't have much respect for Sammy Baugh's passing last year, did they? That Washington team is a funny club. Baugh is such a quick passer that they never protect him much. I guess they underestimated John Kovatch of Northwestern and Chuck Sweeney of Notre Dame. Those ends were through there and on him before he could throw. That crippled the Redskins considerable.

Check the lineup and you'll find that the Redskins didn't have Cliff Battles, their great running back of the previous year. With Battles in there they had a great ball carrier and a great passer. With Battles out they had only the passing game and finished well down in the pro standings last season.

Need Versatile Attack.

You have to have both types of attack. You spread 'em with your passes and then send somebody through there on a running play. If you have only a passer the opposition builds a defense for that kind of game. This will be my fourth season of pro ball with Detroit. I played with Western Maryland teams that lost only one game in three years. I've been around the football picture a long time. But I'd like to be on that All-Star squad again.

It's a great thrill for the players, and I include the pro players, too. The crowd, the pageantry, and the game stand out as the greatest football spectacle of the season. That the receipts are given to charity is another reason why thousands will continue to support the contest.

People attend a game like this only when they get something for their money. And Aug. 30 the thousands in Soldiers' field will see the All-Stars of last fall and the greatest professional team of last season. That's why they'll be there. And so will I, if it's at all possible.

Hold Park District Girls' Net Finals Today

Park district tennis tournament finals in the girls' junior and intermediate divisions, which were postponed on account of rain, will be held on the Grant park courts, one block south of 7th street on Columbus drive, today.

Mihal Leads Indiana Trio in All-Star Poll

Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian is running away with the quarter back assignment and Dan Hill of Duke, who distinguished himself in the Rose bowl last New Year's day, has a substantial lead at center. The eastern section has the No. 1 and No. 2 half back candidates this morning in Bob MacLeod of Dartmouth and Marshall Goldberg of Pittsburgh. It is far from certain, however, that they can hold their positions in the stretch drive they will encounter from John Pingel of Michigan State, Bronko Smilanich of Arizona, Sid Luckman of Columbia, Pug Manders of Drake, Bernie Jefferson of Northwestern, and Vic Bottari of California. This probably is the most widely publicized group of half backs the All-Star poll ever has developed.

Howie Weiss of Wisconsin, who was voted the Big Ten player of greatest value to his team last fall, looks like a winner at full back. Bill Osmanski of Holy Cross has drawn fine support from the east, as has Dave Anderson of California from the Pacific coast, but both are trailing the Badger star by more than 100,000 votes.

Two from Pitt in Front.

If the poll were to end with this morning's standings, Pittsburgh would have two in the starting lineup, the only school thus honored. The other universities whose alumni and friends would have a chance to cheer would be Notre Dame, Purdue, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa State, Duke, Texas Christian, Wisconsin, and Dartmouth. In addition to Goldberg, who is running second to MacLeod at half back, Pittsburgh has Bill Daddio in second place behind Notre Dame's Earl Brown at end.

The San Francisco Chronicle reports heavy returns for two Santa Clara boys, Al Wolff, tackle, and Jim Coughlan, end. The Chisholm, Minn., Tribune-Herald, Smilanich's home town, is rivaling Tucson in support of the Arizona half back. The Ironwood, Mich., Globe yesterday reported 5,960 votes for Ed Simonich of Notre Dame, Ralph Heikkinen of Michigan, and Edwin Niemi, Marquette center. Sec Taylor, sports editor of the Des Moines Register, turned in 18,476 for Manders of Drake. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat had 4,140 for Ted Panish of Bradley and hundreds of sectional favorites. The Green Bay Press-Gazette rolled up huge totals for Wisconsin, Marquette, and Lawrence players. The Champaign News-Gazette wired more than 7,000 for Bob Castelo and Jim McDonald of Illinois.

REDS POUND FOUR BOSTON PITCHERS FOR 12-3 VICTORY

Derringer Issues First Pass Since June 14.

Boston, July 18.—(AP)—Though his record approaching string of innings pitched without yielding a base on balls was broken, Paul Derringer held the Bees in check today while his Cincinnati mates pounded four Boston pitchers for nineteen hits and a 12 to 3 triumph. It was Derringer's twelfth victory of the season.

When the Bees' right fielder, Debs Garms, went to first in the first inning it was Derringer's first walk in 49⅔ consecutive innings since June 14.

Dobson Halts A's; Indians Triumph, 6-3

Cleveland, O., July 18.—(AP)—Rookie Joe Dobson turned in a neat job of relief hurling tonight to give the Cleveland Indians a 6 to 3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics before a crowd of 9,032. Dobson replaced Johnny Allen in the fourth inning with two runs in, the score tied, 3 to 3, two runners on base, and only one out. He retired the side in that inning without further damage and allowed only three hits the rest of the game. Score:

SENATORS, 10; TIGERS, 2.

Detroit, Mich., July 18.—(AP)—Joe Krakaukas held the Detroit Tigers to six hits and connected for a triple in the third inning with the bases loaded to lead the Washington Senators to a 10 to 2 victory today. Washington batted out Tommy Bridges in the third inning while putting on a rally that finally produced six runs. Taft Wright, Washington right fielder, hit three doubles and two singles for a perfect day at bat.

RAIN POSTPONES A. A. STAR GAME; PLAY TONIGHT

Kansas City, Mo., July 18.—(AP)—The sixth annual American association All-Star baseball game, scheduled tonight with the Kansas City Blues as the opposing club, was postponed because of rain.

Roy Ramey, secretary of the Kansas City club, said the game will be played tomorrow night.

some other hits, were enough to hang up four runs for Boston in the second and finished Dietrich. Peacock singled and scored when Auker knocked his second homer of the year into the upper left field deck. Cramer doubled and Foxx clouted his homer.

In the home second Tresh singled and Steinbacher, batting for Dietrich, walked. This ended Auker's régime. Dickman appeared and Hayes sacrificed, after which Kuhel walked, filling the bases. Two scored on a single by Kreevich, a third came in on Walker's single, and a fourth on Appling's single.

Smith Falters Afield.

Dobernic started the third inning, but his stay was short. Tabor singled with one out and Peacock walked. Nonnenkamp batted for Dickman and doubled, scoring Tabor. Smith was rushed to the rescue and while passing Doerr, he committed a wild pitch on which Peacock scored. Nonnenkamp counted on a single by Foxx and Doerr hiked in when Williams singled.

Hayes walked in the sixth and scored on a single by Kuhel and an infield out. This put the Chicago troupe one shy of a tie, but Smith's fielding fell apart in the seventh and Boston scored a pair for an 11 to 8 lead. Vosmik was safe when Smitty dropped Kuhel's throw at first base. Tabor singled to left and Peacock sacrificed. Heving tapped in front of the plate and Smith threw wild past Tresh, Vosmik and Tabor scoring.

As soon as Brown made his 33d appearance of the season in the eighth there was more action. Foxx tripled almost to the center field wall and Williams knocked his homer into the right field stands. A pass to Kuhel and Kreevich's third homer produced Chicago's final runs in the eighth.

SECOND GAME

Marcum's single to center touched off a rally that put Chicago three runs to the good in the third inning of the second game. Hayes also singled to center. Kuhel beat out a bunt to fill the bases. Kreevich's single scored Marcum and Hayes and sent Kuhel to third, Kreevich taking second on the throw in. Radcliff singled and Kuhel scored, but Kreevich, after hesitating at third, was caught at home on Doerr's relay of Cramer's throw.

Chicago collected two runs in the fifth by uncorking three hits before anybody was retired. Kreevich singled to right and Radcliff to center. They pulled a double steal and then scored on a single by Walker.

Singles by Foxx and Williams started the Red Sox scoring in the sixth. Foxx, who had gone to third on the Williams hit, counted on Cronin's fly to Kreevich. Vosmik caromed a single off McNair's glove, Tabor fanned, but Desautels walked, filling the bases. Finney batted for Wilson and singled to center to score Williams and Vosmik.

Brown Relieves Marcum.

As soon as Cramer singled to start the seventh Marcum was relieved by Brown. He walked Foxx. Williams singled and Cramer scored. Vosmik was purposely passed and, when Tabor flied to Radcliff, Foxx scored the tying run.

Chicago went back into the lead by scoring a run in the seventh. Walker led off with a double, Appling was thrown out, and McNair was purposely passed by Dickman. Steinbacher batted for Tresh and walked. Walker scored while Brown was forcing Steinbacher.

Auker's second appearance produced passes for Kuhel, Radcliff, Walker, and Appling in the eighth. One run was forced home and a second arrived there on an infield out.

Dodgers Buy Reese from Colonels for Cash, Players

New York, July 18.—[Special.]—The Brooklyn Dodgers today acquired Harold Reese, a shortstop, from Louisville of the American association. An unannounced sum and four players, who are to be delivered to Louisville at the close of the National league season, were given by the Dodgers.

Comiskey, Sox Owner, Dies of Pneumonia

He Let Dad Run the Show.

Whenever Lou was chided by friends about his reluctance to appear in the club offices or to lend an official voice to what was going on, his response invariably was, "The boss can get along without my assistance."

J. Louis really felt that it was none of his business, although he never said it in just that many words.

For years—that is, from the time the present Comiskey park was opened in 1910 until his father's death forced him to move into the front office—J. Louis was manager and proprietor of the bottling plant located under the right field wing of the grandstand.

Lou's office was a table on which rested a cash register. At times, when the club was at home, Lou would sit there to take receipts from the pop hustlers or to make change. At other times Lou would desert his post and stroll out to a box seat to watch the game. Some other employé would take over the job of guarding the cash register and it is a matter of record that Lou never lost a penny through the trust he placed in the men around the bottling establishment given him by his father.

Lou Started a New Policy.

Charles Comiskey, having been through the mill either as a player or manager from 1875 until 1900 when he managed his White Sox team, was in some respects a stern task master. He couldn't forgive errors of judgment on the field, whether the guilty party was the manager or a player.

As soon as J. Louis became president he let it be known that he didn't intend to assume any responsibility for his team on the field. It wasn't because of a lack of interest but mainly because of an appreciation that he didn't have the inside knowledge of the game possessed by his father. His attitude was that if a manager isn't satisfactory fire him, but first give him a chance to operate single handed.

Initiated Farm System.

Although inclined to give the manager free rein, J. Louis was active in all the club's office affairs. He kept close watch on player purchases and never quibbled over prices. It was his ambition to build up a well knit organization which through control of various minor league clubs would assure a player supply. When he took charge the club had only one or two such connections. They now have more than half a dozen supervised by Bob Tarleton for whom the position was created last December.

Since 1920, when the White Sox were wrecked by the Black Sox conspiracy which involved alleged throwing of the 1919 world series to the Cincinnati Reds, the White Sox have experienced many financially lean years, but nevertheless the property remains one of the prize franchises of the American league.

After the death of his father Lou had bids of between two and three million dollars from various sources. Charles Comiskey received similar offers during the last few years of his life but he turned them down, declaring proudly that the White Sox were a Comiskey institution and would remain such. His son spurned offers for the same reason.

Athlete at De La Salle.

When he became head of the club, Lou discovered his health so impaired that it was difficult for him to climb the stairs leading from the ground level to the office. This was soon remedied. A one man elevator was installed and it not only provided transportation for the magnate but amusement for Charles A. Comiskey II.

Lou Comiskey received his prep schooling at De La Salle institute, located at Thirty-fifth street and Wabash avenue. He was active in athletics, either as a participant or a student manager.

The next a road of tears;
How closely are the two entwined

Thomson Gets 71 in Drill for Western Open

Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., one of the first arrivals for the western open golf tournament beginning Friday at the Medinah Country club, warmed up yesterday with a 71, par for the No. 3 layout at the big west side club.

Playing with Horton and Ren Smith, and Ray Simpson, president of the Oak Park Country club, Thomson, former runner up for the national open and P. G. A. titles, fired a 37-34-71. His card included eight pars, five birdies and five bogies.

Tommy Armour, the host professional, and Johnny Lehman, one time western amateur champion, played with Leslie L. Coke, president of the Western Golf association. Armour and Lehman had approximate 74's on the No. 3 yard. Johnny Bulla, runner up for this year's British open crown, found his putting off in a morning round over the No. 1 lot and finished with a 79.

The pairings and starting times for Friday's starting field, which is expected to be 300, will be made today, President Cooke said. Both No. 1 and No. 3 courses will be used Friday and Saturday. The low scorers for these 36 holes will enter Sunday's final 36. The low fifty professional scorers and ties and the low twenty-two amateurs and ties will gain Sunday's play.

Three of the Chicago district's leading invitational events will be held today. They are Tam O'Shanter's Doon Th' Burn, Kildeer's Karnival and Exmoor's Jamboree.

QUIST, CRAWFORD WIN IN LONGWOOD BOWL TOURNEY

Brookline, Mass., July 18.—(AP)—A couple of hours' rest was all Adrian Quist and Jack Crawford, members of the Australian Davis cup team, required to shake off the effects of a twenty-four hour transcontinental aerial flight today before making successful starts in the forty-seventh Longwood bowl tennis tournament.

Quist had to play but one match to gain the quarter-final round with six American rivals, for he drew a first round bye and then gained another bracket on a default.

Crawford, forced to start from the first round, where he drew a default, found himself sharing the same third round bracket with Johnny Doeg of Rumson, N. J., the former national singles titlist, after he romped through Phillip Jameson of Worcester, 6-1, 6-0.

VIRGINIA INGRAM WINS 1ST MATCH IN DISTRICT GOLF

Barbara Wilder Defeats Shirley Ann Johnson.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Virginia Ingram, pretty Sunset Ridge golfer who has won the championship of the Chicago Woman's District Golf association for two of the last three years, and finished runnerup on another occasion, doesn't believe in the hex that confronts most golfing medalists in the first round of match play.

She demonstrated that yesterday by winning her opening match from Mrs. H. C. Seehausen, a club mate, 5 and 4, in the first defense of the title she won at their home club last summer. Miss Ingram had won the qualifying medal Monday with a neat 82, scored in wind and rain.

Beats Medalists' Jinx.

Usually medalists are fated to first round troubles, but Virginia yesterday was around the front nine of the La Grange Country club in 40, one over par, for a four up turning advantage. She halved four of the next five holes, winning the thirteenth for what proved the deciding hole of the match.

Today, Miss Ingram, who won the championship in 1936 and 1938, and was runnerup to Mrs. Lillian Zech of Tam O'Shanter in 1937, meets Mrs. Harold Foreman of Lake Shore, who gained the second round with a 6 and 5 triumph over Mrs. C. E. Dunnagan of Olympia Fields.

Shirley Ann Johnson Loses.

Two upsets were recorded in yesterday's first round. In one, Shirley Ann Johnson of Sunset Ridge, runnerup to Miss Ingram last year, was defeated, 2 and 1, by Barbara Wilder of Skokie. Miss Johnson had difficulty in finding the greens, particularly with her fairway woods, on most of which she was short.

The other reversal saw the elimination of Mrs. Frank Mayer of Lake Shore, one of the 1938 semi-finalists, by Mrs. Albert W. Bauer of Illinois. Mrs. Mayer was one up at the end of nine holes, but Mrs. Bauer had squared it by the eighteenth tee, and took the 440 yard home hole and the match with a birdie four.

This Fellow Make an Ace, Thanks to Partner's Help

Omaha, Neb., July 18.—[Special.]—R. J. McMahon's tee shot on a 150 yard hole was four inches from the cup, but he got a hole in one. Joe Polacek, one of his partners, got off a weak shot that left him a 50 yard approach. His second shot knocked McMahon's ball into the cup.

ROSENBERG TO MARRY.

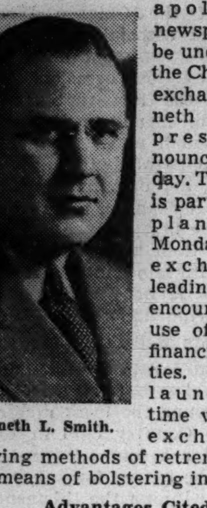
Will Push New Campaign to 'Sell' Facilities.



Kenneth L. Smith.

An eight week test advertising program in principal Chicago and Indianapolis daily newspapers will be undertaken by the Chicago Stock exchange, Kenneth L. Smith, president, announced yesterday. The program is part of a broad plan announced Monday by the exchange and leading banks to encourage larger use of the city's financial facilities. It is being launched at a time when other exchanges are studying methods of retrenchment or new means of bolstering income.

Advantages Cited.

"We have decided to test this medium of acquainting the investing and trading public of the middle west with the extensive, efficient, and advantageous facilities the Chicago Stock exchange and its members maintain for its use," Smith said.

"We are making every effort to provide here an adequate market place for the securities of corporations intimately identified with this great territory as a major contribution to the economical and efficient growth of the middle west.

Cites Odd Lot System.

"For example, our optional odd lot system of trading in sixty-five nationally important security issues operates to the advantage of buyers and sellers of these securities. We have a story to tell middle western investors and traders and feel it can well be told in the newspapers."

SMITH PREDICTS RAPID RISE IN AIR TRANSPORTATION

American Airlines, Inc., in a few years will be transporting a quarter of a million passengers in a single month, C. R. Smith, president of the coast to coast transport company, predicted yesterday. The line carried more than 54,000 passengers last month, claiming a new world record, and reported that it hauled 50 per cent more passengers for the first six months of 1939 than in the corresponding period last year.

Smith made his prediction in a full page advertisment appearing today in metropolitan newspapers throughout the country. The advertisment describes air transportation as the most rapidly growing industry in the United States.

BRITAIN MAY BUY CHEAP WHEAT AS RESERVE IN WAR

Price of Grain Lowest on Record.

LIVERPOOL, July 18.—(AP)—The wheat price slump to a recent record low for the July delivery today gave a new impetus to agitation for the government to purchase a large war reserve of the grain in an effort to relieve the glutted markets.

The now low was 3 shillings, 6½ pence a hundredweight [equal to 49¾ cents an American bushel on the basis of current exchange] or 1½ pence below the previous low of 3 shillings, 8 pence in September, 1931, during the financial crisis that year.

Proposes War Reserve.

John Maynard Keynes, economist, proposed the appropriation of £100,000,000—about $468,000,000—for the accumulation of war reserves in four categories of England's vital imports.

Under the terms of the Keynes plan, England could at present prices buy about 234,000,000 bushels of wheat. However, the British Isles have storage facilities for only about one-quarter such an amount.

WHEAT UP; CORN DOWN

Prices of grain on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday fluctuated in an erratic manner. Wheat dipped early in sympathy with continued weakness in the Liverpool market but rallied 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents from the early low and closed ⅜ to ½ cent higher.

Corn prices held within a range of about 1 cent and closed ¼ to ⅜ cent lower. Oats were ⅛ to ½ cent higher and rye closed 1 to 1½ cents higher. Soy beans advanced ¾ to 1¼ cents.

The agriculture department reported sales of surplus American wheat, including flour, for export totaled 118,054,000 bushels during the marketing year ended June 30. These sales compared with about 100,000,000 bushels in the preceding year.

During the last season the government subsidized the sale of 93,754,000 bushels at a total cost of about $25,700,000, or an average of 27.4 cents a bushel.

Investors' Guide

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

Wednesday, July 19, 1939.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

NO ORDER ON BOOKS.

Investors' Guide: I read and hear a lot about the American Locomotive and Baldwin Locomotive companies but little or nothing about Lima Locomotive works. I hold stock of a trust which has some of its funds invested in Lima Locomotive and other companies. I like to check up of my own accord on these investments in the trust portfolio, so what can you tell me about Lima Locomotive and especially its position since the first of the year?—J. S. W.

Answer: The locomotive division of Lima Locomotive Works, Inc., entered 1939 without an order on its books. Its prospects brightened, however, with the receipt in February of an order from the Southern Pacific for twelve steam units. This order was twice the number of those booked by the division for 1938. In 1937 a total of twenty-two locomotives was booked, compared with 104 units late in 1936. Like its competitors, Lima Locomotive has reflected the plight of the railroads in recent years.

Although the locomotive division has slumped, the company's line of power shovels, cranes, and draglines has become of increasing importance. Sales of the power shovel division were on a more profitable basis in 1938 than in any previous year. The company's recent earnings record follows:

	Sales.	Net loss.	Loss per share.
1938	$ 3,208,400	$ 687,035	$3.26
1937	10,765,921	*1,019,983	*4.83
1936	4,496,915	251,104	1.38
1935	2,541,302	538,708	3.18
1934	2,036,957	490,826	2.89
1933	1,304,535	646,894	3.81
1929	10,883,082	*501,606	*2.37

Profits from the sale in 1936 and 1937 of reacquired stock have helped the company maintain a fairly comfortable financial position despite its losses in seven of the last eight years. At the end of 1938 current assets were $6,494,803, including cash of $3,052,783. Current liabilities totaled $229,990. The company has no funded debt.

Outstanding common stock totals 211,057 shares. Dividends aggregating $2.50 a share were disbursed in 1937, the first since 1932. Nothing has been paid since.

MAHARAJAH BUYS.

Investors' Guide. What was the size of the most recent block of orders received by Lockheed Aircraft corporation? What is the extent of the company's backlog?—C. S. H.

Answer: The most recent block of orders reported by Lockheed Aircraft corporation totaled $175,000. It was for three planes. The purchasers were announced as the Maharajah of Jaipur, India, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and a Texas oil producer.

Lockheed's backlog stood at an estimated $30,000,000 late last month. A large portion of the bookings represented an order from the British air ministry for 250 planes.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by HOMER NEISZ

Farm Work Analyzed.

July 18, 1939.

THERE has been more overlapping of work on farms this summer than usual because of rains that delayed corn cultivation and hay harvesting in many cases until small grains were ready to cut. In trying to plan their work schedules to best advantage, men at the Du Page county farm have been studying labor distribution and costs as applied to different crop and live stock enterprises.

The men try to distribute farm work throughout the year so as to make full use of available labor as much of the time as possible, with a minimum of rush periods and slack seasons.

They have been figuring out the labor required for a farm that raises only wheat, for example, as compared with one that grows a variety of crops, such as corn, small grains, and hay. Then they have compared these labor requirements with those on farms where the general run of feed crops are grown and fed to beef cattle during the winter months. These requirements have been compared with the amount and distribution of labor required for a dairy farm.

Wheat Standard Found.

An Illinois farm that grew nothing but winter wheat would make use of labor only about three months during the year. This would be during July, August, and September when virtually all the work of harvesting one crop and planting the next would be done. On the average it takes about four hours of labor to grow an acre of wheat and two to seven hours to harvest it, depending on whether binders or combines are used.

Raising corn requires considerably more labor than raising wheat, and the work is distributed over a longer period. Most of the work with corn is in planting and cultivating. This work piles up through a three month period from the middle of April to the middle of July. Most of the work of harvesting is required from the middle of October to the first of December. Growing an acre of corn requires about nine hours of labor. It takes about seven hours to harvest it by hand and one to two hours with machinery.

Oats and soy beans require labor at two distinct seasons—planting time and harvest time. Most of the work of growing hay is in harvesting the crop during the summer months.

Even Load Possible.

By growing a variety of crops farm work may be distributed fairly evenly through the spring, summer, and fall months. Feeding the crops to beef cattle during the winter helps to even up the labor for the entire year. Herds of twenty or more steers require about two hours' labor per steer per month for feeding and care.

Dairying allows a more even distribution of labor than most types of farming. The actual work of milking and caring for dairy cows varies little throughout the year. The average amount of labor required to care for dairy cows in Illinois is about 130 to 160 hours a year for each cow, depending on the size of the herd. There are no real peak or slack periods, although less labor is required from May through September when the cows are on pasture and are given less feed than during the other seven months of the year.

Modern farm power and machinery have greatly changed the labor requirements for farms. For example, it takes only about half as many hours of labor to grow and harvest an acre of corn as it did twenty years ago.

SPEND, BALANCE BUDGET IS IDEA OF MORGENTHAU

Senators Perplexed by Treasury Head.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—The administration's new 3½ billion dollar lending-spending program is in line with his aim to balance the federal budget, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. today told perplexed senators on the banking and currency committee.

Senator Taft.

He appeared before the senate committee to urge enactment of the bill for financing of so-called "self-liquidating" federal projects, introduced in both houses at the request of President Roosevelt.

Morgenthau's statements that the program was self-liquidating and would not increase the federal debt were immediately subjected to grilling by Senators Alva B. Adams [D., Colo.] and Robert A. Taft [R., O.].

Legality of Bill in Doubt.

They even compelled the treasury's general counsel, Edward H. Foley Jr., a protege of Thomas Corcoran, No. 1 White House adviser, to admit his belief that part of the lending bill would be unconstitutional.

The companion bills, on which hearings are now in progress in both the senate and house, would increase the lending authority of the Reconstruction Finance corporation by 2 billion 660 million dollars through new authorizations.

This would supplement an 800 million dollar increase in the lending powers of the United States Housing authority, provided for in separate legislation and appropriations already made of 40 millions for rural electrification and 100 millions for farm tenancy aid.

In his statement to the committee, Morgenthau did not press for passage of the legislation at this session, as requested by Mr. Roosevelt, although the secretary had urged this at his press conference yesterday.

Adams "Bewildered."

Senator Adams expressed bewilderment over Morgenthau's remark in his prepared statement that "the principle embodied in the bill constitutes a real advance toward the goal of bringing our governmental expenditures within our receipts."

"In order to work toward a balanced budget," Morgenthau explained, "I think one of the things we must do first is to increase the national income. In order to get our tax revenues up to between 8 and 9 billion dollars we must get an annual income of around 80 billion dollars."

Earlier in his prepared statement the treasury secretary, custodian of the nation's funds, had said:

"I do not wish to predict that the government will suffer no loss on any of the various features of this program, but I know that these projects have been selected with the intention of choosing sound investments which have a high probability of repayment."

Adams Challenges Remark.

Adams took exception to the remark that the RFC obligations, guaranteed by the government as to principal and interest, would not increase the debt.

"The federal government's obligations will be increased by the amount of these loans," Adams told Morgenthau.

Senator Taft asked Morgenthau for any evidence he had that the proposed highway improvements, including toll roads for which 750 million dollars is allocated in the bill, are self-liquidating. Morgenthau then said all evidence pointed in that direction, and cited Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, as authority.

Later Taft read from a report by MacDonald of last April in which MacDonald said toll roads are not feasible except in congested areas.

ROOSEVELT PRAISES RFC

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today praised the record of the Reconstruction Finance corporation as one of "amazing financial efficiency."

His comment was contained in a reply to a letter from Jesse H. Jones, who recently resigned as RFC chairman to become federal loan administrator. He praised Jones' operation of the RFC.

Probate Rule of Horner to Get New Test

A ruling by the Appellate court that Gov. Horner, when sitting as probate judge in Chicago prior to 1933, acted without jurisdiction in authorizing the Northern Trust company to make certain payments from the funds of an estate, is to be appealed. Attorney Vernon R. Loucks made the announcement yesterday. Loucks represents the bank, which is penalized in an amount of nearly $50,000 in the unanimous decision of Judges Denis E. Sullivan, Oscar Hebel, and Joseph Burke.

The case involves the estate of Louis F. Nonnast, wealthy furniture dealer who died May 17, 1930, at the age of 82. His place of business was at 1015 North Halsted street in a seven story building which he owned.

Nonnast Held "Distracted."

Two months before his death he was declared a "distracted person" by the Probate court and the Northern Trust company was appointed conservator of his estate.

Later the trust company became executor of the estate under his will. Its attempt to carry on the furniture business was criticized by the Appellate court, which ruled that it acted illegally in using the funds of Nonnast's personal estate to carry on the business, which was a corporation.

The fact that Judge Horner had authorized the Northern Trust to use the Nonnast funds for the benefit of the corporation business did not make the transaction legal, the three jurists declared.

Finds Company Insolvent.

The court's findings were that an audit, made soon after Nonnast's death, showed his net estate to be $358,512. The business, of which he owned 2,850 out of 3,000 shares of stock, was insolvent and in debt to him in the amount of $282,948.

On March 13, 1930, a few days after being appointed conservator, the Northern Trust company obtained authority from Judge Horner to lend the furniture company $17,500 of Nonnast's money. The fact that Nonnast, although unable to talk, had indicated by nods of the head that he wanted the business continued and its debts paid, was immaterial, the high court found.

The wishes of Nonnast, who had been declared incompetent, should not have been considered, the judges decided, and Judge Horner should have so held.

Judges Criticize Payments.

The Appellate judges also found fault with the action of the Northern Trust company in paying off other creditors of the Nonnast corporation and not paying anything on its debts to his estate. It countermanded fees allowed by the lower court to the Northern Trust company and to several lawyers. Under one interpretation of the order the lawyers' fees would be paid back to the estate.

The decision was won by the law firm of Stearns and Jones. They represent two grandchildren of Nonnast who live in Tucson, Ariz. There was no question of the good faith of the trust company or its officers, the attorneys said, but the legality of their use of Nonnast's money was questioned. Attorney Loucks said the decision creates new law and will be appealed.

SALES LARGEST SINCE BOOM ERA IN SMALL TOWNS

The department of commerce reported yesterday that last month's daily average sales of general merchandise in small towns and rural areas were at the highest level for any June since 1929. Sales topped last year's total by 13 per cent, and were 2 per cent ahead of June, 1937.

The seasonally adjusted index showed no change from May to June, as is usual at this time of year, the department reported. The same level has been maintained by the index since March.

APPEALS COURT CONFIRMS R-K-O REVAMPING PLAN

New York, July 18.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed the decision of Federal Judge William Bondy in confirming the amended plan for reorganization of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation. Minority groups, certain debenture holders and several general creditors had protested Judge Bondy's decision.

Dealers' Supplies of Used Cars Reduced During June

Stocks of used cars held by Cook county automobile dealers dropped from a thirty-five day supply on June 1 to a twenty-eight day supply on July 1, the Chicago Automobile Trade association estimated yesterday. Sales of used cars by dealers reporting in the association's survey last month totaled 8,479. Inventories at the end of the month were 7,919 cars.

REPUBLIC STEEL 2D QUARTER PROFIT $550,412

Caterpillar Tractor Income Higher.

Republic Steel corporation, one of the nation's leading steel makers, issued a report yesterday showing its operations for the quarter ended June 30 resulted in a profit of $550,412. This compared with a loss of $2,856,317 in the corresponding period last year. For the six months ended June 30 the corporation showed net income of $1,083,311, against net loss of $5,918,881 in the like period last year.

Caterpillar Tractor company, farm equipment manufacturer of Peoria, announced net income of $479,438 for June, compared with $444,515 a year ago. Earnings for the first half of 1939 totaled $2,315,380, against $1,132,614 in the 1938 period.

National Biscuit Earns Less.

Earnings of National Biscuit company, large biscuit and cake manufacturer, for the three months ended June 30 dropped to $2,885,263, equal to 39 cents a common share. This compared with net income of $2,984,565, or 40 cents a common share, in the June quarter last year.

Cuneo Press, Inc., Chicago printers, had net profit of $741,773 or $3.83 a common share in the first six months of 1939. This compared with net income of $559,832, or $2.79 a common share in the similar period of the preceding year.

Castle Incomes Drops.

Another Chicago enterprise, A. M. Castle & Co., reported lower earnings for the second quarter and for six months ended June 30. The company, jobber of iron and steel, had net income of $45,083, equal to 19 cents a share of capital stock, during the second 1939 quarter. This compared with net income of $58,995, or 25 cents a share in the June quarter a year ago. For six months ended June 30 net income declined to $80,964, or 34 cents a share, against net income of $125,133, or 52 cents a share in the first half of 1938.

Users Ask How Coal Plan Can Protect Them

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Middle western coal consumers met in conference at the Morrison hotel yesterday with officials of the consumers' counsel division of the department of interior to discuss how the coal users' interests will be protected in the new setup for federal regulation of the coal industry.

Under the reorganization act, passed at this session of congress, the activities of the old National Bituminous Coal commission were placed in the hands of the department of the interior. With them went the consumers' counsel, which was supposed to protect the coal user [the public] in the making of rules and the setting of prices designed to put the ailing coal industry back on its feet.

Seek Consumers' Views.

The conference yesterday was the first of a series to be held throughout the country. The meetings are designed to get the views of consumers on minimum coal prices and other matters related to their use of coal.

Nathan R. Margold, solicitor for the department of the interior, outlined how the department hopes to function in its various capacities. He asserted the department has solved practically, if not legally, the problem to the extent that it was solved under the old arrangement.

Explains Consumers' Counsel.

This, he said, has been accomplished by the establishment of a consumers' counsel division of the department which will represent the public. He said this division will be independent of the bituminous coal division. The coal division is continuing with the task, started by the old commission, of trying to set minimum prices for every coal mine in the nation.

[The first schedule set up by the original coal commission was tabled when a wave of protests arose in every section of the country from consumers. The city of Chicago was among the many coal users that protested that the minimum price schedule would boost coal prices to unreasonable levels.]

How Is Public Protected?

Among the coal users who asked how the public was going to be protected from unreasonable prices was Richard F. Wood, counsel for the Coal Exchange of St. Louis. Wood said he represents consumers that use 7,000,000 tons of coal annually. He declared that the minimum prices established by the old commission would add more than $2,000,000 annually to St. Louis' coal bill.

Wood and other consumers said that if substantial price increases are put into effect, the coal industry will be hard hit by the fuels that are now competing with coal.

PROPOSED WAGE LAW CHANGE HIT BY ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt contended today that congress would be sanctioning unconscionably low wages for the 2,000,000 poorest paid industrial workers if it approved exemptions to the wage-hour law proposed by Representative Barden [D., N. C.].

Barden would exempt certain workers in small businesses associated with agriculture, employés of small telephone exchanges and some white collar workers. The amendments would affect the principal beneficiaries of the act, the President said at his press conference.

The amendments were the subject of a heated exchange between members of the house rules committee today. No date has been set for hearing testimony from Barden.

WILLKIE'S COMPANY COMPLETES DEAL TO SELL UNITS TO TVA

Nashville, Tenn., July 18.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern corporation, tonight announced completion of an agreement reviving the contract for purchase by the TVA and associated municipalities of his company's Tennessee power properties.

The transfer will be effective Aug. 15, with the original price of $78,600,000 remaining the same.

Willkie said the chief obstacle to the deal, a determination of the liability for $460,000 worth of state taxes, was overcome by a compromise agreement in which TVA, Nashville, and Chattanooga participated.

Carrying out of the original contract was prevented by the failure of congress to pass enabling legislation. Later, however, a bill was enacted permitting the TVA to issue bonds for its share of the purchase price—approximately $44,000,000.

SOUTHERN AIR MAIL PAYMENTS RAISED BY CAA

Washington, D. C., July 18.—[Special.]—An increased base rate of 28 cents an airplane mile for transportation of 300 pounds or less of air mail was granted by the Civil Aeronautics authority today to National Airlines, Inc., on two of its routes.

For each additional twenty-five pounds of mail, the CAA said, the line's pay would be computed on a monthly basis at 2½ per cent of the base rate.

National is now receiving 19½ cents a mile on its route between Daytona and Miami, Fla., and 27 cents on its Jacksonville, Fla., to New Orleans, La., route. These rates were granted by the postoffice department. The line had asked for 33 1-3 cents a mile on the two routes.

NEW SECURITIES OF 100 MILLIONS OFFERED TODAY

Other Issues to Be Marketed Soon.

Nearly $100,000,000 of securities are being offered publicly today, including $85,000,000 of Shell Union corporation debentures. Moreover, indicating the increasing activity in the securities market, arrangements were being made for the placing of additional millions on the market within the next few weeks.

Included in the latter group is $25,000,000 of bonds which the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company yesterday decided to sell through an investment banking house without competitive bidding.

The Shell Union issue is one of the largest to be offered to the public this year. Bearing 2½ per cent coupons and due July 1, 1954, the debentures are being offered by a group headed by Morgan Stanley & Co. at 97¾ and accrued interest.

Use Proceeds for Refunding.

Proceeds together with treasury funds will be used for the redemption of the 3½ per cent debentures of 1951 and the 3⅝ per cent debentures of 1953. Shell Union is the American unit of the Royal Dutch-Shell petroleum group.

Halsey, Stuart & Co. heads a group which is offering $6,150,000 Pittsburgh 1.80 per cent bonds due Aug. 1, 1940 to 1959 inclusive, at prices to yield 0.25 per cent to 1.90 per cent.

A group headed by McDonald-Coolidge & Co. is offering 20,000 shares of $5 cumulative convertible prior preference stock, without par value, of Thompson Products, Inc., at $100.50 a share. The company manufactures automotive and aircraft parts.

Offer Copperweld Steel Stock.

Riter & Co., heads a group offering 40,000 shares of cumulative convertible 5 per cent preferred stock of the Copperweld Steel company, $50 par, at par. Proceeds are to be used to repay bank loans.

Officials of Southern Bell yesterday decided to issue $25,000,000 of 3 per cent debentures, due in 40 years, through Morgan Stanley & Co. Last week there was considerable agitation to have the issue sold through competitive bidding.

Prices for Bonds Announced.

J. E. Warren, president of Southern Bell, said that of the issue $22,250,000 would be sold at 106 to an underwriting group headed by Morgan Stanley and that the agreement provided that the offering price to the public would be 107½. The remaining $2,500,000 of the debentures are to be sold at 106 to the Bankers Trust company, New York, which is the trustee for the company's pension fund.

American Export Air Lines, Inc., which is controled by the American Export Lines, Inc., American Steamship company, was reported to be preparing to register from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 in securities. The air line company plans an air line to Europe via the Azores.

The General Bronze corporation has filed two registration statements with the SEC covering $973,350 of 10 year 5 per cent debentures and 59,525 shares of $5 par common stock, and certificates of deposit for $1,390,000 of 6 per cent convertible debentures.

Dealers Ready for Own Plan of Regulation

"Coöperative self-regulation" of the over-the-counter security business, under the supervision of the Securities and Exchange commission, probably will go into effect within a few weeks, Francis A. Bonner, vice chairman of the Investment Bankers conference, said yesterday.

Francis A. Bonner.

Bonner said that as a result of investment bankers and dealers voting about 20½ to 1 in favor of registering with the SEC, amendments to the charter of the Investment Bankers' conference had been filed in Delaware. That state accepted the amendments yesterday. The security dealers' organization is a Delaware corporation.

Change in Name Provided.

The amendments provide that the name of the old organization be changed to the National Association of Security Dealers, Inc. The new association will file an application for registration with the SEC tomorrow or Friday, Bonner said, and the commission has set Aug. 2 for a public hearing in Washington on the application. Bonner said it is likely that the association's registration with the SEC will be made effective on Aug. 5.

The amendments approved by Delaware provide for an election of officers for the national organization and for regional committees for the fourteen districts into which the nation is divided for administraton of the new control.

District Groups Provided.

Each district will elect its own committee and its own organization, including its representation on the national committee, which will consist of twenty-one members.

In effect the new plan provides for the control of the over-the-counter security business in a way parallel to that in which the various stock exchanges supervise trading in listed securities. Just as the stock exchanges, such as those in New York and Chicago, supervise the activities of their members and establish trading rules, so will the regional committees for the security dealers regulate the over-the-counter security business.

Chicago dealers will be in district 8, which includes Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa, and Nebraska. The Chicago area will have three representatives on the national committee.

FORMS ISSUED UNDER REVISED TAX SCHEDULE

Washington, July 18.—[Special.]—Revised tax forms, which will enable corporations to take advantage of the new tax law, were sent to corporations today by the treasury. Revised capital stock tax returns are due Aug. 31.

Originally the capital stock returns were due July 31, but the postponement was decided upon to enable the treasury to distribute the new forms. Repeal of the undistributed profits tax and revision of the corporate income tax rate, however, will not be effective until 1940.

STOCKS PUSHED STILL HIGHER ON WAVE OF BUYING

Final Gains Extend Up to 2 Points.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 18.—After a frenzied opening that saw prices shoot up 1 to 4 points on a rush of buying orders from all parts of the country today, the stock market later ran into selling that cut considerably into its gains. Closing prices in active issues were fractions to about 2 points higher. The upturn continued yesterday's improvement.

First hour transactions totaled 840,000 shares as blocks of between 1,000 and 8,000 shares changed hands.

Roosevelt 'Neither Long Nor Short'

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today with reference to the stock market's current rapid rise that he would be afraid to comment on business conditions. The chief executive added that it was all right for him to make that remark because he was neither "short" nor "long."

The ticker fell behind the market shortly after the opening gong and lagged for twenty minutes.

Trade Reports Cheering.

Continuing favorable reports from the nation's industrial centers, the steady advance on the London exchange, and rumors of a possible peaceful settlement of the Danzig situation all kept Wall street in a happy frame of mind, it was said.

After the early rush of buying orders had passed its peak, a period of hesitation set in. Some selling was attributed chiefly to traders who saw a good apportunity to acquire cash on their profits.

N. Y. Central Active.

Chrysler was again one of the leaders in the industrial section. After reaching 83½ however, it slipped to close at 82¼, up only ¼ point on the day. United States Steel, Bethlehem, United States Rubber, General Electric, General Motors, Anaconda, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck and other representative issues closed fractions to about a point higher.

Rails again received their share of attention. New York Central was among the more active issues, and added ¼ point.

Timing the Turns

Each week our clients receive our regular stock market studies. On June 29, 1939, the day the Dow Jones Industrial averages closed at 130, we released a special bulletin reading, "YOUR OPPORTUNITY—We believe we are rapidly approaching the termination of the recent and current phase of jitters, tension and nervousness in political (domestic and foreign) and financial affairs. Two weeks ago we stated that the odds at the 134 Industrial level were 0 to 4 points down to 15 points up, with the upward thrust to begin not later than July 4th. We still adhere to this opinion and maintain the belief that strong support exists within the vicinity of the 130 Industrial level and slightly under, and continue to definitely expect a substantial rise to get under way some time during the coming week. Accordingly we believe that all periods of irregularity during the next few days should be utilized to complete all buying. An inflationary move, which should be fast, should be under way in the near future."

In our market study of January 30, 1939 entitled, "Investment Insurance", we said in part, "The first and primary consideration of the investor and semi-investor is the protection of his wealth. Due to the changed economic, political and social conditions during the past ten years, every investment must be looked upon as a speculation. In our endeavor to protect and promote the financial welfare of our individual clients, we have long adopted a policy of treating all investment type portfolios, where size and character permit, on an intermediate trend basis for upwards to half of the investment fund with the balance on a cyclical or major trend basis. By acquiring the habit of investing for intermediate swings, the investor and trader avoids the risk of being caught in devastating declines and bear markets."

Our current market study explains fully the outlook for July and August. You are invited to secure a copy of this study without obligation.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, July 18.—[Special.]—Weak spots developed in the bond market today but railroad issues resisted strongly and closed slightly higher.

The day's turnover increased to $8,245,350, face value, the largest since March 31, and compared with $7,765,500 on Monday.

The improvement in the railroad group was attributed to favorable car loading reports for last week which began to trickle in from various leading carriers. Railroad bonds advanced fractions to more than a point.

Federal bonds did not participate in the heavy trade and closed 1-32 lower to ⅛ higher. Foreign dollar loans were irregular.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks advanced sharply yesterday. Volume totaled 61,000 shares, the highest since April 8, when the total was 63,000. Of the 132 issues traded 93 advanced, 13 declined and 26 were unchanged. There were nine new highs for the year.

The sharpest advances among the shares reaching new highs were Abbott Laboratories, up 2⅛, and Montana State Power, up 2¼.

Among the volume leaders Middle West, Commonwealth Edison, Chicago corporation, Borg Warner, and Bendix Aviation made fractional gains. Zenith lost a fraction and Marshall Field was unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

COTTON

Scattered hedging and commission house selling were largely responsible for an easier undertone yesterday in American cotton markets. Closing trades were .08 to .14 cent a pound lower. Final sales were about the bottom. Houses with Bombay connections sold the nearby deliveries and bought the deferred months.

A report from Corpus Christi, Tex., said the movement of new crop cotton in that area was increasing rapidly. Weather conditions were regarded as favorable for the growth of the cotton plant in the greater part of the main producing states.

Spot cotton closed .12 to .19 cent a pound lower with New York 9.39 cents; New Orleans, 9.10 cents; Galveston, 8.89 cents and Houston at 8.85 cents a pound. Prices follow:

DRY GOODS.

Commodities

Sales of copper by the foreign ca tel yesterday totaled 5,790 tons, th price ranging from 10.26 to 10.2 cents a pound. Sales of the cart Monday totaled only 2,555 tons. Beli that nearby copper in the foreig market is scarce was lent credenc by reports that English industria buying accounted for about 3,500 ton of all the copper sold by domesti and foreign producers on Monday

Domestic copper remained at 10¼ cents with dealings quiet. Copper futures at New York were irregular. Tin moved higher, zinc was unchanged, and lead declined. No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap was boosted 25 cents a ton at Pittsburgh, ranging from $15.50 to $16 a ton. The advance coincided with an increase of 1.5 per cent since Saturday in the Pittsburgh steelmaking rate, which now stands at 48.1 per cent.

Most other commodities traded for future delivery at New York were irregular in price. Cottonseed oil drew some interest on a spurt of 0.10 to 0.16 cent a pound. Rubber, hides and domestic sugar were higher. Rio coffee was unchanged, and Santos dipped slightly. Silk, cocoa and wool tops were mixed.

NEW PEAK SET FOR OUTPUT OF OIL IN ILLINOIS

Daily Average Increases to 265,693 Barrels.

Illinois oil wells last week increased daily production to a new peak for the state, with daily average output rising 4,578 barrels to 265,693 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal reported yesterday.

The Salem oil field in Marion county, second most productive in the country, accounted for 148,607 barrels daily. The Louden field trailed with 55,035 barrels a day as the next most active area in this state. Other basin fields yielded 52,251 barrels and the oil fields 9,700 barrels daily.

Sharp Gains Shown.

Oil production in this state has increased rapidly in recent months with new drillings and completions of wells reported each week. Daily output exceeded the quarter million barrel mark for the first time in the week ended July 8, when production averaged 261,115 barrels daily.

There were 3,433 oil wells in operation in the state last week. Forty-three new wells were completed in the week.

Nation's Average Steady.

Daily crude oil production in the United States in the week ended July 15 averaged 3,529,700 barrels, practically unchanged from the previous week, but 186,600 barrels larger than a year ago, the American Petroleum institute reported.

Stocks of gasoline at refineries, terminals, and in transit were 79,416,000 barrels, compared with 80,823,000 the week before and 78,693,000 a year ago.

DUTCH CURRENCY RISES; SHANGHAI DOLLAR SLUMPS

Dutch currency continued its advance in terms of the dollar yesterday. The guilder rose 0.22 cent to 53.58 cents. This price was ½ cent above the level at which official support was required recently. The guilder's upward swing was shared by other leading European currencies in the New York foreign exchange market.

The Shanghai dollar, however, tumbled 2¼ cents, reflecting the withdrawal of support from the British-Chinese stabilization fund. At Shanghai, where business came to a virtual halt, the Chinese unit dropped to 9¾ cents before rallying to close at 10⅝ cents. This compared with the previous day's quotation of 12 15-16 cents.

Sterling advanced ⅛ cent to $4.68⅜ at New York. The French franc was up .09 1-6 cent at the close. Belgian and Swiss monies also closed fractionally higher.

House Fixes 1940 Cotton Output at 10 Million Bales

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—The house completed congressional action today on a bill fixing average annual cotton production under the department of agriculture's control program at not less than 10,000,000 bales. The present minimum is 12,000,000. The new minimum will become effective for the 1940 crop. The house first voted 11,500,000 bales but agreed to the senate figure of 10,000,000.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The general level of the market for hogs yesterday sank to a new five year low under pressure of heavy receipts. After a weak to 10 cents lower opening most classes sold off 10 cents from the preceding day's average, with some showing more loss on final sales. The day's average price declined to $5.90, the lowest since June, 1934.

Cattle markets responded to the influence of lighter receipts yesterday and recovered part of the recent severe losses. Most steers and yearlings met dependable demand on a 10 to 15 cents higher price basis, with the clearance the best in several days. Little change occurred in the trade for sheep and lambs yesterday.

This is not an Offering Prospectus. The offer of these Debentures is made only by means of the Offering Prospectus, and such offer will be made by the undersigned in this State only to registered dealers in securities, banks, trust companies, insurance companies and others in this State specified in Section 5 of the Illinois Securities Law.

This issue, though registered, is not approved or disapproved by the Securities and Exchange Commission, which does not pass on the merits of any registered securities.

$85,000,000

Shell Union Oil Corporation

Fifteen Year 2½% Debentures

Dated July 1, 1939 Due July 1, 1954

Interest payable January 1 and July 1

Coupon Debentures in denomination of $1,000, registerable as to principal. Registered Debentures in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and authorized multiples of $10,000. Coupon Debentures and registered Debentures, and the several denominations of registered Debentures, interchangeable.

Semi-annual sinking fund of $1,500,000 payable each January 1 and July 1 from January 1, 1943 to January 1, 1954, inclusive, to be applied to the purchase of Debentures at not exceeding the principal amount thereof and, if not so obtainable, to the redemption by lot of Debentures at 100% thereof.

Also redeemable at the option of the Company in whole at any time, or in part on any interest date in principal amounts aggregating not less than $5,000,000, on not less than 30 days notice, to and including July 1, 1944, at 102½%; thereafter, to and including July 1, 1946, at 102%; thereafter, to and including July 1, 1948, at 101½%; thereafter, to and including July 1, 1950, at 101%; thereafter, to and including July 1, 1952, at 100½%; and thereafter, at 100%; plus accrued interest in each case.

The following is merely a brief outline, prepared by the Company, of certain information contained in the Offering Prospectus and is subject to the more detailed statements in the Offering Prospectus and in the Registration Statement, which include important information not outlined or indicated herein. The Offering Prospectus, which must be furnished to each purchaser, should be read prior to any purchase of these Debentures.

THE COMPANY The Company, incorporated in Delaware on February 8, 1922, is primarily a holding company. Its subsidiaries are engaged principally in producing, refining, transporting, buying and selling crude petroleum and products derived therefrom at wholesale and retail. Subsidiaries own oil and gas properties, pipe lines, refineries and marketing facilities. Over 64.35% of the Company's common (voting) stock is owned by The Batavian Petroleum Company, The Hague, The Netherlands, which is in turn owned by Royal Dutch Company for the Working of Petroleum Wells in the Netherlands Indies, The Hague, The Netherlands (60%) and The "Shell" Transport & Trading Co., Ltd., London, England (40%).

PURPOSE OF ISSUE The net proceeds to be received by the Company from the sale of these Debentures (estimated to amount to $81,557,600, exclusive of accrued interest, and after deducting estimated expenses in the amount of $254,900 and underwriting discounts or commissions) will be applied, together with treasury funds, to the redemption of

(a) the $57,427,000 principal amount of Fifteen-Year 3½% Debentures at 102½%	$58,862,675.00*
(b) the $25,000,000 principal amount of Fifteen Year 3⅝% Sinking Fund Debentures at 104%	26,000,000.00*
Total	$84,862,675.00*

 Exclusive of accrued interest for the issues to be redeemed, to be paid out of treasury funds.*

EARNINGS The following tabulation relating to the consolidated income of the Company and its subsidiaries should be read in conjunction with the summary of consolidated income and related notes in the Offering Prospectus.

Year Ended December 31	Sales	Depletion and Depreciation *	Income from Operations	Income before Interest	Interest and Amortization Charges	Net Income or (Loss)
1934	$186,707,730	$30,985,950	$ 810,815	$2,787,438	$3,736,549	$ (949,111)

Includes intangible development expenditures, amortization and abandonments. It has been the practice of the Company and its subsidiaries, since its inception, to charge to income in the year of expenditure an amount equal to intangible development expenditures.*

Earnings of the Company and its subsidiaries consolidated for the five months ended May 31, 1939, unaudited and subject to adjustment, indicated Net Income of $1,097,342 as compared with $5,110,367 for the corresponding period in 1938.

DEBENTURES The Fifteen Year 2½% Debentures will be unsecured and will be issued under a Trust Agreement dated July 1, 1939 with Irving Trust Company, as Trustee. No additional Debentures may be issued under the Trust Agreement. Other indebtedness may be incurred by the Company or any subsidiary. The provisions of the Trust Agreement and Debenture holders' rights (with certain exceptions and limitations stated in the Offering Prospectus) may be modified by vote of holders of 66⅔% of outstanding Debentures.

UNDERWRITING Subject to certain terms and conditions, the Underwriters named in the Offering Prospectus have severally agreed to purchase the Debentures from the Company at 96¼%, or a total of $81,812,500, and accrued interest. Such Debentures are to be offered to the public at 97¾%, or a total of $83,087,500, and accrued interest. The underwriting discounts are 1½%, or a total of $1,275,000. Payment for and delivery of the Debentures are to be made on or after July 24, 1939, but not later than July 28, 1939.

Price 97¾% and Accrued Interest

The Underwriters, including the undersigned and the others named in the Offering Prospectus, have agreed to purchase these Debentures when, as and if issued, and subject to the approval of their counsel, Messrs. Davis Polk Wardwell Gardiner & Reed, and to certain further conditions. It is expected that delivery of Debentures in temporary form, exchangeable for definitive Debentures when prepared, will be made at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. on or about July 24, 1939, against payment therefor in New York funds.

TO FACILITATE THE OFFERING, IT IS INTENDED TO STABILIZE THE PRICE OF THESE DEBENTURES. THIS STATEMENT IS NOT AN ASSURANCE THAT THE PRICE OF THE ABOVE SECURITY WILL BE STABILIZED OR THAT THE STABILIZING, IF COMMENCED, MAY NOT BE DISCONTINUED AT ANY TIME.

Further information, particularly financial statements, is contained in the Registration Statement on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and in the Offering Prospectus which must be furnished to each purchaser and is obtainable from the undersigned, who, however, will offer these Debentures in this State only to registered dealers in securities, banks, trust companies, insurance companies and others in this State specified in Section 5 of the Illinois Securities Law.

MR. SO AND SO,
So and So Company,
Chicago, Illinois or elsewhere.
DEAR MR. SO AND SO:

I said: "Tom, nowadays you cannot get a job without experience."

Tom said: "Experience! How are you going to get it without a job?"

"Tom," I said, "you are only twenty-one years old; you have an honorable discharge from the U. S. Army; you're big and husky; you know how to take and execute orders, and in the Army you had to do any sort of work required. Your record is excellent, but to prove you are good and worth more than any prospective employer's investment in time and money, you should be willing to work one month free with any substantial firm starting in on the ground floor."

Tom said: "Okay dad. I have money saved to see me through. How and when do I start?"

Mr. Employer, answering this question should interest you.

Sincerely yours,

NEW REDUCED LOAN RATES

EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

Monthly Rate Now

2½% on balances of $150 or less.

2% on that part of the loan in excess of $150.

HOW TO REPAY

$5 per month, plus interest, for each $100 borrowed repays a loan on our famous TWENTY PAYMENT PLAN. Interest is charged only on the unpaid balance of the loan and therefore gets less each month. For example, on a $200 loan the interest is $4.75 for the first month and gradually decreases to $.25 the last month—an average monthly charge of only $2.58. The charge permitted by law averages $3.11 monthly. Obviously, then, on a $200 twenty months loan Commonwealth's monthly rate of 2½% on loans of $150 or less and 2% on balances above saves you $10.50.

SAVE 16%

Of Lawful Maximum Charge

These rates apply to ALL types and classes of loans. You get this same rate whether you borrow on your auto, furniture, or just your personal note, or whether you repay in 1 or 20 months. You cannot afford to pass up this saving.
